INTRODUCTION

Mähriban okyjym!
Ynsany bagtyýarlyga ýetirýän esasy sebäpleriň biri milli buýsanç arkaly kemala gelyär. Milli buýsanjyň gözbaşynda bolsa halkyň münýýlyklardan gözbaş alýan şöhratly taryhy bardyr. Taryh hakynda söz açylanda dünýäniň in gadymy halklarynyň arasynda, ilki bilen, türkmen halky hem ýatlanýlar. Şöhratly hem-de buýsançly taryhymyzyň her sahypasynda dünýä medeniýetine nusgalyk ösüşler hem-de açyşlar ýatyr. Arheolog alymlarymyzyň yzygiderli alyp barýan gazuw-agtaryş işleriniň netijesinde topragyň gatlaryndan taryhy gatlaklaryň syryny çöşleýän täze-täze tapyndylar ýüze çykarylýar. Milli medeni mirasymyzy ylmy esasyda öwrenýän alymlarymyz daşary ýurtlaryň meşhur kitaphanalaryndan türkmen halkynyň baý edebi mirasyna degişli gadymy golýazmalarýň nusgalaryny ýurdumyza getirýärler. Türkmen halkynyň taryhy bilen gyzyklanýan daşary ýurtly hünärmenler hem bu ugra dahylly öz ýurtlarynda bar bolan ylmy-edebi mirasymyza degişli eserle-

Dear reader!
One of the main reasons for human happiness is formed through national pride. At the root of national pride there is the glorious history of the people that dates back thousands of years. When talking about history, among the ancient peoples of the world, the Turkmen people are mentioned first. On every page of our glorious and magnificent history there are scientific advances and discoveries as a specimen of the world culture. As a result of the continuous excavations carried out by our archaeologists, new finds are revealed in the layers of the soil, which solve the mystery of the historical layers. Our scientists, who study our national cultural heritage on a scientific basis, bring to our country the samples of the ancient manuscripts related to the rich literary heritage of the Turkmen people from famous libraries of foreign countries. Foreign specialists who are interested in the history of the Turkmen people also donate us works and books related to our scientific and literary heritage and being kept in their countries. The emergence of new scientific information based on reliable scientific sources allows a new and multifaceted look at the history of the Turkmen people. Basing on such a noble goal, I would like to share my scientific views with you, my dear readers, on the rich historical life of our people – this book. As the main source of information for this book, I have used various books written long ago and available to a wide readership, as well as the data collected by the archaeologists who work day and night for the honor of our Motherland, which are based on new historical findings, and new historical perspectives that can be thought of based on manuscripts brought from abroad. I am proud to share my thoughts with my dear people about the historical and cultural monuments, which are considered to be the priceless heritage of the Turkmen people. This book consists of two chapters, the first chapter will tell about our glorious history and the preserved historical and cultural monuments, connected with that history, and the second chapter will tell about the colorful values of our spiritual and cultural heritage.

Şeýle asylly maksatdan ugur alyp, mähriban okyjym, halkymyzyň baý taryhy durmuşyndan söz açýan ylmy garaýyşlarymy – şu kitabymy siziň bilen paýlaşmak isleýärim. Bu kitabymyň esasy maglumat çeşmesi hökmünde mundan owal ýazan wegiň okyjylar köpçüligine ýetirilen dürli kitaplarymy, şeýle hem Watanymyzyň at-abraýy üçin gijesini gündiz edip işleýän arheologlarymyzyň täze taryhy tapyndylar esasynda toplan maglumatlaryny, daşary ýurtlardan getirilen golýazmalar esasynda pikir ýöredip boljak täzeçe taryhy garaýyşlarymyzy peýdalandym. Men türkmen halkynyň bahasyna ýetip bolmajak mirasy hasaplanýan taryhy-medeni ýadygärlikler baradaky pikirlerimi eziz halkym bilen paýlaşýandygyma buýsanýaryn. Bu kitabym iki bapdan ybarat bolup, onuň birinji babynda şöhratly taryhymyz hem-de şol taryh bilen bagly bolan, saklanyp galan taryhy-medeni ýadygärliklerimiz hakynda, ikinji babynda bolsa ruhy-medeni mirasymyzyň köp öwüşginli gymmatlyklary hakynda söz açýlar.

I BAP. TARYHA SYÝAHAT

CHAPTER I. TRAVEL TO HISTORY

TARYH ŞU ÝERDEN BAŞLANÝAR

HISTORY BEGINS HERE

Öz-özünden döreyän hiç bir zat ýok. Täze bir zadyň ýüze çykmagy, täze bir wakanyň peýda bolmagy üçin sebäp gerek, esas gerek. Adamzat taryhyna mahsus islendik ösüşiniň gözbaşy hem, çürbaşy hem ynsanlar bilen bagly. Beýik ynsanlar beýik halky, beýik halklar bolsa beýik taryhy döredýärler. Gerdişinde gadymyýetiň aýanu-syrly habarlaryny saklaýan mukaddes topragymyzda daş-töweregiň gözelliglerini synlaýan mahalym, çuňňur oý-pikirlere hemra bolýaryn. Ýollar we iller, ykballar we ahwallar, hadysalar we netijeler hakda pikir ýöredýärim. Şonda adamzat taryhyndaky iň gadymy medeni ojaklaryň hut şu topraklarda döräp, soňra töwereklere, sebitlere, dünýä ýaýrandygy hakyndaky hakykata buýsanýaryn. Dogrudanam, taryh şu ýerden başlanýar. Taryh şu ýerde dowam edýär.

Hormatly Prezidentimiz Serdar Berdimuhamedowyň «Ýaşlar — Watanyň daýanjy» atly kitabynda juda ýerlikli belleýşi ýaly:

Nothing happens by itself. For something new to emerge, for a new event to occur, a reason is needed. Every development in human history has its origin, where humans stand at the beginning. Great men make great nations, and great nations make great history. As I look at the surrounding beauties of our Sacred land, which preserves the mysterious messages of antiquity, I become deep in thoughts. I think about roads and countries, fates and situations, events and consequences. Then, I am proud of the fact that the oldest civilizations in the history of mankind originated in these lands and then spread to the surrounding areas, regions, and all over the world. Indeed, history begins here. History continues here.

As our esteemed President Serdar Berdimuhamedov very appropriately pointed out in his book “Youth – Pillar of the Motherland”, «Täze taryhyň daňy şu ýerde atar.

Taryhyň zaňy şu ýerde kakylar.
Taryhyň ýaňy şu ýerden ýaýýlar».

talk about our glorious history

In 2024 – the year “Fount of Wis-important to talk about our historihave impressed the people. Exactly, pikirlerini, röwşen-nurana garaýýşlaryny, arzuw-umytlaryny durmuşa ornaşdyrmak hem döwletliligiň alamy. Bu ýylda şeýle wakalaryň birnäçesi bolup geçdi. Şolaryň biri hem 2024-nji ýylyň 12-nji martynda paýtagtymyzda geçirilen Türki Döwletleriň Guramasynyň Aksakgallar geňeşiniň 15-nji mejlisidir.

«Aksakgal» sözi türkî halklarda ymgyr ýüki göterýän söz. Ol diňe ýaşalan ýaşlar bilen däl-de, bitirilen işler bilen gazanylýan dereje. Aksakgallyk kethudalykdyr. Akyldar şahyrymyz Magtymguly Pyragynyň «Beg, töre, aksakgal ýurduň eýesi» diýen setiri-de hut şuňa ýşarat edýär.

Türkî dünýä köki zeminiň çuňluklarynda berkarar bolan, şahalary dünýä giňişligine gol ýaýradan goja daragta meňzeyär. Halkymyzyň arasynda «Daragt kökünden suw ißer» diýen pähim bar. Müňýyllyklary öz içine alýan bir bitewi taryh, ruhy-medeni ýakynlyklar, umumy gymmatlyklar bu daragtyň köklerine dirilik suwy — aby-haýat bolup ýetýär. Güýçli döwletler bilelikde has uly kuwwata eýedir. Bu gün doganlyk döwletleriň syýasy erk-eradasy beýik geljegiň hatyrasyna bir asyly maksat ugrunda birleşip, Türkî Döwletleriň Guramasynyň (TDG) düýp esaslaryny, Ýewraziýa giňişligindäki täsirli ornuny has-da pugtalandyryr. words, bright thoughts, clear views, dreams and hopes are also a sign of statehood. Several such events have taken place this year. One of them is the 15th meeting of the Council of Elders (Aksakgals) of the Organization of Turkic States, which was held in the capital on March 12, 2024.

The word “Aksakgal” is a word that has a deep meaning in Turkic peoples. It is a degree earned not just by years lived, but by the work completed. Aksakgalhood is wisdom. Our wise poet Magtymguly Pyragy’s line, “Beg, tore, aksakgal is the owner of the country” also points to this.

The Turkish world is like an old tree which roots are deep in the earth and which branches spread out into the world. There is an opinion among our people that, “A tree drinks water from its roots.” A unified of millennia-old history, spiritual and cultural affinities, and common values reach the roots of this tree as life-giving water. Strong states together have a greater power. Today, the political will of the fraternal states is uniting for a noble goal for the sake of a great future, strengthening the foundations of the Organization of Turkic States (OTS) and its influential position in the Eurasian space. The

Council of Elders (Aksakgals) of this organization, which conducts its work through various councils, is a manifestation of the rich historical heritage of the Turkic people, and a worthy continuation of its noblest principles.

Although Turkmenistan is represented in the Organization of Turkic States as an observer, it mak arkaly bu düzümiň çäginde möhüm we işjeň orny eýeleýär.

Men Aksakgallar geňeşiniň örän uly ähmiýetiniň bardygyny bellemek isleýärim. Geňeş türki halklary asyrlaryň dowamynda kemala gelen baý taryhy mirasymyzyň, döp-dessurlarymyzyň we ahlak sütünlerimiziň töweregine jebisleşdirmäge ýardam berýär. Aksakgallar geňeşi Türki Döwletleriň Guramasynyň, olaryň ýolbaşçylarynyň işinde parasatly kömekçi we maslahatçydyr. Biziň durmuş tejribämiz, bilimimiz döwlet derejesinde oýlanyşykly, öňdengörüjilikli çözgütleriň kabul edilmegine, içerki we halkara durmuşyň dürli soraglaryna dogry baha bermäge ýardam edýär. Ýaşlarymyzy terbiýelemekde, olara dogry ýoly salgy bermekde bu geňeşiň bahasyna ýetip bolmajak hyzmaty bardyr.

Biziň işimiz türki halklaryň agzybirliginiň, doganlygynyň we özara goldawynyň synmaz daýançlarynyň biri bolup, häzirki döwürde bu aýratyn möhümdir. Umuman, men Aksakgallar geňeşiniň Türki Döwletleriň Guramasynyň işiniň jemgyýetçilik, durmuş-ynsanperwer, medeni ugurlarynyň möhüm bölegine öwrülmelidigine ynanyryn. Ol döwlet derejesinde gazanylan çözgütleriň hem-de ylalaşyklaryň ýerine ýetirilmegine ýardam takes an important and active role within this body by regularly participating in all activities.

I would like to emphasize that the Council of Elders (Aksakgals) is very important. The Council helps unite the Turkic people around our rich historical heritage, traditions and moral pillars that have been formed over the centuries. The Council of Elders (Aksakgals) is a wise assistant and advisor for the Organization of Turkic States and their leaders. Our life experience and education contribute to the adoption of thoughtful, far-sighted solutions at the state level, to the correct assessment of various issues of national and international life. This council has an invaluable service in educating our youth and guiding them in the right direction.

Our work is one of the pillars of the unity, brotherhood and mutual support of the Turkic people, which is especially important today. In general, I believe that the Council of Elders (Aksakgals) should become an important part of the activities of the Organization of Turkic States in social, humanitarian and cultural directions. It should facilitate the implementation of the decisions and agreements reached at the state level. It should actively participate bermelidir. Halkara ynsanperwer gatnaşyklaryna goldaw berip, halk diplomatiýasyna işjeň gatnaşmalydyr. Şu babatda önümizde uly wezipeler, bilelikde işlemek üçin giň mümkinçilikler bar.

Häzirki ýönekeý bolmadyk halkara şertlerde türk döwletleriň agzybirligi we raýdaşlygy örän möhümdir. Şunda halklarymyzyň arasynda doganlyk gatnaşyklarynyň pugtalandyrylmagy aýratyn ähmiýete eýedir. Şu düşüňjeler ähli bilelikdäki taslamalaryň hem-de başlangyçlaryň esasynda durmalydyr.

Türk döwletleriň hyzmatdaşlygynda ulag ulgamyna aýratyn orun berilýär. Biz bitewi ulag strategiýasyny döretmäge girişmelidiris. Tagallalaryň birleşdirilmegi halkara hyzmatdaşlarymyz we iri maýadarlar bilen bu ugurda ylalaşyklary gazanmaga mümkinçilik berer. Şunuň bilen baglylykda, Türkmenistanyň Beýik Ýüpek ýoluny dikeltmek barada öňe süren strategiýasynyň örän uly ähmiýetiniň bardygyny bellemek isleýäris. Bu ugurda türk döwletlere esasy orun degişlidir.

«Türk guşak» köp asyrlar mundan ozal adamzadyň ösüşine ägirt uly oňyn täsirini ýetirdi. Ol Gündogar we Günübatar medeniýetleriniň ösüşini geografik taýdan baglanyşdyryp, dürli ugurlarda bilimleriň, gazanylan üstünlikleriň giňden alşylyan in public diplomacy by supporting the organization's international humanitarian relations. In this regard, we have great tasks ahead of us and wide opportunities for working together.

The unity and solidarity of the Turkic states are very important in the current difficult international conditions. In this regard, the strengthening of fraternal relations among our peoples is of a particular importance. These concepts should underlie all joint projects and initiatives.

A special place is allotted to the transport system in the cooperation of the Turkic states. We should try to develop a unified transport strategy. The integration of undertakings will allow us to reach agreements in this area with our international partners and major investors. In this context, I would like to emphasize that Turkmenistan's strategy of restoring the Great Silk Road is of a great importance. In this regard, the main role belongs to the Turkic states.

“Turkic belt” had a huge positive impact on the development of mankind many centuries ago. It geographically linked the development of Eastern and Western cultures and became a place of a wide exchange of knowledge and achievements in ýeri boldy. Ýüzýýllyklara çeken bu iş taryhy ykbaly, köplenç, türki dünýä goňsulygy bilen kesgitlenen onlarça halky hem-de döwletleri öz içine aldy. Meniň pikirimçe, häzir gürrüň türki halklaryň bu beýik taryhy wezipesi barada gaýtadan oýlanmak we oňa uýgunlaşmak hakynda barmalydyr. Şonuň üsti bilen Ýewraziýa giňişliginde hyzmatdaşlyk etmegiň täze gurluşyny döretmeli. Syýasatda, ykdysadyýetde, söwdada, medeniýetde, dünýägarayýşda onuň esasy ugurlaryny kesgitlep, bu işe durnukly hem-de yzygiderli häsiýet bermeli.

Ynsanperwerlik biziň geňeşdäki işimiziň ileri tutulýan ugrudyr. Biziň halklarymyz diliniň, medeni hem-de taryhy kökleriniň umumylygy bilen tapawutlanýar. Biz halklarymyzyň ganyna we süňňüne siňen aslymyzdan, maşgala gatnaşyklaryna wepalylykdan, ata-enelerimizi, ýaşululary hormatlamakdan hiç haçan ýüz öwürmeýäris. Däp-dessurlarymyza hormat goýmakdan, watancylygymyzdan, borja ygrarlylygymyzdan el çekmeýäris.

Häzirki döwürde türki halklaryň arasynda dostlugy we özara düşünişmegi berkitmegiň ähmiýetli bolşy ýaly, ýaş nesillere tejribämizi, münýýllyklara uzaýan ruhy mirasymyzy geçirmek hem möhümdir. Ýaşlarda geçmişimize söýgi döretmek, olary halkyň, Watanyň various fields. The historical fate of this work, which lasted for centuries, included dozens of peoples and states, and is often defined by the Turkic world neighborhood. In my opinion, we should now talk about rethinking and adapting to this great historical task of the Turkic peoples. Through this, a new structure of cooperation in the Eurasian space should be developed. Its main directions should be determined in politics, economy, trade, culture, worldview, and it should be characterized as a stable and consistent feature.

Humaneness is a priority of our work at the council. Our peoples are distinguished by common language, cultural and historical roots. We never surrender our origin, which is soaked in the blood and bone of our people, loyalty to family ties, respect for our parents and elders. We are unwavering in our respect for our traditions, our patriotism, and our commitment to duty.

Today, it is important to strengthen friendship and mutual understanding among the Turkic peoples and it is also important to convey our experience to the younger generations and our spiritual heritage that extends to the millennia. It is necessary to instill love for our past in young people, bähbidine üstünlikleri gazanmaga taýýarlamak zerurdyr. Men şunda biziň geňşimiziň işiniň esasy wezipeleriniň birini, bu ugurda döwlet tagallalary üçin daýanç hökmünde onuň ornuny görýärin.

Türkmen halky gadymy, baý şöhratly taryha eýe halkdyr. Onuň gadymy kökleriniň yzlary türkmen topragynyň çäklerinde arheologlar tarapyndan yzygiderli ýüze çykarylýar we öwrenilýär.

Meşhur alym Wadim Massonyň belleýşi ýaly, türkmen halkynyň taryhy geçmişinde adamzat taryhyna täsir eden uly göwrümlü döwürler bolupdyr. Alym olaryň içinde has bir wajyp döwürleriň üçüsini öňe sürýär. Olaryň biri бүрүнч заманында gülläp ösen Altyndepe we Gadymy Margiana siwilizasiýalarydyr. Ikinjisi, Parfiýa döwleti. Üçünjisi, türkmenleriň guran Beýik Seljukly döwleti. Ýöne welin, bu agzalan meşhur siwilizasiýalaryň we döwletleriň önüsyrysynda Gadymy Änew medeniýetiniň gülläp ösändigini göz önünde tutmalydyrys. Şunuň bilen birlikde şan-şöhraty dünýä taryhynyň bezegine öwürülen Horezmşalar döwleti hem aýratyn bellenilmäge mynasypdyr.

to prepare them to achieve success for the benefit of the people and the country. I see in this one of the main functions of the work of our council, its role as a support for state efforts in this area.

Turkmen people are a nation with a rich and glorious history. Traces of its ancient roots are constantly discovered and studied by archaeologists in the territory of the Turkmen land. As it has been noted by the famous scientist Vadim Masson, there were large-scale periods in the historical past of the Turkmen people that influenced the history of mankind. The scientist puts forward three of the most important periods among them. One of them is Altyndepe and Ancient Margiana civilizations that flourished in the Bronze Age. The second is the Parthian state. The third is the Great Seljuk State founded by the Turkmen people. However, we must take into account that Ancient Anau culture flourished before these famous civilizations and states. Along with this, the state of Khorezmshas, whose glory has become an ornament of world history, deserves a special mention.

Let us have a look at some of them that have had a significant impact on the development and evolution of human history.

ÄNEW MEDENIÝETI

ANAU CULTURE

Anew medeniýeti Köpetdagyň demirgazyk eteklerinde biziň eýýamymyzdan öňki başynjy müňýyllykda peýda bolupdyr. Bu sebit şol döwürlerde bolusuly hem-de hasylly toprakly mekan bolupdyr. Hut şu ýerde Gäwers bilen Gökdepäniň aralygyn-da Merkezi Aziýanyň in gadymy ekerançylary diýlip hasaplanýan türkmen halkynyň ata-babalary bugdaý, arpa ýaly däneli ekinleri ilkinji bolup ýetişdirip başlapdyrlar. Änewiň gadymy depelerinde meşhur amerikaly arheolog Rafael Pampelliniň ýolbaşçylygynda geçirilen gazuw-barlag işleriniň dowamynda ak bugdaýyň dänele-ri ýüze çykaryldy. Şol sebäpden biz Änew şäherinde Ak bugdaý muzeýini gurupdyk. Biz bu topragyň ak bugdaýyň mekanydygyna buýsanmaga haklydyrys.

Şol döwrüň küýzegärleriniň ýasan keramiki gaplarynyň ýüzi nepis nagyşlar bilen bezelipdir. Ol nagyşlar häzirki zaman türkmen halylarynyň nagyşlaryna ky-

Anau civilization appeared at the northern foothills of Kopetdag in the 5th millennium BC. This region was a place with abundant water and fertile soil at that time. Right there, between Gyawers and Gokdepe, the ancestors of the Turkmen people, who are considered to be the oldest farmers of Central Asia, were the first to cultivate grain crops such as wheat and barley. In the ancient hills of Anau, grains of white wheat were discovered during the excavations conducted under the leadership of the famous American archaeologist Rafael Pampelli. That is why we built the White Wheat Museum in Anau. We have the right to be proud that this land is the land of White Wheat. The surface of the ceramic vessels made by the potters of that period was decorated with fine patterns. Those patterns are similar to the patterns of modern Turkmen carbapdaşdyr. Gadymy Änew medeniýeti dünýä ýañ salan medeniýetdir. Hut şol medeniýetiň binýadynda münýýllyklar geçenden soň, Altyndepe we Marguş ýaly gadymy siwilizasiýalar döräpdir. Alymlar bu siwilizasiýalaryň maddy medeniýetinde Änew medeniýetiniň dowamatyny görýärler.

Biziň şöhratly taryhymyzyň ýene bir gülläp ösen döwürleriniň biri Parfiýa döwleti bilen baglydyr.

Scholars see in the material culture of these civilizations a continuation of the Anau culture. Another prosperous period of our glorious history is associated with the Parthian period.

From the eastern side of the city of Anau a traveler will see the magnificent architecture of the Seyit Jamaledin Mosque, which is located in the center of

The dragon was crawling through the valley, the rocks of Kopetdag were very steep and it was becoming more and more difficult to climb up. Eventually, the masters come across another dragon. It was the dragon's wife and was dying. She swallowed the mountain ram alive, and its horn was thrust into the dragon's throat. The dragon could neither swallow it nor spit it out. It was taking her breath away. Two brave masters entered her huge mouth, one cut off the ram's horn and the other dismembered its carcass. The dragon spat out the lamb's carcass and breathed in fresh air. The first dragon that brought the masters was happy and led them to a mountain cave filled with wealth. As I have mentioned in my first book “Turkmenistan – the Heart of the Great Silk Road”, Seyit Jemaleddin Mosque was destroyed by the Ashgabat earthquake of 1948. Under the piles of its fragmentary wall, the mosaic decorations laid underground for more than half a century. Only during the years of Independence of our Motherland, Turkmen specialists had managed to take out the fragments of the wonderful work of mosaic art created by our ancestors from under the hills of Anau and restore them. The restored fragments of Seyit Jemaleddin Mosque mosaic were exhibited for visitors at the Museum of Fine Arts of Turkmenistan. Scientific research on the mosaics of Seyit Jemaleddin Mosque in Anau confirms that it has similarities with Chinese visual arts. In this regard, several scholars believe that “this similarity testifies to the existence of active professional relations between Turkmen and Chinese masters in the Middle Ages”. Therefore, relations were developed along the Great Silk Road, creative rep-

The city of Anau was declared as “the capital of Turkic world” in 2024.

That is, I believe that the announcement of the famous archaeological discoveries made in the Anau Hills right in the 120th anniversary year has a very deep meaning. At the same time, in 2024, we commissioned a new mosque in the city of Anau. We renamed that mosque Seyit Jemaleddin Mosque.

This mosque, which was founded in Anau in the first days of our Arkadagly Serdar taking office as the Turkmen Leader, was built in a modern way. It has a deep meaning because the new mosque will be used in the month of Ramadan, which is said “Ramadan is the best month” and when the 300th anniversary of our poet Magtymguly Pyragy is celebrated. This shows that our traditions, such as connecting good deeds with good days and spending holy things, inherited from our wise ancestors, are being followed.

A large number of guests came to participate in the launching ceremony for the announcement of the city of Anau which attracted the world scienbaglanyşdyrmak, mukaddeslikleri sarpalamak ýaly däplerimiziň rowaçlanýandygyny görkezýär.

Asyrlaryň dowamynda dünýäniň ylmy jemgyýetçiliginiň ünsüni özüne çekip gelyän Änew şäheriniň 2024-nji ýylda «Türki dünýäsiniň medeni paýtagty» diýlip ygylan edilmegi mynasybetli çäreler badalga bermek dabarasyna gatnaşmak üçin köp sanly myhmanlar geldi. Şeýle sanly günlerde mukaddes Änew topragynda gadymy hem-de häzirki zaman binagärlik däplerine laýyk gelyän täze, döwrebap metjidiň ulanmaga berilmegi bolsa parz işlerimiziň dowamat-dowamdygyny aýdyň görkezýär.

Bu metjidiň umumy meýdany 6 hektara barabar. Onda bir wagtyň özünde 500 adam namaz okap bilýär. Dört minarasynyň her biriniň boýy 50 metre ýetýär. Gümmeziniň beýikligi bolsa 30 metre deň bolup, ol bir aýyň gün sanyny aňladýar. Uly gümmeziň gyrasynda 24 penjire bolup, ol bir gije-gündizi alamatlandyrýar. Metjiddäki we bu ýerde gurlan 500 orunlyk sadaka jaýyndaky çyralaryň şekilleri, gümmeziniň, diwarlarynyň nagyşlary bugdaý şekilinde bolup, ol Änewiň ak bugdaýyň we ekerançylygyň ilkinji mekany bolandygyny aňladýar.

tific community during the centuries as the “Cultural Capital of the Turkish World” in 2024. The commissioning of a new, modern mosque in accordance with ancient and modern architectural traditions in the holy land of Anau on such a significant day clearly shows that our well-being’s is improving.

The total area of this mosque is 6 hectares. 500 people can pray at the same time. Each of its four minarets is 50 meters tall. The dome is 30 meters high, which represents the number of days of a month. There are 24 windows on the edge of the great dome, which symbolize the day and night. The shapes of the lamps, the dome, and the walls of the mosque and the 500-seat premises for prayers and rituals are built in the form of wheat, which means that Anau was the first place of white wheat and agriculture.

The blue patterns of the interior of the mosque and the premises for prayers and rituals are in the same color as the images used in the Seyit Jamaleddin Mosque. On the walls of the mosque, which are painted in octagonal patterns representing the symbol of our ancestor Oghuz khan, there is an inscription “Allah” in Arabic on the big green lamp above the altar of the mosque. The patterns on the carpets inside the mosque and the premises for prayers and rituals were also taken from the emblems of Oghuz khan.

Metjidiň we sadaka jaýynyň içindäki halylardaky nagyşlar hem Oguz hanyň nyşanlaryndan alyndy.

Türkmenler öz milli döredijiliklerini, medeni gymmatlyklaryny saklap we gorap gelýän halkdyr. Yslam dini halkymyzyň medeni gymmatlyklarynyň aýrylmaz bölegidir. Adamlary halallyk, ynsanperwerlik, ak ýüreklik ruhunda terbiýelemekde, ýagşylyga çagyrmakda yslam dininiň ähmiýeti uludyr.

Şol metjidiň açylyşynda belleşim ýaly, türki halklaryň köpüsiniň müçe senenamasy boýunça 2024-nji ýyl balyk (luw) ýyly hasap edilýär. Olaryň käbirlerinde bolsa bu ýyl aždarda ýyly diýlip hasaplanýar. Änewiň orta asyr çeperçilik medeniýetiniň esasy nyşanlarynyň biri hem hut aždardyr. Onuň keşbi Seyit Jemaleddin metjidiniň girelgesiniň ýüzünde ajaýyp mozaika usulynda şekillendirilendir. Bu täsin gabat geliş hem gowulygyň alamatydyr diýip hasap edýäris.

Turkmens are people who keep and preserve their national traditions and cultural values. Islam is an integral part of the cultural values of our people. The importance of Islam is great in educating people in the spirit of halal, humanitarianism, sincerity, and calling them to goodness.

As I mentioned at the opening ceremony of that mosque, 2024 is considered to be the year of the fish (luw) according to the Turkish calendar. In some of them, this year is considered to be the year of the dragon.

One of the main symbols of medieval artistic culture is the dragon itself. His image is depicted in a beautiful mosaic style on the entrance of Seyit Jamaledin Mosque. I think this wonderful coincidence is also a symbol of goodness.

*I*f you travel into the depths of the Garagum Desert spreading across the northern borders of the Mary velayat, you come across numerous large and small archaeological mounds scattered with fragments of pottery. These are remnants of the Bronze Age. The most prominent sites include Togalakdepe, Ajyguyi, Kellelidepe, Tayipdepe, and others. The capital of this ancient civilization that arose along the old banks of the Murghab River is Gonurdepe – the ancient city with the most extensive ruins. During that era, our early ancestors began establishing trade relations with distant lands. It was precisely during this period that caravan routes, which later formed the main routes of the Great Silk Road, began to emerge.

For over forty years, archaeological research conducted in the ancient Murghab delta has provided strong evidence that Alymlaryň ýüze çykan arheologik tapyndylaryna görä, bu gadymy ýurduň ýaşajylary ýaşayş mesgenleriniň töwereginde bugdaýyň, arpanyň, darynyň, merjimegiň, nohudyň we beýleki däneli ösümlikleriň bol hasylyny alypdyrlar, baglarda bolsa alma, armyt, alça, ülje we beýleki miweli agaçlar ösdürilip ýetişdirilipdir. Bu toprak üzümleri we iri gawunlary bilen şöhratlanypdyr. Ösgün we ter otlaryň giň çemenlikleri öý haýwanlary üçin ekilipdir. Olaryň sürüleri, esasan, geçi, goýun, sygyr ýaly öý mallyaryndan düzülipdir. Ýük daşamak üçin, esasan, düýe we eşek ulanylypdyr. Tapylan arheologik gymmatlyklaryň köpüsi Marguşyň ilatynyň käbir gurply hojalyklarynda münmek üçin atyň ulanylandygyny subut edýär.

Marguş döwletiniň iri ilatly nokatlarynyň çäklerinde dürli ugurlar boýunça senetkärleriň ussahanalary ýerleşipdir. Ilatyň arasyn-da uly isleg bildirilen külalçylyk önümleriniň ussahanalary has giň meýdany tutupdyr. Gadymy marguşlylaryň külalçylyk önümleri ýuka diwarlylygy, ajaýyplygy we dürli a large state existed there in the 2nd millennium BC. However, its name has been forgotten over time, with centuries was erased from memory. Today, it is tentatively referred to as Margush.

According to the archaeological findings discovered by scientists, the inhabitants of that ancient land cultivated abundant harvests of wheat, barley, millet, lentil, chickpea, and other grains around their settlements, and orchards were home to apples, pears, cherry-plums, cherries, and other fruit-bearing trees. The land was also famous for its grapes and large melons. Fertile grasslands were cultivated for livestock, with herds primarily consisting of goats, sheep, and cattle. Camels and donkeys were commonly used for transportation. Many of the archaeological values discovered suggest that in some wealthy households of Margush, horses were also used for riding.

Within the boundaries of the major population centres of Margush, workshops for various crafts were established. Among these, pottery workshops, which catered to the people's significant demand for ceramic products, occupied the largest areas.

The pottery items of the ancient Margush civilization stand out for their thin walls, elegance, and diversity of forms.

In jewelry workshops and jeweller's, various decorations were made: gold and silver earrings, rings, bracelets, necklaces, headpieces, hairpins, beads, and other items adorned with exceptional skill and artistry.

Archaeological discoveries from the monuments of Ancient Margush indicate the presence of skilled stone artisans who created a wide array of exquisite items. These include polished containers designed to keep per-

Olaryň arasynda oniksden, steatitden, pöwrizeden, hakykdan we beýleki gymmat bahaly daşlaryň dürli görnüşlerinden ýasalanlary bar.

Marguşyň paýtagty Goňurdepede ýaşan gurply hojalyklarda altyn dan we kümüşden ýasalan gap-gaçlar meşhurlyga eýe bolupdyr. Arheologlar bu ýadygärlikden dürli görnüşli altyn we kümüş gap-gaçlary, golçalary, käseleri, mejimeleleri, küýzeleri we beýleki önümleri tapdylar. Ýöne şol döwürde metal, bürünç has meşhur bolupdyr, ondan hojalyk maksatly kiçijik öý goşlaryndan başlap, iri gazanlar ýa-da arabalaryň tigriniň çarçuwasy ýaly zerur hojalyk esbaplary ýasalypdyr. Wealthier households in the capital of Margush, Gonurdepe were known for their gold and silver utensils, including bowls, cups, jugs, and jars, many of which have been discovered by archaeologists. Bronze, however, was the dominant metal of the period, used to make household items ranging from small domestic tools to large cauldrons and even chariot frames. The Margush civilization also excelled in mosaic art used to decorate walls and wooden furniture. Particularly striking are mosaic depictions of mythical griffins, made with great imagination and detail by ancient artisans. In my opinion, the images found on seals, vessels, and other artifacts made by Margush artists reflect the legends and myths prevalent among the population of that era. By delving into these depictions, we can gain insight into the rich spiritual world of our ancestors.

The artworks unearthed from Margush monuments represent priceless treasures of our cultural heritage and are displayed in museums for public appreciation.

The artistic depictions of camels found among the archaeological discoveries demonstrate the significant role these animals played in the ancient civilization. These were Bactrian camels adapted to the natural conditions of the period, bred extensively on Turkmen land, and primarily used for long and short-distance travel as well as for transporting goods.

A famous archaeologist and Academician Victor Sarianidi led decades of scientific excavations at Gonurdepe and other major Bronze Age sites in ancient Margush. These studies revealed that, as early as the 2th millennium BC, monumental architectural structures such as palaces and temples were constructed in accordance with all the principles of architectural design of the time.

Specially developed architectural plans and calculated measurements were used to build these monumental structures, marking the emergence of a dis-

These findings illustrate the significant role of Margush as a hub of early civilization. For example, under the leadership of Victor Sarianidi, a scientific team discovered seals and artifacts from Harappa on the banks of the Indus River, including a seal with inscriptions and cylinder-shaped objects with cuneiform writing originating from Mesopotamia. Additionally, ceramic and stone vessels, statues, symbolic insignia of governance, as well as plans for constructing palaces and temples at the Gonurdepe site, provided invaluable information about the international relations of the people of Margush. Basing on these extraordinary findings, Academician V.I. Sarianidi demonstrated that the ancient Turkmen land was one of the world's early centres of civilization, alongside with Mesopotamia, Egypt, India, and China.

This assertion was confirmed in 2006 during the Ancient Margiana – A New Center of World Civilization international scientific conference held in Mary, where world famous scholars recognized these conclusions. According to the researchers, the Turkmen land was a birthplace of one of the world's earliest religions, Zoroastrianism. It originated within the territory of the Margush state and spread throughout the ancient orient via trade caravan routes. These routes not only transported raw materials and artisan products but also disseminated knowledge, wisdom, and ideas about innovative technologies. Over the millennia, as the Murgab River altered its course, settlements of the Bronze Age migrated dozens of kilometers eastward, giving rise to new cities, fortresses, and caravanserais. Among these, the most significant was Merv. The wise words of an ancient philosopher ring true, "In the lands along the Great Silk Road, there is no place, where the footprints of caravan camels have not been left." Another glorious chapter of our illustrious history is connected with the Parthian Empire.

Medieval geographer al-Maqdisi described this ancient city, where life flourished over millennia as follows, “Nisa is a vast, beautiful, and prosperous city, blessed with water and abundant life. Its trees intertwine with one another, its fruits are sweet, and its Juma Mosque is magnificent. Food is clean, the markets are orderly, and the shops offer valuable and rare items. Archaeologists assert that, both within the city and in its surroundings, trade flourished, with numerous artisan communities and caravanserais supporting this lively economy. Several public bathhouses also worked in the city. The remains of one of such bathhouses were uncovered during the excavations of the inner fortress of New Nisa. The golden era of Nisa coincides with the Parthian Empire, which thrived during the active period of the Great Silk Road.

However, the city's history dates back even further. According to scholars, when Alexander the Great's army moved eastward, they chose Nisa as their wintering place during the cold months of 330–329 BC. Alexander marveled at the beauty of its pastures and the unique mountain valleys famous for breeding the magnificent Nisean horses. It is presumed that Alexander's legendary horse, Bucephalus, may have descended from this breed. Drawing upon the accounts of ancient writers like Arrian, Pliny, Aleksandr Makedonskiniň goşuny gündogara süýsmek bilen b. e. öňki 330–329-njy ýyllaryň sowuk aýlarynda Nusaýda gyslamagy makul bilipdir. Diodorus, and Plutarch, some researchers suggest that Alexander became captivated by the orient during his stay in Nisa. This idea is supported by his adoption of local traditions, such as wearing native attire and observing their customs. However, this situation was not widely approved by his companions, leading chroniclers remark, “Alexander conquered the Orientt, and the Orient conquered Alexander!” Some evidence suggests that the Greek-Macedonian commander ordered to carry out reconstruction work in the city and renamed it Alexandropolis. The city later became the royal residence of Parthian rulers, now known as the archaeological site of New Nisa. However, by the 3rd century BC, a significant historical event had occurred within the ancient boundaries of the Ahal region, encompassing Parthia.

In this area, early tribes considered to be the ancestors of the Turkmen people – such as the Parni, Dahae, Massagetae, and other ancient clans – united under the leadership of brothers Arsaces and Tirades. Together, they accumulated strength, expelled Greek garrisons from their homeland, and established an independent Parthian State. The ancient Greek historian and geographer Strabo documented these events in his famous work “Geography.” The first ruler, Arsaces (referred to as Arshak in some sources), was crowned in Asaak, a city some historians associate with an archaeological site located within modern-day Ashgabat. Nisa became the capital of this burgeoning empire, consisting of two major cities: New Nisa and Old Nisa. New Nisa, the older of the two cities, served as the administrative and residential centre. It housed public buildings, bazaars where valuable goods brought via the Silk Road were traded, and caravanserais and inns located outside the city for merchants and travelers.

Archaeological studies show that habitation at this site dates back to the Neolithic period (New Stone Age) and continued until the late Middle Ages. Most of the historical events associated with Nisa, as recorded in ancient chronicles, are tied to New Nisa. Old Nisa, on the other hand, functioned as a sacred site for worship and religious ceremonies. It was a place where city residents would perform rituals and make offerings during spe-

Built atop a large artificial platform in the 2nd century BC, Old Nisa was a grand fortress-city with irregular pentagonal walls and 43 rectangular towers designed with openings for archers during military engagements. Within the fortress, two significant architectural complexes were constructed: the Northern and Southern complexes. In the center of the Northern Complex there was the “Square Hall”, a central courtyard surrounded by buildings, where archaeologists Among these temples, a building with a square hall and four freestanding columns stood out. The columns made of uniformly baked bricks, once supported the roof. There was another temple, designed in the form of a ziggurat – a stepped tower resembling the temples of ancient Mesopotamia, adjacent to this structure. This remarkable blend of architectural styles demonstrates the cultural and artistic sophistication of Old Nisa during its prosperity. Inside the ancient site, archaeologists uncovered a system of spiral corridors. Scholars believe that atop this stepped architectural structure there was a sacred room where an eternal flame burned. The entrance to this temple was adorned with a colonnaded portico, while the back featured additional doorway was intended for priests. The main entrance was flanked by two columns crowned with Corinthian capitals, reflecting Hellenistic influence.

The walls of the Nisa temple were decorated with intricate frescoes, fragments of which were skillfully restored by experts. One such fragment, currently on display at the Turkmen Museum of Fine Arts in Ashgabat, depicts what scholar W. Pilipko interpreted as a battle scene involving Parthian cavalry.

Another temple located on the southwestern corner of the tower-like structure, was built with a rectangular layout but featured a circular central hall. Some researchers suggest that this hall was two stories high, with its lower walls plastered

The main entrance of the temple featured columns and reinforced external structures were decorated with stone plinths.

The columns in Old Nisa were crowned with capitals resembling those of the ancient Greek monuments, especially the Ionic style. These capitals, known locally as “goçbuýun” (ram’s horn), mirrored the coiled shape of ram’s horns and were a recurring motif in Turkmen architectural traditions. The resemblance between the Ionic capital and the ram’s horn design, as noted by the art historian and Academician G. Pugachenkova, is a testament to the continuity of these forms in Turkmen craftsmanship over millennia. The use of Ionic capitals in Old Nisa’s architecture and their survival in local wooden constructions – such as portico entrances – further illustrates

This cultural link suggests that Parthians both embraced the Hellenistic culture brought by Alexander the Great and preserved their rich ancestral traditions. Despite paying homage to Greek aesthetics, the Parthians resisted losing their identity. They valued the art and culture of distant Greece while simultaneously nurturing their own heritage, passing it down through generations. This blending of traditions highlights the Parthians' ability to adapt foreign influences while maintaining a distinctly Parthian identity. Parthians skillfully integrated the finest elements of Greco-Roman culture into their own, creating masterpieces that remain enduring symbols of global cultural heritage. Among the most significant archaeological discoveries from Old and New Nisa are the rhytons, elaborately crafted ivory drinking vessels unearthed in October, 1948. These artifacts epitomize the artistic excellence of Parthian craftsmanship, often adorned with gold, precious stones, and detailed carvings. Rhytons, primarily used in religious ceremonies for libations, were shaped with flared openings and intricately sculpted scenes from mythological tales or daily life. Their bases often were featured with sculpted figures of mythical creatures or humans, with openings designed to pour wine or other sacred liquids.

The sculptural art of the Parthians is equally remarkable. Realistic terracotta soldier heads and polished marble statues showcase their technical mastery and aesthetic sophistication.

A notable piece is a marble statue of a veiled woman, often referred to as the “Nisa Goddess.” Art historians, including G.A.Pugachenkova, argue that this statue might represent Rhodogune, daughter of Parthian king Mithridates I, who reigned during the 2nd century BC. Other scholars identify it with the goddess Aphrodite, reflecting Hellenistic influences in Parthian art. Mithridates I's reign is also linked to the construction of Old Nisa, as evidenced by inscriptions on ceramic fragments that refer to the site as “Mithradatkirt” or “Fortress of Mithridates.” This connection underscores the Parthian rulers' dedication to combining their Zoroastrian beliefs with architectural innovation. Mithra, the Sun God in Zoroastrianism, played a central role in Parthian religion, symbolizing light, truth, and justice. The sacred association of Mithra with the horse, revered by the Massagetae, ancient ancestors of the Turkmen people, reflects a continuity of cultural symbolism. According to Herodotus, the Massagetae, who worshiped the Sun as their sole deity, offered horses as sacrifice to honor Mithra. These practices echo through Parthian culture and later traditions in the region, illustrating the enduring significance of this divine figure. Academic explorations, including V.I. Sarianidi's excavations in ancient Margiana, have unearthed Bronze Age temples dedicated to Mithra, confirming the deep roots of this tradition in Turkmenistan's history. In homage to these ancient beliefs, the flame of the 2017 Ashgabat Asian Indoor and Martial Arts Games was ignited symbolically as a "spark from the Sun."

The word "Mithra" itself, derived from the Parthian "Mihr", is translated as "kindness" or "affection," resonating with the modern Turkmen word "mähir", which conveys warmth and benevolence. This linguistic connection highlights the enduring heritage of Parthian culture, bridging ancient traditions with contemporary values. Mithra's divine status, spread across the Mithra was revered alongside Jupiter as a god of a great importance, and his worship played a significant role in the spiritual landscape of the ancient world. This syncretism is a hallmark of the Silk Road's influence, where cultures met and shared their beliefs, arts, and technologies, creating a melting pot of traditions. Turkmen people are the true heirs of the Parthian civilization, and their rich cultural heritage continues to be celebrated today. The Parthians' famous art of carpet weaving, once a prominent craft in ancient times, is preserved in the Turkmen carpet tradition. The intricate patterns and vibrant colors seen in modern Turkmen carpets can be traced back to the Parthian period, showcasing the continuity of artistic skills across millennia. Another significant heritage of the Parthian culture is the Nisean horse, which became an emblem of the Parthian kingdom. These horses, known for their elegance, agility, and endurance, were considered a symbol of royal power and were highly prized for their beauty and strength. The Ahalteke horses, modern-day descendants of the Parthian Nisa horses, are world-famous for their exceptional qualities. Turkmen people's deep admiration for horses has persisted for centuries, as evidenced by the frequent depictions of horses in ancient archaeological finds from Turkmenistan. In the mid-20th century, archaeologists uncovered a seal from the Parthian era in the Yzgant village of the Gokdepe etrap, which features a Nisean horse. As it was noted by the Academician A. Roslyakov, "This seal is believed to depict the "sky horses" mentioned in Herodotus' writings. The seal portrays a noble steed, with its slender legs and graceful posture, capturing the essence of the Parthian horse in all its splendor. The seal's depiction aligns with the "legendary steed" of Nisa, which was known for its strength and beauty, as recorded in ancient lore."

The Parthians, like modern Turkmen people, deeply revered horses, particularly the white horses. These animals were considered sacred, and their white coats symbolized purity and nobility. This reverence for white horses continues today in Turk-ly haryt hökmünde söwdasy edilen nusaý atlarynyň dowamaty bolsa, şu günki gün dünýäde şöhratlanýan ahalteke bedewleridir.

Türkmenleriň münýýlyklaryň jümmüşinde bedewe – dünýädäki iň bir akylly hem gözellik taýdan kämil jandara bolan söýgüsi egilmedi. Hut şol sebäpli-de, arheologlar tarapyndan Türkmenistanyň taryhy-medeni ýadygärliklerinden tapylýan gymmatlyklarda onuň şekili köp duş gelýär. Şu ýerde XX asyryň ortalarynda Gökdepe etrabyň Yzgant obasyndaky Parfiýa döwrüne degişli ýadygärlikden atyň şekili ýerleşdirilen möhüriň tapylandygyny ýatlamak dogry bolar. Ussat nakgaş onda gadymy nusaý atynyň daşky sypatyny – guw boýunly, inçeden uzyn aýakly bedewi şekillendiripdir. Gymmatly tapyndyny ýüze çykaran akademik A. Roslýakowyň belleýşi ýaly: «Möhüriň ýüzünde Gerodotyň ýazgylarynda ýatlanylýan hytaý ilçisiniň edinmek üçin ýörite Orta Aziýa gelen, «asman atlary» diýlip wasp edilen, şeýle hem halk rowaýatlarynda münlerçe ganatly bedewleriň arasynda Hazaraspda gudratly Süleýman tarapyndan tutulan we eldekileşdirilen Nusaýyň «şöhratly bedewini» tanamak kyn däl».

The tradition of honoring these majestic horses dates back to the Parthian period and can still be seen in the epic tales of figures like Gorogly, where the white steed represents valor, wisdom, and heroism. Through these discoveries, it becomes clear that the Parthians' love for horses and their association with nobility, heroism, and divine power have been passed down through generations, continuing to shape Turkmen culture to this day. The reverence for the white horse, a symbol of purity and strength, is deeply embedded in the Turkmen people's identity, just as it was in the ancient Parthian Empire.

The Parthian Empire, through its trade and diplomatic relations with the Chinese and Kushan Empires in the Orient, expanded its territories and used its brave army to secure trade caravans and protect the vital trade routes along the Silk Road. The Parthians also developed strong trade relations with Roman merchants, which deepened economic and cultural ties during that period, ensuring the contin-

The Parthians also expanded their territories by establishing defensive fortresses and trading posts along the riverbanks of the Uzboy region. The fortress of Ig-digala located on the banks of the river, served as an important strategic point during the Parthian period, ensuring a strict control over movement within the country.

The city of Nisa protected by the care of the Parthian kings, developed into a major urban center located on the main route of the Silk Road.

Numerous manuscripts found in the city reveal that Nisa was not only a centre for trade caravans but also a place visited by pilgrims from the Islamic world. In Nisa known as “Little Syria”, there were many buildings where the relatives of sacred figures and saints were buried. According to the medieval manuscripts, Mane Baba also visited this place. Without entering Nisa, he planted his dreams in a small but well-equipped city known today as

The history of Nisa goes beyond the period of the Parthian Empire. Unlike ancient Nisa, the new Nisa continued to thrive as a fortified city for many centuries, even after the collapse of the Parthian state. With the inclusion of Nisa into the Arab Caliphate, a new era began that was closely linked to the adoption and spread of Islam. In the 9th and 10th centuries, travelers and geographers noted that the city flourished. One such traveler, al-Maqdisi, described Nisa as a “wide, clean, and beautiful city with abundant water and rich in life's comforts. Its gardens are interconnected, and the fruits are very flavorful; the mosque is built in a very unique style, the bread is clean, and its market has rows of goods where rare and expensive items can be found. In the medieval period, Nisa was called “Little Syria” because it was home to a large number of sacred sites in Central Asia. Local residents claimed that thousands of blessed saints were buried in the area. Unfortunately, little is known about their identities or the historical details of their lives. The king ordered to call forth Sharafeddin at once. When he arrived, the king said, "Why are you hiding such a paragon of grace and beauty able to embellish the royalty? The legend does not emerge from anywhere. It is likely that a strange foreign ruler, aiming to quickly conquer a country, thought of forming a kinship with a brave military leader. In this legend, the deep love the people have for their Homeland is emphasized, a love that remains unbreakable despite any deceit or cunning. After Sharafeddin passed away, the people showed a great respect for him, building a tomb at his grave. Till this day, people still visit his mausoleum, praying for help and blessings. Over time, however, his real name was forgotten, and among the people, he became more widely known by the name “Babajan”.

Among Muslims, the shrine of Shyhalav in Bagyr is regarded with the highest respect. Originally, this site was the resting place of the Sheikh Abu Ali Dak-

kak. According to historical records, in the 10th century, the famous sheikh Abu Ali Dakkak established a khanaqah (a Sufi lodge) in the upper part of Bagyr, named Serawi. The graves of several well-known Sufi sheikhs were located there. According to one legend, when Abu Ali Dakkak arrived at the site, he could not find a good place to honor the souls of his mentors. In a dream, the Prophet Muhammad appeared to him, instructing him to build a khanaqah at that location for his disciples. When the sheikh awoke, he hurried to the site and saw that its borders were marked. Behind that spot, there was a cemetery of four hundred Sufi sheikhs. Another legend tells of Abu Ali Dakkak as a powerful young man who, by the age of seven, had surpassed many adults in strength. Hazrat Ali took notice of him in Medina. He took permission from the mother of the young man to take him to Khorasan. They together arrived in Khorasan. Upon reaching Nisa, while praying in a mosque outside the city, they suddenly got attacked by the enemies, and the young man perished in that battle. In the 14th century, Namazga mosque was built in the outer site of the New Nisa at about one and half kilometers southern west, at the ascending foot of the mountains. This mosque was designed with three grand entrances, admitting large gatherings of worshippers during the two major Muslim holidays – Eid al-Adha and Eid al-Fitr. I think it will be right to say that the praising lines of Gorogly to his horse can be even considered as the symbol of love for horses of our people. Hoofprints of Duhl-Fiqar are eternally saved in the land, which Greek described with amazement as rich for everything, the Chinese emperors defined as land of “noble horses”, “heavenly horses”, and where “the Nisean horses” were bred. Today, Nisa remains a place of unmatched cultural, historical, and natural beauty, representing an extraordinary heritage that is deeply cherished by the people.

The mounted procession in the ancient Nisa was an extraordinary opening ceremony for the 5th Asian Games. That ceremonial moment transforms today’s pleasant events into a foundation of nobility, blending the past with the present in a remarkable way.

The Great Silk Road, heading west from Nisa, passes via several towns and cities within the region. There are pieces of information on that from the various authors of the Middle Ages. One of them is the ancient city of Paryzdepe, located about 10 kilometers from New Nisa. According to the archaeological findings, Paryzdepe was established in the 5th millennium BC and continued to flourish until the later medieval period. While the site has not been fully studied, researchers believe its development was closely connected with two major historical empires: the Parthian Empire and the Oghuz-Turkmen state ruled by the Great Seljuk Turks, both of which shaped history in remarkable ways. Archaeological evidence from the ancient city sup-

One group of scholars suggests that Paryzdepe is the place mentioned in the 11th century works of the historian Muhammad al-Munawwar, where it is noted that “Mane Baba also settled there”. Other scholars believe it is the city referred to by the famous geographer of the 10th century, Ibn as-Samani from Merv, who described it as a populated area.

The name “Paryzdepe” dates back to the 3rd century BC and is connected with the ancient history of the Parthian Empire, which was established by the leadership of the Arsacid dynasty together with the Parlar tribe, ancient ancestors of the Turkmen people. Linguistic experts confirm that over time, the word “Paryzdepe” evolved from “Parthian” due to the natural changes in the language over centuries. The site of Paryzdepe is also known for its advanced agricultural practices and sophisticated irrigation systems, evidenced by the remains of ancient water canals. According to the historical data, some of the earliest karez systems were constructed in this area. Generations of karez masters who knew the little details of digging them lived and created there. The remains of pottery, ceramic pipes, and tools used for well-digging further indicate the highly developed irrigation techniques of the time.

This land, having been home to flourishing settlements and monumental constructions, stands as a testament to the grand achievements of ancient civilizations: cities were established and buildings were erected there. As historical records indicate, Paryzdepe is part of a larger ancient fortress.

The site spans 3.2 hectares and contains ceramic fragments that are similar to those found in Nisa. The presence of ceramics from the Seljuk period proves the connection between the prosperity of Paryzdepe and the rule of the Seljuk Turks. Excavations at the site have revealed numerous artifacts from the 9th and 10th centuries, which further enrich our understanding of the region's history. Scientists note that the cultural layers beneath the site may date back to the 5th millennium BC.

The study of the history of Paryzdepe, the year by year study of its development and longevity remains crucial. I am confident that the academic research being conducted will bring valuable results, allowing us to better understand the significance of this ancient site. We will continue to provide support for these efforts, as they are vital for the history and future of our Homeland.

BEÝIK SELJUKLAR DÖWRI

THE GREAT SELJUK ERA

Orta asyr alymlarynyň eserlerinde beýan edilişi ýaly, Merwiň günbataryndaky Firuz diýlip atlandyrylan derwezeden Beýik Ýüpek ýolunyň esasy şahalarynyň, yklymara söwda ýolunyň esasy üstaşyr çatryklarynyň biri bolan Sarahs şäherine tarap ýol başlanýar.

Merwiň Firuz derwezesinden çykyp, günbatara sary rowana bolan kerwenler binalary gür gurlan şäher etegini kesip geçipdirler. Bu ýerde Soltangalanyň eteginde belli Hurmuzfarra akabasynyň (kanalynyň) kenarlarynda köp sanly kerwensaraýlar, dolandyryş binalary, şeýle-de Merwiň tanymal adamlarynyň mülkleri ýerleşipdir. Saklanyp galan şeýle iri binagärçilik toplumlarynyň ikisi Uly we Kiçi Gyzgala ady bilen bellidir.

Özboluşly binagärçiligi bolan şu täsin galalar we olar bilen bagly gyzykly halk rowaýatlary barada «Türkmenistan – Beýik Ýüpek ýolunyň ýüregi» atly birinji kitaby-myň sahypalarynda gürrüň beripdim. Bu ýerden daň säher bilen

As it has been described in the works of the medieval scholars, the road to the city of Sarahs, one of the main routes of the Great Silk Road and the main transit junction of the intercontinental trade route, began from the gate called Firuz in the west of Merv.

Leaving the Firuz gate of Merv and heading west, the caravans crossed the outskirts of the city, densely built with yellow trees. Here, on the banks of the famous Hurmuzfarra aqaba (canal) at the foot of Soltangala, numerous palaces, administrative buildings, as well as the estates of prominent people of Merv were located. Two of the largest surviving architectural complexes are known as the Big and Small Gyzgala.

I told about these unique fortresses with their unique architecture and interesting folk legends associated with them on the pages of my first book “Turkmenistan –

In 1040, near Dandanakan, a medieval city located in the southeast of Turkmenistan, along the Merv-Sarahs Great Silk Road, an important event occurred that not only inscribed the name of this city in the history of the Orient, but also changed the future destinies of several peoples and states. In front of the fortress walls of Dandanakan, the army of the Sultan Masud of the Ghaznavid Empire and the Oghuz Turkmen troops led by the grandsons of Seljuk Beg – the rul begiň baştutanlygyndaky oguz-türkmen goşunlary aýgytly söweş gurdular. Gaznawylaryň goşunyny derbi-dagyn edip, ýeňiş gazanan oguz-türkmen goşuny günbatar ugry boýunça Orta Gündogara, Kawkaza we Kiçi Aziýa öz dabaraly ýörişlerine başlady. Başarjaňlyk bilen hökümdarlyk eden soltanlaryň tagallasy bilen birnäçe döwletler we halklar kuwwatly nesilşalyga – bir bitewi Beýik Seljuklar şadöwletine birikdiler.

Emele gelen ägirt uly döwletiň paýtagtynyň Uzak Günbatarda ýerleşýändigine garamazdan, ilkinji seljuk soltanlary öz hakyky watanlaryny – döwletiň düýbi tutulan atababalarynyň mekanlaryny hiç wagt ýatdan çykarmandyrlar. Bu nesilşalygyň iň soňky hökümdary Soltan Sanjar şadöwletiň paýtagtyny ýene-de Dawut Çagrybeg we soltan Alp Arslan ýaly şöhratly pederleriniň jaýlanan ýeri bolan Merwe göçürdi.

Seljuk hökümdarlary türkmenlere mahsus diplomatiýa arkaly goňşy we alys döwletler bilen dostlukly gatnaşyklary ýola goýup, ykdysady, ylmy we medeni taýdan gülläp ösüşe, abadançylyga getirjek döwletiň içki ykdysady özgertmeleriniň ençemesini durmuşa geçiripdirler.

brothers Chagrybeg and Togrulbeg – fought a decisive battle. Having defeated the Gaznavid army and won, the Oghuz Turkmen army began its triumphant march westward to the Middle East, the Caucasus, and Asia Minor. Due to the skillful efforts of the sultans, several states and peoples united into a powerful dynasty – the single Great Seljuk Empire.

Despite the fact that the capital of the emerging huge state was located in the Far West, the first Seljuk sultans never forgot their true Homeland – the lands of their ancestors, where the foundation of the state was laid. The last ruler of this dynasty, Sultan Sanjar, moved the capital of the empire to Merv, the burial place of his glorious ancestors, such as Davut Chagrybeg and Sultan Alp Arslan.

The Seljuk rulers, through diplomacy typical of the Turkmen, established friendly relations with neighboring and remote states and implemented a number of internal economic reforms that led to economic, scientific and cultural prosperity and well-being. Economic development and trade in the state were given a great attention and special care. Throughout the Great Silk Road, which passed via the territory of the Great Seljuk

Döwletiň söwda kerwenleriniň hereketiniň howpsuzlygyny üpjün etmegi bolsa, hatda uzak döwletlerden hem söwdagärleriň bu döwlete gelmegine uly höwes döredipdir.

Empire, merchants enjoyed the special patronage of the Seljuk dynasty. In the cities and settlements located along the trade route, old caravanserais were improved and new ones were built, including markets and other facilities designed to store products for a long time. Roads, fresh water wells, bridges and other crossing points were also repaired. The fact that the state ensured the safety of trade caravans attracted merchants from even distant countries to come to this state.

The news about the regular support of merchants by the rulers, the guarantee of the safety of caravans, and the abundance of the markets of the cities of the Great Seljuk Empire spread very quickly along the Great Silk Road and reached the point of discussion at the caravan stops and large trading posts of the Western and Eastern states. The court poets praised the reign of Sultan Sanjar, saying, “The bird of happiness flies freely in all countries where the just decrees of the Great Sultan reach.” Besides, the fame of the information about the strong foundations and fortresses of medieval Turkmen cities, their reliable defense, the location of the palaces in favorable places and protec-

When you approach the Merv side of this city, there are the ruins of a large caravanserai on right at the foot of the city's outer wall which is still visible from the surrounding area. According to the medieval written sources, Dandanakan was a small but highly developed city, rich in beautiful buildings, including Juma Mosque, public and cultural buildings, and bathhouses. In the first half of the 20th century, parts of the mosque's architectural decoration discovered by archaeologists aroused a great interest among the scientific community due to their beauty.

Last year, Turkmen archaeologists again began to study this monument. During the archaeological excavations, our scientists have managed to find numerous remains of artistic ceramics and bronze items made in accordance with the best principles of Seljuk art. At that monument there was found a small statue of the famous alabay breed of large Mälim bolşy ýaly, şowlulygyň we wepalylygyň nyşany bolan alabaý giň gerimli Aşgabat Aziadasynyň şekilidir.

Arheologik gazuw-agtaryş işleriniň dowamynda Daňdanakanyň gadymy şäher harabaçylygynyň bişen kerpiçden gurlan otaglarynyň birinden täsin çüýşe gaplarynyň döwürleri hem-de IX–XII asyrlar bilen senelenýän ownuk metal abzallar tapyldy. Fragments of unique bottles and small metal accessories dating back to the 9th–12th centuries were found during archaeological excavations in one of the rooms built from burnt bricks among the ruins of the ancient city of Dandanakan. Scientific analysis confirms that these amulets made by the medieval craftsmen, were used by perfumers and healers.

As it is known from medieval sources, the routes of the Great Silk Road passing via the territory of Turkmenistan were famous for their hospitals. According to scientists, one of these hospitals was located in Dandanakan, on one of the most important points of the Sarahs-Merv route of the Great Silk Road, which

As a result of scientific research carried out during the excavations conducted in Dandanakan by the efforts of archaeologists, unique samples of tools and vessels used in medicine and the pharmaceutical industry of the Great Seljuk era were found. Daňdanakanyň Beýik Ýüpek ýolunyň ugrundaky hyzmatynda ähmiýet bermegimiz zerurdyr. Eger-de Amul, Mary, Sarahs, Nusaý, Şähryslam, Dehistan, Köneürgenç ýaly uly şäherlerde owadan, bezeg we durmuş eşretini mahabalandyryýan harytlara köp duşulýan bolsa, Daňdanakan ýaly kerwen ýolunyň üstaşyr şäherlerinde gündelik isleglere mahsus harytlaryň: azyk önümleriniň, ýol hajatlary üçin zerur goşlaryň, egin-eşikleriň köp öndürilişine üns beripdirler. rare medieval find in the territory of Dandanakan, i.e. brass bells attached to the legs of camels leading a caravan and walking behind. The melodious sound of such bells served as a signal for camels that dropped from the caravan or straggled about, making it easier to determine the direction of the caravan.

We also need to attach importance to Dandanakan's service on the Silk Road. While large cities such as Amul, Mary, Sarahs, Nisa, Shahryslam, Dehistan, and Kunaurgench had many products for beauty, decoration, and lifestyle, transit cities such as Dandanakan had goods necessary for everyday needs: food, road necessities, mass production of clothing, etc. Preparing caravans for long – distance travelling is a difficult task. Accordingly, the special services in the cities tried to create all the necessary conditions for pilgrims to safely reach their next destination, prepare necessary fodder so that camels, horses and dogs would not die on the way. herbs were offered along with meals on the road. Local merchants promoted the sale of their goods and provided farmers with the necessary information about trade prices. Some merchants bought up all the goods of the caravan in the intermediate cities and sold them in the central cities. Some merchants took it upon themselves to send the caravan and deliver their goods to the next destination. All of this had a strong impact on the growing population of Dandanakan. Thus, over the years Dandanakan has turned from a simple village-caravanserai into a large city where political events took place.

*I*t was on this land that in the late 12th century, after the gradual collapse of the Great Seljuk Kingdom, another new Oghuz kingdom was born – the Turkmen state of Anushtegins (kingdom of Kunyaurgench).

The capital of the new state, Gurgench (as this city was called in the annals of the Middle Ages, later became known as Urgench, and later Konya), like Merv was among the cities located along the Great Silk Road. It has transformed most rapidly both economically and culturally, and has become a city thriving in political affairs. Located at an important crossroads of the transcontinental route leading to a milder climate, Gurgench becomes a powerful center, paving major trade routes that have influenced the development of the economies of the western and eastern countries.

Mundan başga-da Ýakut şäheriň waspyny şu ganatly jümleler bilen ýetirýär: «Onuň ýaşajylary alymlar, derwüşler, zehinli we baý adamlar. Olaryň ýaşayş üçin esasy serişdeleri bar we durmuş eşretlerinde... ýetmezçilikleri ýok. Dünýäde gurpludygyna we paýtagtynyň ululygyna, ilat sanynyň köplüğine we şäherlileriň hoşniýetlidigine hem-de dini ynanjyna wepalydygyna görä, men Horezmiň paýtagtyna taý geljek şäher bardyr öýdemok».

They live ordinary life, and they don’t lack anything I do not think that there is any city that could approach the capital of Khorazm in terms of global prosperity and the size of its capital, the size of its population, the kindness of its inhabitants and their loyalty to their religious faith.”

Gurgench, like Merv, was also famous for its rich libraries. At one time, the Mamun Academy worked here, which left an indelible mark in the history of world science and which is known throughout the Orient.

Scholars such as al-Biruni and Ibn Sina (Avicenna) worked in Kunyaurgench in the early 11th century. This city was also the birthplace of the great mathematician Muhammad al-Khwarizmi, known as the creator of the science of algebra, immortalized in the Latinized form of the term “logarithm mathematics”.

According to the experts, the style of building conical domes, one of the most characteristic features of the architectural culture of the masters of Kunyaurgench, was continued by architects from nearby regions. Scientists confirm that it was from there that such types of domes had the opportu-

The Mausoleum of Il Arslan in Kunyaurgench belongs to the earliest examples of conical dome construction in architecture. Its rounded pyramid-shaped dome is covered with glazed tiles of yellow and greenish-blue colors. The craftsmen paid a special attention to the beauty of the decoration of the main facade of the mausoleum. Experienced craftsmen made it from baked bricks with deep and very fine carvings. In this intricately patterned composition, epigraphic inscriptions form an amazing harmony in the form of a flower of the pattern and the curls of plant branches, passing through each other and intertwining. Another excellent example of the architectural monuments of Kunyaurgench, completed with a conical dome, which have survived to our days, is the mausoleum of Sultan Tekesh, a prominent ruler of Khorezm, a descendant of the Anushtegin dynasty. During his reign, the borders of the state were expanded, which made it possible to perfectly ensure the safety of movement of trade caravans in vast territories.

Soltan Tekeşiň kümmeti göwürüminiň ululygy we gurluşynyň çylşyrymlylygyna görä, Il Arslanyň kümmetinden tapawutlanypdyr. Onuň gümmezi gyraňlanan bolman, ýaşylymtyl mawy reňkli syrçаланан плиткalar bilen örtülen adaty konus şeklinde bolupdyr. The mausoleum of Sultan Tekesh differed from the mausoleum of Il Arslan in its size and complexity of construction. Its dome was not rounded, but had a usual conical shape, covered with greenish-blue glazed tiles. Some scholars suggest that in the architecture of this colossal mausoleum, the builders may have been tasked with surpassing the beauty of the mausoleum of the last Seljuk ruler, Sultan Sanjar, in Merv.

Have these two famous structures preserved their original beauty to this day? It is difficult to know, but it is certain that they impressed travelers who saw them with their own eyes in the Middle Ages.

Architectural fragments found by the archaeologists near the walls of the monument testify to the rich decorative work of the mausoleum of Sultan Tekesh. Along with architectural decorations, numerous broken fragments of colored glass were also found here. According to art historians, this must be the remains of a colored stained glass window, which was replaced by a large mirror with three openings in the front of the mausoleum. Stained glass windows are glass articles made of a combination of different colors and they attach a Witražlar dürli reňkler utgaşdyrylyp çekilen aýna önümleri bolmak bilen, uly binalaryň zyýarathanalaryna aýratyn gözelligi çalyýdyr.

XIV asyrda Gutlug Temiriň hökümdarlyk eden döwründe minarada dikeldiş işleri geçirilýär, şonda onuň bilindäki bezeg guşaklaryň birine kesme kerpiç örümi bilen Gutlug Temiriň ady ýazylypdyr. Not far from the mausoleum of Tekesh there is the highest structure in Central Asia built during the Middle Ages - the minaret of Gutlug Temir. Scientists, basing on reliable evidence, confirm that it was built in the 11th-12th centuries. In the 14th century, during the reign of Gutlug Temir, restoration work was carried out on the minaret, and then Gutlug Temir's name was inscribed in a cut brickwork on one of the decorative belts around its waist. This inscription became the basis for the current name of the minaret in scientific literature.

The son of Sultan Tekesh, Horezmshah Alaeddin Muhammed II, inherited a vast state from his father and continued his policy aimed at further strengthening the country's economic power. A particular attention was paid to the improvement of trade routes and caravan camps. At that time, several new caravanserais were built in the capital of the state, Gurgench, and in the neighboring countries, and major repairs were carried out in Akgala. Akgala was a water port built adjacent to the city walls of the capital. As it is known, at that time the wa-

Akgala paýtagtyň şäher diwarlaryna ýanaşyk ýerde gurlan suw duralgasy bolupdyr. ters of the Amyderya flowed near Gurgench, and then into the Caspian Sea through the Sarygamysh Lake. Along this stream, merchant ships that landed in Akgala sailed to Gurgench.

However, the advance of the Mongol troops temporarily halted the development of the region. Despite the indomitable patriotism and unwavering heroism of the people, as well as the courageous resistance of the last sultan of the Anushtegin dynasty, Jeleddin Menburn, and other historical figures, the Khorezm kingdom was unable to withstand the united Mongol army due to internal strife and disagreements. As a result, the well-established relations along the Great Silk Road were severed, trade ceased, and cities were destroyed and turned into ruins.

However, the foreigners who managed to destroy the cities could not break the will of our ancestors, who were loyal to the traditions of their ancestors, and did not shake the genetic code of the people, their national spirit, and their desire for creativity. Very soon, after the terrible plunder, life in the Turkmen cities began to boil again, and national handicrafts began to revive. Due to the fact that our Motherland

Örän tiz wagtdan elhenç talaňçylykdan soňra, türkmen şäherlerinde durmuş ýaňadan gaýnap joşýar, milli senetçilik önümçiligi galkynyp başlaýar. Biziň Watanymyzyň Beýik Ýüpek ýolunyň örän amatly çatrygynda ýerleşýändigini sebäpli söwda gatnaşyklary ýene-de güýçli ösüp başlaýar. Belli orta asyr alymy, arap syýahatçysy Ibn Battuta XIV asyrdan Köneürgençde bolup, öz gündeliğinde bu şäheriň waspyny şeýle ýetirýär: «Bu türküleriniň örän uly, giň, owadan we mertebeli şäheri, onuň was located at a very convenient junction of the Great Silk Road, trade relations began to develop rapidly again. A famous medieval scholar, Arab traveler Ibn Battuta, who visited Kunyaurgench in the 14th century, praised this city in his diary, “This is a very large, spacious, beautiful and noble city of the Turks, with a wonderful appearance of its beautiful bazaars and wide streets, where many constructions are underway. Life in the city is bustling, and the majority of its inhabitants resemble a raging sea. Once, while walking through the city, I got lost in the bazaar, and when ajaýyp bazarlarynyň, köp gurluşyklar alnyp barylýan giň köçeleriniň ajaýyp keşbi bar. Şäherde durmuş gaýnap joşýar, onuň ýaşajylarynyň köplügi möwç urýan deňzi ýatladýar. Bir gezek şäherde gezip ýörkäm, bazara sowuldym, haçanda onuň «Şaur» diýlip atlandyrylýan şowhunly merkezine baranymda, men ne öňe, ne-de yza süýşüp bil-dim. Men ol ýerde aljrap durdum, köp güýç sarp edemsoň, jümmüş-den çykmagy başardym». Mundan başga-da Ibn Battuta bu şäheriň ýaşajylary barada ýazanda: «Men dünýäniň hiç künjeginde şu ýerdäki ýaly päk ahlakly, belent adam-kärçilikli, gaýry ýurtlulara ýokary

I reached its bustling center, called the shaur, I could neither move forward nor backward. I stood there in a daze, and only with a great effort did I manage to get out of the jam.” In addition, Ibn Battuta, writing about the inhabitants of this city, wrote, “In no corner of the world have I met such a pure moral people, such a noble humanity, and such great hospitality to strangers as here.”

At the beginning of the 14th century, during the reign of Gutlug Temir, large-scale construction work was carried out in Kunyaurgench. It was during this pe-myhmansöýerlik bildirýän ynsanlara duşmadym» diýip ýazýar.

XIV asyryň başlarynda Gutlug Temiriň hökümdarlyk eden döwüründe Köneürgençde giň gerimli gurluşyk işleri amala aşyrylýar. Hut şu döwürde şyh Nejmeddin Kubranyň kümmetiniň baş girelgesi, şeýle-de ýadygärligiň içindäki mazarüsti daşyň ýazgysy goýy gök, mawy we ak reňkleriň utgaşmagyndaky owadan nagýşlardan düzülen mozaika bilen örtülipdir.

Nejmeddin Kubranyň kümmetiniň 15 metr günbatarynda, onuň baş girelgesine bakdyrylyp Pirýarweliniň kümmeti hem bina edilýär. Arheologlar tarapyndan riod that the main entrance to the mausoleum of Sheikh Nejmeddin Kubra, as well as the inscription on the tombstone inside the monument, were covered with a mosaic of beautiful patterns in a combination of dark blue, purple and white colors.

15 meters west of the mausoleum of Nejmeddin Kubra, facing its main entrance, the mausoleum of Pirýarveli was also built. Archaeologists found beautiful multi-colored octagonal tiles in the tomb. The image of a plant feeding on blooming flowers on it, according to popular belief, depicts the moment when the sacred bird Sym-kümmetde sekizburçluk şekilindäki dürli reňkli owadan plitkalar tapyldy. Onda açylan güllere beslenen ösümligiň ýüzündäki şekiliň mazmunynda, halk ynanjyna görä, keramatly Symrug guşuň öz çünkünde merhumyň ruhuny jennete alyp barýan pursady beýan edilipdir.

Köneürgenjiň ussalary keramika sungatynda örän uly üstünlikleri gazanypdyrlar. Olaryň önümleri Beýik Yüpek ýolunda uly isleg bildirilýän harytlaryň hataryna giripdir. Arheologlar köneürgençli ussalar tarapyndan taýýarlanan çeper bezegli küýze önümlerini Wolganyň kenaryndaky Saray-Bekreden tä Demirgazyk Kawkazdaky Majara çenli giňişlikde ýerleşen Altyn Orda döwletiniň dürli künjeklerinden ýüze çykardylar. Belli çeper sungaty öwreniji alym G. Pugachenkowanyň pikirçe, Köneürgenjiň ussalarynyň şöhratly çeperçilik mekdebiniň täsiri astynda dürli sebitlerde hususy küýze-gärçilik we çeperçilik ussahanalary döräpdir. Ýöne XIV asyrdaky Gündogarda in ýokary hilli çeperçilik önümlerini taýýarlamak boýunça esasy merkeziň, elbetde, Köneürgenç bolandygy jedelsizdir.

Köneürgenjiň ussalary külalçylyk sungatyny öň görüp-eşidilmedik derejede kämilleşdiripdirler.

The masters of Kunyaurgench achieved a great success in ceramic art. Their products were among the most sought-after goods on the Great Silk Road. Archaeologists have discovered artistically decorated pottery made by Kunyaurgench masters in various parts of the Golden Horde state, which stretched from Saray-Bekre on the banks of the Volga to Majara in the North Caucasus. According to the famous art historian G. Pugachenkova, under the influence of the glorious art school of Kunyaurgench masters, private pottery and art workshops were established in various regions. But in the 14th century, the main center for the production of the highest quality artistic products in the Orient was undoubtedly Kunyaurgench.

The masters of Kunyaurgench improved the art of ceramics to an unprecedented degree. Their articles had no equal in the entire Eurasian continent. They were presented as a valuable commodity in all the markets of large cities, as well as in Bütün Ýewraziýa yklymynda olaryň önümlerine taý geljegi tapylmandyr. Ol uly şäherleriň ähli bazarlarynda bolşy ýaly, söwda kerwen ýollarynyň kerwensaraýlarynda hem gymmatly haryt hökmünde arzylanypdyr, şoňa görä-de oňa ýokary isleg bildirilipdir.

Bu döwürde täsin gözelligi bilen tapawutlanýan reňkli nagş gülli gurnama mozaika bilen ymaratlary bezemek sungaty hem gül-läp ösüpdür. Kerwenler Köneürgençden diňe bir harytlary däl-de, eýsem, nakgaşlaryň we binagärleriň ussatlygy baradaky, olaryň gurlurly gollary bilen gurlan, ertekilerde wasp edilýän şäherler, kaşan binalar baradaky haýran galdyryjy kyssalary hem öz ýanlary bilen alyp gidipdirler. Köneürgenjiň ussalaryny köp uly şäherleriň hökümdarlary kaşan-kaşan ymaratlary gurmak üçin çagyrypdyrlar.

Köneürgenjiň ýadygärliklerini ÝUNESKO-nyň Bütindünýä mirasynyň sanawyna goşmagy teklipe eden halkara bilermenleriň gelen netijesinde hem şu hakykat öz beýany tapdy. Şu meşhur binalary mirasyň abraýly sanawyna goşmagyň ölçegleriniň degişli beýanynda şeýle ýazyldy: «...Ýerine ýetirilişinde Köneürgenjiň ýadygärlikleriniň bezeg we gurluşyk sungaty günorta we günorta-günbatar se-the caravanserais of trade caravan routes, and therefore were in high demand. During that period, the art of decorating buildings with colorful, patterned, floral mosaics, distinguished by their extraordinary beauty, also flourished. The caravans took with them not only goods from Kunyaurgench, but also amazing stories about the skill of painters and architects, about cities and magnificent buildings built by their mighty hands, glorified in fairy tales. The masters of Kunyaurgench were invited by the rulers of many large cities to construct magnificent buildings.

This truth was also reflected in the arrival of international experts who proposed including the monuments of Kunyaurgench on the UNESCO World Heritage List. In the criteria for inscription of these famous buildings on the prestigious heritage list it is said, “...The art of decoration and construction of Kunyaurgench monuments had a great influence on the architecture of the southern and southwestern regions of Asia, espe-bitlere, esasan hem, Eýranyň we Owganystanyň, soňra bolsa Mogollar imperiýasynyň (Hindistan, XVI asyr) binagärçiligine uly täsirini ýetiripdir».

Köneürgenjiň binagärlik-çeperçilik mekdebiniň ussalary tapyndan miras galdyrylan ýadygärlikleriň ikisinde çeper mozaika sungatynyň ajaýyp nusgalary bilen has ýakyndan tanşyp bolýar. Olar «kerwensaraý» hökmünde belli bolan desganyň girelgesiniň we orta asyr Gündogar ymaratlarynyň in Gowularynyň biri diýlip ykrar edilen Törebeg hanymyň kümmetiniň diwar bezegleridir. Binalaryň esasy girelgesi we binanyň iç ýüzüni örtýän bezeg mozaikasy nepis nagys gülleri we baý reňkleriň sazlaşykly utgaşmasy bilen mese-mälim tapawutlanýar.

Esasan hem, Törebeg hanymyň kümmetiniň gümmeziniň iç ýüzüniň mozaikasynda ezber ussanyň dürli reňkdäki haşamlardan görülmedik täsin gözelligi döredişini haýran galmak bilen synlaýarsyň. Sungaty öwrenijileriň tassyklamagyna görä, Günbataryň we Gündogaryň orta asyrlara degişli binagärliginde bezeg sungatynyň bu nepis nusgasyna taý geljegi ýokdur.

In two monuments left by the masters of the architectural and artistic school of Kunyaurgench, it is possible to get a closer look at remarkable examples of artistic mosaic art. They are the wall decorations of the entrance to the building known as the “Caravanserai” and the tomb Torebeg-hanum, recognized as one of the best medieval oriental buildings. The main entrance of the building and the decorative mosaics covering the interior of the building are characterized by elegant floral ornamentation and a harmonious combination of bright colors. Especially in the mosaics of the inside of the dome of the tomb, one can admirably observe how the master craftsman created an unprecedented beauty from multicolored tiles. According to art historians, this beautiful example of decorative art has no equal in medieval architecture of the West and the Orient.

marble statues of Aphrodite and Artemis, a silver statue of Erot, discovered as a result of archaeological research, testify to the preservation of active cultural contacts between ancient Nisa and Western states, then the coins with Khorezm script found in the Prikamye and Privolzhye regions confirms that the links between the early cities of Northern Turkmenistan and the Old Russian land were close.

A Chinese historian Tanshu said, “In this country, people are open-minded, love music, have a happy time. They conduct their business in a very courteous manner. A twelve-year-old boy must show courage and valor to earn his name. Viticulture and winemaking are developed.” According to this, the people living on this land are referred to in Chinese sources as “the inhabitants of the happy home.” As you see, our rich history embedded in the context of the Great Silk Road and the mutual respect between our peoples give us a basis for deepening friendly relations with our neighbors and friends in remote lands.

CHAPTER II. SPIRITUAL HERITAGE

ZEHIN AÝDYŇLYGY, PAÝHAS KÄNI

CLARITY OF MIND, A TREASURY OF WISDOM

Uzak-uzak menzil aşyp, ynsan gadymyýetden geljege barýar. Geljek – nämälimlik. Geçmiş bolsa, dolanuwsyzlyk. Bularyň aralygynda “häzirki zaman” bar. Wagtdowamlylygyna nähili many çäýýlandygy şol “şu günden” görüňär. “Şu gün” – geljegini gönezliligini özünde saklaýar, binýadyny berkidýär. “Şu gün” – düýnüň durmuş tejribesiniň toplan gymmatlygyny ýaşadýar. Şonuň bilenem oňa ömür berip bilýär. Sebäbi “ýaşamagyň” özi durmuşyň janlylygynyň alamaty, ol dowamaty aňladýar. Dowamatyň nähili zeyillidigi ynsana köp babatda baglydyr. Dowamatyň hem biologik, hem ruhy usulda ýüze çykýandygy ynsanyň ýaşaýşynyň kanuny ýagdaýydyr.

Durmuş bir akgyňly derýa mysaly. Onuň gomlary, aslynda, tebigatyň hökmürowanlygynyň netijesi. Ýöne deňizçi derýanyň asudalygynda süýji hyýala çümüp, göwün yuwurdýar. Owalynda ynsanyň bu dünýä gelmegem, onuň kesgitli ömri-de, atalarymyz aýtmyşlaýyn, Travelling long and long distances, the humankind goes from the past to the future. The future is unknown. The past is irrevocable. There is “present” between them. It is evident from “today” how much meaning was given to the duration of time. “Today” keeps the essence of the future and strengthens its foundation. “Today” revives the accumulated value of yesterday’s life experience. And so it can give the life with it. Because “living” itself is a sign of the vitality of life, it means continuity. How long it lasts depends largely on the person. It is a natural state of human existence that continuity occurs both biologically and spiritually.

Life is like a flowing river. Its waves are the results of the power of the nature. But the sailor plunged in dreams in the calmness of the river. In the beginning, a person’s birth, and his or her life, as our ancestors used to say, is determined by fate. The most important sign and symbol to be aware of is that you your-ykbalyňda bary alnyňa gelýär. Bu ýerde iňňän aň etmeli alamat, tym-sal, özüňem Älemi-Zeminiň goý-nunda emele gelen durmuşyň aky-mynda barýanlygyňdyr.

Tutus Älemiň ýaradylyşynda akyl ýetirmez derejede soňsuzlyk bar. Bu goja Zemin çensiz-çaksyz energiýanyň kuwwaty bilen aýla-nyp dur. Birjik-de säginmeýär. Bi-zem Älemdäki dünýä. Ynsanlaryň özara gatnaşygynda, birek-birege garaýşynda täze bir belentlik ah-walynyň dünýä bolup ýüze çykma-gam adaty ýagdaýdyr. Ýaradylyşyň has kiçijik närselerinden aýratyn bir “dünýäni” aňlamak ynsanyň özüniň tebigatyň synasyna bada-self are following the flow of life that has been formed in the bosom of the Earth.

There is incomprehensible infinity in the creation of the entire Universe. The Earth is revolving with the power of boundless energy. And it never stops. We are also the world in the Universe. It is not uncommon for a new state of elevation to emerge in human relations and in the way we view each other as a world. To understand a separate “world” from the smallest things of creation is man’s own connection to nature. It is the submission of all creation to the laws of nature’s cycle.

Eziz okyjym! Täze pikir aýtmak, dünýäniň syryna aralaşmak, elbetde, uly müşgillikdir. Açys aň etmekdedir, aýdyňlykdadyr. Bir kanunalaýyklykdan ony tassyklamaga delil bolýan ençeläp pikiri ýaýmak mümkin. Nýutonyň alma agajynyň aşagynda, Arhimediň suwly gawnawda açys edenlerini göz önüne getirip görüň. Bu açyslar, çyndan pikir etseň, öň tebigatyň özünde ýaşaýarlar. Oňa düşünmek üçin, diňe aň etmek möhümdir. Aň etseň, düşünjek bolsaň, her bir zatda manydyr açys bardyr. Hut şonuň üçinem ýiti aňly, pikirleniş güýçli adamlar üçin durmuş juda zyzyklydyr. Olar gözünüň gözlän ýerinden bir timsal agtaryp bilýärler.

Size göwündäki barymy berýärim, ata-babalaryň durmuş pähim-paýhasynyň beýanyny teswirlemek mertebedir. Halkyň milli mirasyny köňül bilen duýup, aňynda saldarlasaň, munda baýlyk kani bardyr. Kämelliginiň syryny düşündirip bolmaýan gymmatlyklary döreden ata-babalarymyzyň özleri durmuş mekdebidir. Milli ruhy aýratynlyklarymyzy şöhlendirýän her bir durmuş pursadyny men ylmyň açysy hasap edýärim. Ylmyň şol täsinlikleri tejribe bilen,

My dear reader! Of course, it is difficult to express a new idea and to get into the mystery of the world. Discovery lies in awareness, in clarity. From a single legality, it is possible to develop many ideas that serve as evidence to support it. Think about the discoveries of Newton who was sitting under the tree and Archimed in a watery trench. If you really think about it, these discoveries live in nature itself. It is important to be aware of it. There is a meaning and discovery in everything if you are aware and understand it. Therefore, the life is so interesting for people with a sharp mind and witty thought. They can find a prototype wherever they look.

My dear reader!

I give you all my soul, it is an honor to comment on the manifestation of the wisdom of our ancestors. There is a treasury of wealth in feeling the national heritage of the people with your heart and ponder it in your mind. Our ancestors, who created values whose secret of perfection cannot be explained, are themselves a school of life. I consider every moment of life that reflects our national and spiritual characteristics to be a discovery of science. These wonders of science have been passed down from generation to generation through experience.

ol nesilden beýleki nesillere geçirilipdir. Eger-de olar açyş hökmünde kabul edilen bolsa, munuň tebigy usulda nesilden-nesle geçmeginiň şeýle sazlaşykly tärde amala aşmazlygam ähtimal. Sebäbi bu ýerde “açyşyň” tebigatyň özündediginiň ykrar edilmesi bardyr.

Ajaýyp “Oguznama” eserinde Ogzuň ogullaryna at dakmakdaky eýeren ynamy “Asman-Zemin” bitewüligi dogrusyndaky pikiriň haýran galdyryjy jemlenmesidir. Şu taglymatyň içinde sansyz köp pikirler ýaşaýarlar. Iň nygtalmaly ýerem, şol pikirleriň, netije aýdyňlygynyň adamzada derwaýys bolup durýanlygydyr.

If they were accepted as discoveries, it is likely that this natural process of passing them from generation to generation would not have been carried out in such a harmonious way. Because there is a recognition that the “discovery” is inherent in nature.

In the wonderful work Oghuznama, the belief that Oghuz followed in naming his sons is an amazing synthesis of the idea of the unity of “Heaven and Earth”. There are many endless thoughts reside within the doctrine. The most important thing to note is that the clarity of those ideas and their conclusions is essential for humanity.

Özüňden beýgelip, il bolunýar, iliňden beýgelip, halk bolunýar, halkyňdan beýgelip, dünýä bolunýar. Şu ýerde hyýalyma “Bir öýüň ysýgy beýleki öýe düşmez” diýilýäni hem gelýär. “Ysýgyňy” goňşy-golamyň, içiň-daşyň bilen deň düşer ýaly etmek üçin “ysyk” bir öýe niýetlenilip, ýakylmaýar. “Ysyk” nur çaýyp, şamçyrag gymmatbaha daşy ýaly, ähli ýere ýagtylyk berýär.

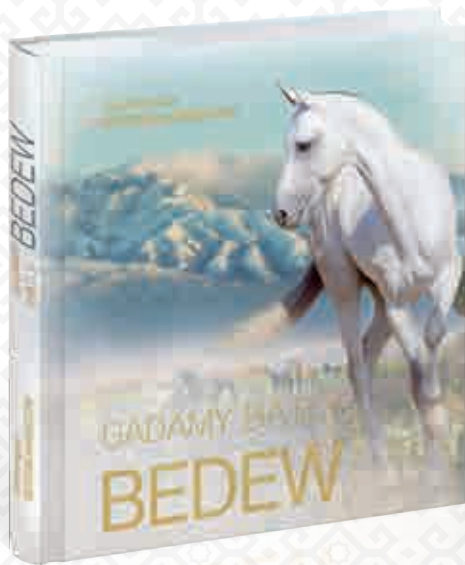

“Oguznama” ýaly gymmatly mirasyň aýalyp, şu güne çenli saklanyp galmagy-da onuň tysal doly baý mazmunynyň bolmagydyr.

Pederlerimiz asyrlaryň mizan eleginden geçirip, bu durmuş hakykatyny pähime öwürüpdirler: Geçmiş bolmadygyň, geljegi bolmaz. Geçmiş – geljegiň berk binýady. Geçmiş – geljegi gurmagyň sapaklary. Geçmiş – pähim-parasat. Halkymyzyň münýýlyklara uzayan geçmişi, taryhy – mertligiň, gahrymançylygyň, ygrarlylygyň, belent ahlaklylygyň taryhy. Halkymyz özüniň baş mün ýyldan habar berýän taryhynda şu belent ahlak sypatlaryny tug deýin belentde saklap gezdi. Il-halk üçin şu günü döretmek, ertiriň kerpijini goýmak yn-sanlyk mertebedir. Ýöne, öň hem size niýetlän şeýle söhbetlerimde aýdysym ýaly, adam bolmak iň kynnydyr. Adam bolmak Zeminiň perzendi bolmakdyr. Şunuň asyl özeni

By rising above oneself, one becomes people, by rising above people one becomes a country, by rising above the country one becomes world. Here, the saying “The light of one house does not reach another house” comes to my mind. In order to make your “light” equal to that of your neighbors and your close ones, the “light” is not lit intending only for one house. The “light” shines brightly like a precious stone, illuminating the whole place.

The reason why such a valuable heritage as Oghuznama has been preserved to this day is also because of its rich symbolic content.

Our ancestors sifting through the centuries, have turned this truth of life into wisdom: one who has not past, does not have future. The past is the solid foundation for the future. The past is lessons for building the future. The past is wisdom. The history of our people, stretching back thousands of years, is a history of courage, heroism, commitment, and high morality. Our people have maintained these high moral qualities throughout their five thousand-year history. To create today and to lay the bricks of tomorrow for people are a human privilege. However, as I have said in the previous conversations with you, being a human is the most difficult thing. Being a hakynda “Gadamy batly bedew”, “Arşyn nepisligi” we beýleki işlerimde pikirleriň bir gaýra öwrüm edendigini ýatlamagym artykmaç bolmazmyka diýýärin.

Ýaşayşyň akymy ýaradylyşyň kanuny boýunça gidip barýar. Ol kanunyň nähilidigini hem-de ondak anyk şertleri dini kitaplardan okap, ulamalar iline ýaýypdyrlar. Ýöne durmuşdaky ähli ýagdaýlary, her bir pursady ýazga geçirmek mümkinem däl. Oňa düşünmek, aň etmek, many almak welin mümkindir. Halkyň mirasynyň gymmaty hem şondadyr. Şonuň üçinem ol egsilmeyän hazyna deňelýär. Hawa, baýlyk – maddy baýlyk, gözüne görünýän, el bilen tutulýan baýlyk, ony ulanyberseň, az-azdan susuberseň, onuň düýbi köwürlmek bilendir. Ol azalar-da, öwezini dolmagy talap eder. Munuň önünden human is being a child of the Earth. I think it would be appropriate to recall that my thoughts turned once again to the essence of this in my works “Swift Step of the Horse Racers”, “Heavenly beauty” and others.

The course of life flows according to the law of Creation. The scholars spread that law and its specific conditions to the people by reading it in religious books. But it is impossible to record all the events and moments of the life. But it is possible to understand, comprehend and make sense of it. The value of the heritage of the people is in it. That is why it is compared to an endless treasure. Yes, the wealth is material richness, the wealth is visible to the eye, that can be held in the hands and if you draw it little by little, its foundation is eroded. It will decrease and de-gamy iýilmedik bolsa, şol ýerde kynçylyk dörär. Beýle hala düşülmeginiň sebäbi hem sansyz köpdür. Garşysyna em bolsa, ýekejedir. Hemişe many alyp, aň edip gezmelisiň. Munuň iň ýönekeýje hem iň tebigy usuly bolsa, ötenleriň näme edenligine bir müddet syn kylyp bilmekdir. Adatça, durmuşda bir iş babatda, ol iş göwnejaý görülmese: “Bilmeseň, soramaly” diýilýär. Soramak asylky many-synda mirasdan habarly bolmakydyr. Her bir gaýrylan iş ondan soň sähel salym ötdügi ol miras hasap edilýär.

Miras – ön bir gezek geçilen ýol. Ikinji gezekde, üçünji gezekde ol ýoldaky ötmäge sähel päsgel berýän çöp-çalamlaram syrylýar. Edil bulut syrylan ýaly bolýar. Şeýdibem ýoldan näçe köp ýörel-di-giçe, ol ýoluň köpe gerekligi has aýan bilinýär. Ine, halkyň mirasy hem şeýle ýoldur. Ol ata-babalaryň pähimi bilen nurlanan şa ýoldur. Ondan ýöräp, diňe diýen menziliňe aşyp bolýar. Bu ýerde sowa düşmek diýlen zat ýokdur. Sebäbi bu pal atmak, çen urmak bilen tapy-lan usul däl-de, ön ençe gezek ýürekden geçirilip seljerilen ýoldur.

mand compensation. If the burden is not taken care of beforehand, there will be trouble there. There are countless reasons for this. If there is a remedy, there is only one. You should always know meaning and walk with awareness. The simplest and most natural way to do this is to spend some time observing what those who have passed away have done. Usually, when one task was not done appropriately in life, it is said, “If you don’t know, ask.” Asking is essentially being aware of the heritage. Every task that is given is considered a heritage that has passed away a short time later.

Heritage is the proven experience of the effectiveness of work.

Heritage is a path that has been traveled once before. The second time, the third time, even the obstacles that hinder the passage on that path are cleared away. It is as if a cloud has been cleared away. Similarly, the more one walks along a path, the more obvious it becomes that path is truly necessary. This is the heritage of the people. It is the royal road illuminated by the wisdom of our ancestors. By following it, you can only reach your destination. There is no such thing as falling into a trap here. Because this is not a method discovered by fortune-renimde, juda guwanýaryyn. Mirasy şu günün nepesi bilen duýup bilmek hem mertebelilikdir. Mun-da zehiniň aýdyňlygy, paýhasyň käni bardyr. Ony bolsa hiç bir güýç gizläp bilmeyär. Eger ony duýup bolmaýan bolsa, onda bu agyryly bir hasratdyr.

Köplenç, “ilkidurmuş adamyň akyly pylan zeyilli bolupdyr” diýmäge endik edinilipdir. Elbetde, muny inkär etmegem bolmaz. Her bir döwrün özboluşly garaýyşlaryny, akyl-paýhasyny bir zeyillikden saýlanmak üçin, adamlaryň özlari işläp düzýärler. Aň salyp görün, ýolam şol bir tizlikde gatnalyň ýörülse, asyl gatnalmasa-da, ara-telling or measuring, but a path that has been carefully considered.

I am very happy when I see such devotion in the attitude of our people towards their heritage. It is also a privilege to be able to feel the heritage with the breath of today. There is clarity of talent, a wealth of wisdom in it. And no power can hide it. If it cannot be felt, then this is a painful sorrow.

It is often said that “the mind of primitive man was of such nature.” Of course, this cannot be denied. In order to distinguish itself from the rest, people themselves develop their own unique views and wisdom of each era. Just think, if the road is

The spiritual existence of sincerity is also achieved on the basis of the establishment of a harmony of wisdom and intelligence in the judgment of time. All efforts are made to create it and continue it without any harm. Because I want to say that this is the essence of noble principles, star-like examples of humanism.

The owners of the spiritual wealth are those who continue to uphold dignity.

May the line of citizens who are exemplary in our state, distinguished by their nobility and sincere dedication to their profession, grow even longer. I see loyalty to the Motherland in loyalty to the people.

The main aim of our state is to make its citizens the happiest people in the world. The wish of citizens is to raise the dignity of the Motherland. That is why I like to be an ordinary citizen and think about Motherland first. I try to forget all my worries for a while, become an ordinary citizen of the Motherland, and look around the world. The plains, hills, mountains, deserts, rivers and seas in the bosom of the Motherland are like a painting that amazes you with its different colors. As long as such

You sit in front of a burning fire, listening to the sound of boiling water in tanka, and you realize that you are attached to the Motherland, and that your love for beauty is absorbed to it. At such moments, I would express my love for the Motherland in simple language by saying that it is exchange of a word with nature.

revolves with wisdom, it shines with talent. Accordingly, the conversation of a wise person, a skillful master of his or her profession, seems more interesting than reading a book. I respect people who are always learning and eager to know. I myself have long recognized the constant learning and reading as a firm principle of life. Learning and knowing are very necessary for you throughout your life. No matter how educated and determined you are, do not forget that every field has its own incomparable masters! That is why you must respect them. Because achieving mastery in any work is the fruit of immense talent, dedication, and skill. Mastery is very difficult. It is even more difficult to be called a “master.” Moreover, no matter how much you are talented, if you forget about being good, people will forget you and your talent will be mentioned once or it will not be mentioned at all. That is why, first of all, our ancestors, having encouraged us to be human, considered our talent and skill to be someone else’s belongings. They brought up their children by such principles.

Until now, the national values created by our people have become widely known in the world. This is evident from the examples of the importance attached to our national and cultural values, historical monuments in international organizations. First of all, let us note that much work has been done in the field of history of our people. I have read many very insightful thoughts about the history of the Turkmen people in the works of foreign orientalists, archaeologists, ethnographers, and famous historians. It is not difficult to understand that their interest in the past of our people comes from their deep knowledge of the world historical map. In the year “Fount of Wisdom – Magtymguly Pyragy”, I consider it my urgent duty to always keep in the centre of attraction the implementation

Therefore, we must not allow any of the scientific ideas and new views that have reached the world community about the history of our country be ignored.

I am very happy when I see that our compatriots, including young people, are particularly interested in works that tell about ancient history.

There is no greater happiness for a person than to love his Motherland.

The highest love is love for the Motherland.

The life style that is related to the fate of the Motherland is tenderness. The one who governs that life is the one who is born with good intentions and is strong in the heart. I believe that this belief has been living in the mind of every Turkmen child since ancient times. Because without love in your heart for those around you, it is impossible to create spiritual continuity in this world. Even it is not proven by mathematical methods, it is the truth proven by life experience and understanding of the national spirit. It lives in the heart of every Turkmen people. What I mean by this is that a Turkmen did not create a new doctrine for his child, saying, “This is how it is done, you should follow it.” He made it live in its essence. It was not given a unique, complex definition among people, but in simple language it is called “the Turkmen principles”. In short, the teachings of the ancestors lived as a spiritual phenomenon. It was a necessity of every era, that is why “the Turkmen principles” lived in the hearts of people. The values that live in the heart are always inside and govern the personality. Because the heart itself is a secret. Our spiritual values are the values that live in our minds, souls, and hearts. The ancient civilizations gave the world so many discoveries, and in the end, only their names remained! Here I would like to recall what our ancestors used to say, “The bright red quickly fades.” In the Turkmen principles, the moment of life that lead to telling each other the obligatory norms that should be followed in the society make us think. I am saying this, because telling what you should know yourself is seen as belittling human dignity.

May be the legend from the time of the Seljuks is known to you.

The servants of the khan whipped a man with knout in front of the people. When people asked "What is fault of the man?!", they said that his guilt is that "he does what he is told". Everyone was surprised, "Is disobedient not whipped with a knout?!" The answer of servants pleased only one girl. Thus, the clever girl reveals her identity.

This is the most favored trait in the wisdom of the Turkmen. To talk about things that must be known and that live in the heart, are passed through blood and are considered by the mind, is seen

Gowy adam, mert ynsan diňe gowy zatlary görýär. Göwnüne nädürs gelyän ahwallary bolsa düzetmek üçin hereket edýär. Bu diýip-aýdylyp edilyän iş däl-de, terbiýe, özen. as insulting to a person. Moreover, to remind him of his weak side by telling him that he lacks the humane principles that he should have in the first place is another sign of weakness. It is a shame to use a person's weakness to glorify one's own superiority!

A good and brave man sees only good things. He acts to correct situations that are not right for him. It is not things that must be done by telling, it is upbringing and the character. Let's say someone is superficial, a person who is easily distracted. If you tell him about his quality, he will not agree and in return he will get offended. But if you ignore those unpleasant qualities and fight against them within yourself, you will definitely see the result. That is why the heart of a person is also within him. If the heart was the thing that must be revealed to everyone, it would be outside. Just as people think about you by looking at your face and eyes, so they would open your heart. But it was created inside. There is also a legend about the soul entering the human body. The main task is that the inside values govern the Turkmen. Therefore you have to be able to know and understand the situation without being told. Our ancestors taught us life lessons in this very context. It is our duty to pass them on to our generation in their truest sense.

One who respects their parents, loves their family and is proud of their children will never offend their Motherland. I mean your parents, partner and children are connected with your past, present and future. There is no life without them. If you have lost those dear ones, alas, I am sure that your love and devotion will not just disappear. I always think of the wise saying, “A person who relies on the reputation of his parents is a weak person.” Because every creature, no matter how polite he is, as the old saying goes, “has its own vices.” Something can be bitter, but it can also be sweet. It is not right to idealize everything that you see. But it is very important to be able to understand everything properly. The lack of talent and wisdom of one person from another is due to their creation. Everything has its own nature. There are countless plants and animals in the world. It is easy to see what benefits they bring to a person. We evaluate this situation from the point of view of material desire. However, a person is a creature capable of achieving a level in relation to it with his spiritual uniqueness.

The spiritual state of a person is revealed in their impact on society. Intelligence is also a fragile thing, if not used properly, it can lead you astray. You might say, it is like fire! The ability of fire to transform is manifested in both positive and negative senses. Like fire, water, air, and all other things are very necessary for a person! This is true when their influence on life is felt in positive senses. But as in everything, there is a second side to the problem. The saying “his talent is like a fire” is not said without purpose, the comparison of the education to the light and sun has something behind it. When the human nature is described, it is also compared to nature.

It is characteristic of a person to imitate nature, to take a model from the surrounding creation. The more you understand the ancient heritage of the teachings of the wisdom in this area, the more your faith grows. When I found time this year - the glorious year “Fount of Wisdom – Magtymguly Pyragy”, I have already mentioned, I become deeply interested in these things. Then I will also say that I have taken Oghuz khan as my mentor. Without understanding Oghuz khan, it is difficult to understand our national and spiritual world. Oghuz khan belongs to much more ancient times.

There are Oghuz principles in the origins of the spiritual world of the Turkmen people. They cannot be learned from a specific work. Specific books satisfy more serious interests in a specific field of science. Then it is up to each person to understand the specific content in his mind.

The Oghuz teachings should be understood as Turkmen. If important issues affecting all people for all times were not gathered in Oghuzes, it should be understood that it would not come to this day

I have recently become familiar with the copies of the Oghuznamas kept in different countries and places around the world. I have reviewed Oghuznamas, Oghuz tradition in the literature and many other scientific publications related to our ancient literature. Reading them, I felt a sense of excitement as if I were experiencing the value of the Oghuznamas for the first time. I even do not know how to describe it in another way. Therefore following my original habits, I made notes on the paper that was in front of me while I was reading a book. I took

Some of those notes are derived from the content of Oghuznamas and some are thoughts based on them. Because it is important for us to explain the valuable heritage of the past with clarity for the benefit of our people.

Dear people!

As it is known, thoughts about speed are discussed in my book “Swift Step of the Horse Racer”. In fact, according to the philosophical science, the historical conditions for the emergence of technologies are the competition between investors as a result of the rapid development of industrial production. The desire to lead the existence in many directions has brought the horse closer to man. Let us not dwell on these.

Because the meaning is not created, the meaning is acquired.

There is no other art that can express love of the person for beauty and freedom of their feelings like a carpet. It also does not have its own explanatory dictionary. You should feel and comprehend all the secrets in this with all your heart. The concept “inside” that I mentioned above is appropriate. The wisdom and talent of people live in this way. I referred to the comparison in my book “Heavenly Beauty”. I named my book about the carpet in this way because I wanted to emphasize the purity of the Turkmen carpet in the sense of feeling. Scholars have expressed various ideas about the twenty-four carpet patterns depicted on the oldest Turkmen carpet, which tell us about the history of the Oghuz era. In general our national treasures supplement each other. They differ from each other, each of them embodies a world. Like planets in the Universe each of them has its own unique nature.

My dear people! Preserving the heritage of the past for the future and bringing it forward to tomorrow is an urgent duty for every era. In this I see the features of creating a philosophy according to the spirit of the era. For this very purpose I pray to God for my literary writing to be necessary for my people.

My people who possess spiritual and material wealth like an ocean are happy. May the good people be our allies in laying the foundation for tomorrow’s prosperity!

My beloved people! May your tomorrow be prosperous and your path be clear!

«OGUZNAMA» – DÜNYÄ BAÝLYGY

“OGHUZNAMA” – A WORLD TREASURE

Dünyä baýlygy – halkyň baýlygy. Il-halkyň beýik taryhyny, baý medeniýetini dünýä ýaýyan milli gymmatlyklary adamzadyň paýhasynyň, döredijilik zehininiň, tebigy ukybynyň uçursyz uly mümkinçiliginiň aýanlygydyr diýýärim.

Berkarar döwletiň täze eýýamynyň Galkynyşy döwründe her bir raýatyň döredijilik mümkinçilikleriniň giňden rowaçlanmagy üçin degerli şertleriň döredilmegi döwlet syýasatymyza birjik-de ünsden düşürilmez. Çünki şu günün ösüşiniň kökünüň ata-babalarymyzyň pähiminde ýaşap, şondan hem pajarlandygy hakyndaky ynam hakydamyza mydama ýaşayar. Dünýä alymlarynyň ünsüni özüne çekýän deňsiz-taýsyz gymmatlyklar hut şu mähriban ýurdumyza kemala gelendir.

“Oguznamanyň” nusgalary bilen tanyş bolup, ondaky ýürege has ýakyn, şu günün sedasyňa çalymdaş pikirleriň näçedigi hakyn-da çuňňur oýlanýaryn. Olar ýüzlerçedir. Belki, has hem köpdür.

The wealth of the world is the wealth of people. I say that national values, bringing the great history and rich culture of the nation to the world, are a manifestation of the enormous potential of human wisdom, creative talent and natural abilities.

In the period of the Revival of the New Era of the Powerful State, the creation of favorable conditions for the wide development of the creative potential of each citizen will not be overlooked in our state policy. Because the belief that the roots of today's development lie in the wisdom of our ancestors and have become more prosperous from it, always lives in our memory. It was in this beloved country that the unique values that attract the attention of world scientists were formed.

Getting acquainted with the copies of the Oghuznama, I deeply think about how many thoughts are closer to the heart

Alymlaryň bu ugurdan durmuşa geçiren işleri juda kân, ol işleriň ýene dowam etjegi hem gürrüňsiz.

“Oguznama” topraga ýürek mähirlerini beren ata-babalarymyzyň dünýä söýgüleriniň çar ýanda ýaňlanýan mukamydyr.

Oguzlar baradaky gadymy hekâýatlar ata-babalarymyzyň geçmişde gadam tozlary galan mekanlarda obama-oba aýlanypdyr. Ogzuň nesilleri baradaky gadymy söhbetler onuň nesilleriniň at-owazasyny jahana mälim edipdir. Olar edebi-çeper galyba salnyp, il içinde agyzdan agza, bir nusgadan beýleki bir nusga geçip, asyrlaryň hökümüne ýan bermän, ýaşamagyny dowam etdiripdir. Syýasy-durmuş we medeniýet babatdaky düýpli özgerişler olaryň asyl durkuna zeper ýetirip bilmändir. Ata-babalarymyzyň paýhasy, ýiti zehini, tapbilerligi olary ýaşadypdyr.

and more similar to today's sound. There are hundreds! Maybe even more. There are a lot of works by scientists in this area, and there is no doubt that these works will continue.

The Oghuznama is an echo of the universal love of our ancestors who gave their hearts to the earth.

Ancient legends about the Oghuz people wandered from village to village in the places where our ancestors left their traces. Ancient legends about the descendants of Oghuz revealed to the world the glory of his descendants. They have been shaped into literary and artistic works, passed down from generation to generation, from one copy to another, and continued to exist, defying the dictates of the centuries. Fundamental changes in political, social, and cultural spheres did not affect their original form. The wisdom of our ancestors, keen talent, resourcefulness preserved their lives.

Until a certain refined form appeared, the Oghuznama existed in the ancient legends of the Oghuz people, in the language of the masters of artistic speech. They were the source for the creation of the earliest literary works in the world among the Oghuz people.

lidigini hem taryhy wakalar arkaly ikiyeňlenmezden tekarlaýarlar. Bu ýagdaý gadymy ösüşleriň rowaçlanan mekany bolan eziz Watanymyzda ata-babalarymyzyň döreden ruhy baýlyklarynyň gözbaşynyň mirasyň bu gymmatly baýlygyndajemlenendiginiň mysalydyr. Eýsem, olar bize gadym-gadym zamanlardan galan taryh we arhitektura ýadygärlikleri bilen bilelikde, şol eýýamlaryň ruhy ahwalyndan habar berýän gymmatlyklary hem galdyrypdyrlar. Dünýä edebiýatynyň taryhyndaky uly açyşlar, megerem, irki oguz dessanlaryndadyr. Hawa, heňňamlar gadymy oguz dessanlarynyň durkunda öz möhürini galdyrypdyr. Muňa garamazdan, bu eserlerde gadymy ogzuňkydygyny açyk aýan edýän wakalar, has irki ýordumlar belli bir yzygiderlilikde taryhyň sapagyna düzülýär.

“Oguz han” has irki oguz dessanydyr. Demriň önümçiliginiň taryhyndan habar berýän “Erhenokan” oguz dessanynyň ýaşy dört müň ýyl, “Alp Är Töňňe” iki müň ýedi ýüz ýyl, “Tumar şa” iki ýarym müň ýyl mundan owalky wakalaryň taryhyny çeper beýana salýar. Ine, şu eserleriň jemlenen edebi-estetiki taglymaty “Oguznamalarda” ýaşaýarlar. “Oguznamadaky” wakalaryň has gadymy gözbaşy bolsa, oguz dessanlaryndadyr. Onuň

To date, scholars have mentioned in their works a dozen epics created by the ancient Oghuz people. They repeat without hesitation through historical events that the era of the Oghuz epics belongs to the era of prehistoric times. This is an example of the fact that the sources of the spiritual wealth created by our ancestors in our beloved Motherland, the birthplace of ancient civilizations, are concentrated in this invaluable wealth of heritage. However, along with historical and architectural monuments left from ancient times they left us values that tell us about the spiritual state of those times. The great discoveries in the history of world literature are, perhaps, in the early Oghuz epics. Yes, life left its mark on the form of the ancient Oghuz epics. However, in these works, the events that clearly reveal their ancient Oghuz origin, the earlier stories are arranged in a certain sequence in the historical thread.

“Oghuz Khan” is an earlier Oghuz epic. The Oghuz epic “Erhenokan”, which tells about the history of the creation of iron, artistically describes the history of events four thousand years ago, “Alp Ar Tonge” – two thousand seven hundred years ago, and “Tumar Sha” – two and a half thou-roýy il-halkymyzyň şejere daragty-nyň gülleri bilen açylýar.

“Oguznamalaryň” gatlaryny agtaryp, eseriň tutuş türkmen ruhy bilen dem alýandygyna göz ýetirýärsiň.

Eserdäki “türkmen” diýen jümle kalbymda ezizligiň altyn başlaryny ygşyldadýar, owal-ahyr duýulmadyk bir täsin joşguny oýarýar. Desanyň içindäki türkmen ýer-ýurtatlary mähriban Diýarymyzyň her daban ýeri zere deňelýän künçleriniň adyny gadymy dünýäniň nusgalyk edebiyatynyň muşdaklaryna aýan etdi. Türkmen durmuşyna mahsus ençe alamatlar misli alysdaky hazynaly sandykda owal-ahyr syrlylyk hem gudrat bolup ýaşaýar.

Meşhur “Oguznamanyň” Berlin şäherinde saklanýan Ýazyjy ogly Alynyň nusgasyndaky “Bu zamanda tutuşlygyna türkmen atlandyrylýan oguz kowumy ýaly, her döwürde her taýpadan dürli uruglar peýda bolup, her biri bir sebäp bilen dürli at we lakama eýe boldular. Olar (oguzlar – türkmenler) gypjak, halaç, kaňly, garlyk we olara degişli beýleki taýpalara bölünýärler” diýen setirler ýaly il-halkymyzyň adynyň esere ýazylan ebediliginiň mysaly has kändir.

Bu gadymy mirasa eýe bolan mähriban halkymyzyň taryhynyň şöhratly ýazgylarynyň täze döwrü-

sand years ago. The accumulated literary and aesthetic teachings of these works live in the Oghuznamas. The most ancient source of the events in the Oghuznamas” is the Oghuz epics. It reveals the genealogical tree of our nation.

Turning the pages of the Oghuznamas, you understand that the work breathes with the entire Turkmen spirit.

The phrase “Turkmen” in the work makes my heart thrill with love, and awakens a strange and unprecedented excitement. The names of Turkmen states and places in the epic revealed to lovers of world classical literature the names of the corners of our beloved land. Many signs characteristic of Turkmen life live like a mystery and miracle in a treasure chest in a distant place.

In a copy of the famous Oghuznama written by Yazyjy ogly Ali, kept in Berlin, there are many more examples of the immortality of the name of our people in the work, such as the lines: “At this time, just like the Oghuz people, who were called Turkmen as a whole, different clans appeared from each tribe in each period, and each of them acquired different names and nicknames for a reason. They (Oghuz-Turkmen) are divided into Gypjak, miziň belent sepgitleri bilen baýlaşýandygyny hem buýsançly belleýäris. Şol baý mirasyň hak eýeleri hökmünde, ondaky çuňňur pähim-paýhasa mynasyp, öz geljegini gurmak biziň üçin derwaýslykdyr. Eseriň Ýazyjy ogly Aly tapyndan ýazylan nusgasyndan hem bu dessanyň ahyrynda türkmen halkynyň geljege miras galdyrmak, ynsanperwerlikli ýörelgelerine dowamat goýmak üçin döreden gymmatlygydygy aýan bolýar. “Ajamda, Arapda, Rumda we Şamda bar bolan tamam türkmenler olaryň nesillerindendir we bu ýigrimi dört boýuň oglanlaryndandyr” diýilýär. Ýa-da ýene bir mysal, “ýarysy sag gola we ýarysy sol gola bölünen Oguz oglanlaryndan ýaýran ýigrimi dört boýuň her biri şu wagtlar hem özüniň haýsy tireden we taýpadandygyny, boýunyň we aslynyň kimdigini bilýärler”.

Eposda Gün hanyň hökümdarlygy döwründe ýaňykentli Yrkyl hojanyň oňa ýakyn maslahatçy bolandygy hakynda aýdylýar. Yrkyl hoja hemişe Gün hanyň ýanynda bolup, oňa maslahat berýär. Yrkyl hoja oguz tagmalaryny we nyşanlaryny döredýär. Şonda her boýuň oňony hem belleniýär. Şonda “uýgun” sözünüň manysy açylýar. Uýgun – asyl köki “uýnukdan” “Oň bolsun!”, “Gutly bolsun!” many-Halach, Kangly, Garlyk and other tribes related to them.”

We are also proud to note that the glorious records of the history of our beloved people, possessing this ancient heritage, are being enriched with the high standards of our new era. As the rightful owners of that rich heritage, it is of utmost importance for us to build our own future worthy of its profound wisdom. The Berlin version of the work written by Yazyjy ogly Ali, shows at the end of this epic that this epic is a treasure created by the Turkmen people to leave a heritage for the future and continue their humane principles. It is said, “All Turkmens who exist in Ajam, Arab, Rum and Sham are their descendants and are from the sons of these twenty-four tribes.” Or another example, “each of the twenty-four tribes, which spread from the Oghuz boys, half of whom were divided into the right and half into the left, even today knows which tribe and clan they belong to, what is tribe and origin are.”

The epic tells about how Yrkyl Hoja from Yangykent was a close advisor to Gun khan during his rule. Yrkyl Hoja was always near Gun khan and gave him advice. Yrkyl Hoja created Oghuz symbols and emblems. Then the totem of larynda ulanylýar. Şeýlelikde, bir hakykat haýran galdyrýar. Her kowumyň uýguny, onuň oňony onuň durmuşynyňam şowlulygyny aňladýar. Çünki kanagatlylyk, ýagşy işe ynam etmek durmuşyň asylky manysydyr.

Eseriň şu nusgasynda Türküstanyň, Eýranyň, Turanyň Ogzuň häkimligindedigi belleniýär. Gorkut ata oguz kowumynyň danasy hökmünde hereket edýär. Ýene-de şol nusgada “Garagum – oňa Garagurum hem diýýärler” diýlip, Ýafesiň, ýagny Abulja hanyň hökmürowanlygyndaky mekanlardan söz açylýar. Ýöne Garaguma ýakyn ýerdäki Or dag we Kür dag sebitleriniň häzir nähili atlandyrylýandygy bolsa syrlydyr. Seljuklardan Ysraýylyň Soltan Mahmyt zerarly çeken jebirleri teswirlenende, onuň sargytlarynyň türkmenlere ýetirilmegi hakynda aýtmagy hem bu eserdäki wakalaryň esasy merkezinde türkmen halkynyň duranlygynyň diňe bir subutnamasydyr.

Eziz il-halkym!

“Oguznamalaryň” mazmunyndaky şeýle mysallardan diňe käbirini beýan edýärim. Eserde milli ruhy pelsepäniň özen nokadyny aňladýan timsallary, megerem, olardan hem köpdür. Çünki ruhy özen, galybyň özgermesine hiç myzaýyk etmez.

each tribe was established. Then the meaning of the word “uygun” is revealed. Uygun - from the root “uynukdan” is used in the meaning of “good luck!”, “congratulations”. Thus, one fact is amazing. The uygun of each tribe means its totem, the good fortune of its life. Because contentment, faith in good deeds is the true meaning of life.

In this version of the work, it is stated that Turkestan, Iran, Turan were under the rule of Oghuz. Gorkut Ata acts as a sage of the Oghuz people. Also in the same version, “Garagum – they also call it Garagurum”, which is the name of the places under the rule of Yafes, i.e. Abulja khan. But what the regions of Or and Kur mountains near the Garagum are called today remains a mystery. Commenting on the oppression that Israel from Seljuks was subjected to by Sultan Mahmyt, the fact that his orders were sent to the Turkmens is only proof that the Turkmen people are in the center of events in this work.

My dear people!

I am describing only a few such examples from the content of the Oghuznamas”. The work contains many more examples that express the core of national-spiritual philosophy. Because the spiritual core does not allow the body to change.

Eseriň Berlin nusgasynda “Saragt bilen Merwiň aralygynda bir sähra bardy” diýilse, Aşgabat nusgasynda “Oguz olary Garaguruma çenli kowdy” diýlip, bu gadymy sebitiň taryhynyň gatlary açylýar.

Aşgabat nusgasynda ýazyjynyň “Türkmenleriň garaýşy boýunça” diýip, kesgitli bir pikiri tassyklamagy-da, eseriň ýazylmagynyň esasy sebäpkärleriniň türkmenlerdigini ykrar edýär.

Ýene şol nusgadan mysallar: “Oguz Hyratda, Sarahsda we Baýgyrda mekan tutundy”, “Oguz ol dagdan ötüp, Amuýe suwuna ýetip, ondan geçip, Buhara sebitinde ýerleşýän Ýalňyz agaçada düşledi”. Amuýe suwunyň Amyderýadygy anyk. Gazan nusgasynda Oguz hanyň ogly weziri uýgurlardan bolan Yrgyl Hojanyň ogullaryndan dörän agyr we oýmakly iline Maňgyşlakda ýaşayan içki salyrdan bir kişiniň betnamlykdan gaçyp, Durunda oturan salyr iliniň içine gelenligi, olardan gyz alyp, şol ýerde mekan tutunanlygy hakynda habar berilýär.

Eseriň dürli nusgalaryndaky şeýle mysallar “Oguznamanyň” dünýä baýlygynyň aňyna, türkmen halkynyň edebiýatynyň baýlygynyň tekdarlaýar.

“Oguznamalar” pähimdar atababalarymyzyň döp-dessurlaryny,

If the Berlin version of the work says, “There was a desert between Saragt and Merv”, then the Ashgabat version says, “Oghuz drove them as far as Garagurum”, revealing the layers of the history of this ancient land.

The fact that the author affirms a certain opinion in the Ashgabat version, saying “from the point of view of the Turkmens”, also admits that the Turkmens were the main reason for writing the work.

More examples from the same version: “Oghuz settled in Hyrat, Sarahs and Baygyr”, “Oghuz passed that mountain, reached the Amuye River, crossed it and settled in Yalnyz Agach in the Bukhara region.” It is clear that the Amuye River is the Amyderya. The Gazan version tells that the son of Oghuz khan, escaping from disgrace of a man from the Ichki Salys living in Mangyshlak, who was descended from the sons of Yrgyl Hoja, the Uyghur vizier, and came to the Salys living in Durun, married a girl among them and settled there.

Such examples in different versions of the work confirm that the Oghuznama is a world treasure, the treasure of the literature of the Turkmen people.

The Oghuznama is a collection of small and large artistic-historical narratives that describe urp-adatlaryny, durmuş ahwallaryny, nesil dowamatyny, taryhyň dürli döwürlerinde nähili ýaşandyklaryny, ynam-ygtykatlaryny, gözellik babatdaky garaýyşlaryny, aň-paýhas derejesini, döwleti edara ediş tejribesini, batyrgaýlygyny, merdanalygyny beýan edýän ownukly-irli çeper-taryhy häsiýetli ýordumlardan hemaýatlar çemenidir.

Halkymyzyň häsiýetli aýratynlyklary uly bolmadyk hekaýatlaryň üsti bilen öz taryhy-estetiki beýanyna eýe bolupdyr. Ol hekaýatlar, gadymy oguz dessanlaryndan görnüşi ýaly, turuwbaşdan taryhy-çeper häsiýete geçipdir. Şoňa görä şol eserleriň mazmuny irki döwürleriň ta-our wise ancestors' customs, traditions, living conditions, generations, ways of their lives in different periods of history, their beliefs, views on beauty, level of wisdom, their experience in governing the state, their courage, and bravery.

The characteristic features of our people gained their historical and aesthetic expression through short stories. As it can be seen from the ancient Oghuz epics, these stories have acquired a historical and fiction character from the very beginning. Accordingly, the content of these works laid the foundation for the creation of historical works of early periods. They were read both as fiction and ryhy eserleriniň döremeginiň esasyňy goýupdyr. Olary hem çeper, hem taryhy hekaýatlar hökmünde okapdyrlar, olarda edebiýat bilen taryh birleşipdir, goşulýşypdyr we özboluşly bir ýazuw žanry kemala gelipdir. Olary irki döwürler edebi, taryhy hem-de edebi-taryhy çeşmelerde “Oguznama” diýlen umumy at bilen atlandyrypdyrlar. Ondaky ýordumlar wagt geçdigisaýyn öz ýaýrawyny giňeldipdir, mazmunyny has baýlaşdyrypdyr. Netijede bolsa, “Oguznamalaryň”, şeýle-de halkyň şejeresi hakynda ýazylan eserleriň döremeginde uly hyzmat eýe bolupdyr. Eser giň meşhurlyga eýe bolupdyr, “Oguznamalaryň” şöhraty Magrypdan Maşryga çenli baryp ýetýär.

Eseriň pars, arap dillerine terjime edilen nusgasy hakynda seljuklardan bolan Abu Bekir ibn Abdulla ibn Aýbek at-Dawadarynyň 1309-njy ýylda “Şöhratlylaryň taryhyndan dürler” atly seneler kitabynda ýazylypdyr. At-Dawadary şol kitapda asly türkmen bolan Buzurgmähir Bagtaganyň pars dilindäki bir kitabyňy ýatlapdyr. Ol kitap pars diline türkmen dilinden terjime edilen “Oguznamadyr”.

Oguz durmuşy bilen bagly wakalar has baýlaşýar, mahlasý, olar wagtyň ölçegi bilen has hümmetlenipdi. Şu ýagdaý hem türkmen historical stories, literature and history were combined and intertwined in them, and a unique writing genre was developed.

They were called by the general name “oghuznamah” in literary, historical, and literary-historical sources of early periods. Its narratives expanded their scope and enriched their content over time. As a result, they played a great role in the creation of the Oghuznamas” as well as works written about the genealogy of the people. The work gained wide popularity, and the fame of the Oghuznamas spread from the West to the East.

In a chronicle called “Excerpts from the History of the Famous” written in 1309 by Abu Bekir ibn Abdullah ibn Aybek at-Davadari from Seljuks, it was written about the version of the work translated into Persian and Arabic. In that book, at-Davadari mentioned a book in Persian by Buzurgmahir Bagtaga, Turkmen by birth. That book was Oghuznama”, which was translated from Turkmen into Persian.

The events related to the life of the Oghuz people became richer, in other words, they became more and more important with the passage of time. This situation also gave rise to the tradition of Oghuznama in the Turkmen literature, edebiýatynda gadymy ata-babalarymyzyň akyl-paýhas kesgiriligini, mertebe tuguny, zehin aýnasyny bahar gülleriniň nusgasy deýin, dürli öwüşginli gözellikde açyk görkezýän oguznamaçylyk däbini kemala getirdi. Munuň özi halkyň milli çeper pikiriniň gunçasyny güneş bolup açdy. Bu bolsa asyrlaryň ruhuna ganat beren ussatlaryň hyzmaty bilen münýýlyklary aşyp, XVIII asyr türkmen edebiýatynda Magtymguly Pyragynyň çeper aňynda ylahylygyň, ylmylygyň, halkylygyň ýiti şuglasyndan dörän poeziýanyň göz gamaşdyryjy älemgoşaryna öwrüldi.

Çünki älemgoşar mün röwüşlidir. Ondan könlüň küýsän reňkini tapmak bolýar. “Oguznamalaryň” hem mazmuny dürli jähetlerde beýan edilip, eser tutuşlygyna taryhdyr, şeýle-de bu ol edebiýatyň taýsyz gymmatlygydyr. “Oguznamalar” ata-babalarymyzyň has aňyrky arkalaryny açýan etniki çeşmedir, aňýetiň ösüş ahwalydyr, jemgyýetçilik-syýasy ösüşleriň ýagdaýyny göz önüne getirmäge mümkinçilik berýän maglumatlaryň ulgamydyr.

Alymlaryň aglabasy Oguz hanyň ýaşan döwrüni biziň eýýamymyzdan öňki III–II asyrlara degişli hasap edýärler, olaryň tassyklamagyna görä, Oguz han Hunlar döwwhich clearly reveals the wisdom of our ancient ancestors. This in itself opened the people’s national artistic thought. This, thanks to the services of masters who gave wings to the spirit of the centuries, has become a dazzling rainbow of poetry born from the sharp rays of divinity, science, and nationalism in the artistic mind of Magtymguly Pyragy in the 18th century Turkmen literature.

Because the rainbow has a thousand shades. In it you can find the color that your heart likes. The content of the Oghuznamas is also expressed in various aspects, the work represents history as a whole, and this work has a great literary value, and the Oghuznama” sis an ethnic source that reveals the distant ancestry of our ancestors, it is the state of development of consciousness, a system of information that allows us to visualize the state of socio-political developments.

Most scholars believe that Oghuz khan lived in the 3rd-2nd centuries BC, and according to them, Oghuz khan was one of the kings of the Huns. I believe that the fact that the Paris edition of the Oghuznama mentions the help of the blue wolf to Oghuz khan and it can also be seen in the ancient letiniň patysalaryndandyr. “Oguznamanyň” Pariž nusgasynda Oguz hana gök böriniň hemaýat etmegi hakyndaky ýordumyň gadymy hytaý hekaýatynda hem bolmagyna bu halklaryň geografik galtaşygynyň olaryň medeniýetindäki täsiri hökmünde garamak bolar diýip hasap edýärim.

Hunlaryň adynyň Amyderýanyň gadymy adynda gabat gelyändigini, hem ýöneligedir diýip bolmaz. Jeyhun, ýagny Seyhun, bu bolsa, seý – suw, şeýlelikde, “hunlaryň suwy” diýen manyny berýär. Hun sözüniň häzirki türkmen dilinde ulanylyşy işjeň däl hem bolsa, onuň nämäni aňladýandygy düşnükli. Bu ýerde many göçüminiň bolan bolmagy-da mümkin.

Miladydan öňki asyrlarda ýazylan taryh kitaplarynda hunlaryň taryhy hakynda birgiden maglumatlar bar. Biziň eýýamyzdan öňki IV asyrdan taryhy arena çykan arylaryň ahalteke bedewleriniň kemala gelmegindäki hyzmaty barasyndaky taryhy maglumatlar hem bize tanysdyr. Taryhy kitaplarda “Köpetdagiň demirgazyk gaýalary, sarmatlaryň we alanlaryň mirasdüşerleri – turanlylar – parfiýalylar we sarmatlar... Guzlar (oguzlar – türkmenler) özleriniň ýokary göterilişine başlaýarlar” diýlip ýazylypdyr. Munuň özi şol gadymy kowumla-

Chinese legend as an influence of the geographical proximity of these peoples on their culture.

It is not a coincidence that the name of the Huns coincides with the ancient name of the Amyderya River. Jeyhun, i.e. Seyhun, here seý – water, thus it means “water of the Huns”. Although the word Hun is not actively used in the modern Turkmen language, it is clear what it means. Perhaps, there was a shift in meaning here.

History books written in the centuries BC contain much of information about the history of the Huns. We are also familiar with historical information about the role of the Arys who entered the historical arena in the 4th century BC, in the formation of the Ahalteke horses. In the history books it is written, “The northern rocks of the Kopetdag, the descendants of the Sarmatians and Alans – Turanians – Parthians and Sarmatians ... The Guz (Oghuz-Turkmen) begin their rise.” I think it would not be wrong to say that this is a valuable source of information about the fact that these ancient peoples were Oghuzes, and they, in turn, were Turkmen. Therefore, it is possible to recognize the commonality of the original source of the Oghuz epics with the events of a much more ancient period. This is a treasure created by the people with the desire to pass on their ancient glory, reputation, and priceless heritage to the future.

It is difficult to determine the exact age of the earliest versions of the Oghuznama, which mainly tells about the events of the birth and life of Oghuz khan. It is possible that they were created earlier than those known to us today.

Each period in the documents about the history of Oghuz khan left its own political and cultural traces.

The Turkmen poet Sheydayi, who skillfully expressed the plot of the Oghuznama in a poetic hem irki nusgalarynyň döredilen bolmagy ähtimal.

Oguz hanyň taryhy hakyndaky namalarda her döwür özüniň syýasy-medeni alamatlaryny galdyrypdyr.

Kyrk şäherden hyraç aldy,
Oguz ili äleme doldy,
Çoh döwran geldi, sowuldy,
Hany onuň däbi-ýoly?

– diýip, şeýle haýhatly döwürleriň endişesi bilen dem alýar.

XI–XII asyrlardan başlap, oguznamaçylygyň ýordum görümi baýlaşypdyr. Öňki kiçi görümlü hekaýatlaryň ornuna uly “Oguznamalar” döräpdir. Asly Nusaýda ýaşan salyr türkmenlerinden bolan Salar Baba Gulaly ogyly Harydary 963-nji hijri ýylynda (1555–1556-njy milady ýyllary) Ürgenç hany Aly Soltanyň tabsyrygy boýunça ýazan “Taryh-e Salar Baba” (Salar Babanyň taryhy) atly tutumly işinde, Nurmuhammet Andalybyň “Oguznama” poemasynda giňişleýin işlenilipdir.

“Gorkut ata” kitabyňyň hem käte “Oguznama” diýlip atlandyrylmagy bu eseriň meşhurlygyny subut edýär. Oguznamaçylygyň hemme döwürde-de dowam edýändigini tebigy ýagdaýdyr. Oguz form, breathes with the anxiety of such difficult times, saying:

He took tribute from forty cities,
The Oghuz people became famous to the world,

Many eras have come and gone,
Where is its tradition and path?

Starting from the 11th-12th centuries, the scope of Oghuznama literature has been enriched. Instead of the previous small stories, large Oghuznamas were created. It was comprehensively developed by Salar Baba Gulaly ogyly Harydary, a Salyr Turkmen who originally lived in Nisa, in his work called “Taryh-e Salar Baba” (History of Salar Baba) in 963 AH (1555-1556 AD) by the order of Urgench khan Ali Soltan, and in the poem “Oghuznama” by Nurmuhammet Andalib.

The fact that “The Book of Gorkut Ata” is also sometimes called Oghuznama proves how popular this work is. It is natural that the tradition of the Oghuznama continues in all eras. There are also examples of Oghuz stories in Turkmen literature.

As writing Oghuznama has become a tradition, scientific research on the work has also become widespread. In Fazleale Reshideddin’s Oghuznama the idea that the Turkmen descended from twenty-four grandchildren hekaýatlarynyň türkmen edebiýatynda hem işlenilen nusgalary bardyr.

“Oguznama” ýazmagyň däbe öwrülişi ýaly, eseriň ylmy derňewi hem giňden ýaýbaňlandy. Fazlallah Reşideddiniň “Oguznamasynda” türkmenleriň Oguz hanyň alty oglundan bolan ýigrimi dört agtygynydan dörändigi baradaky pikir ünsden düşürilipdir. Bu ýagdaýy hem alymlar dürlüçe düşündirýärler. Pariž golýazmasyny öwrenijileriň pikirini jemläp, olaryň bu nusganyň XII asyra degişlidigi hakyndaky pikiri bilen hem ylalaşman bolmaz. Ýöne edebi nusga öwrenilende, nazara alynmaly bir ýagdaý bardyr. Edebi eseriň döwrüni anyklamakda dil özboluşlylygynyň ähmiýeti uludyr, ýöne onuň kesgitleýji netije bolmazlygy-da ähtimal. Sebäbi hem taryhy şertlere laýyklykda, diliň öz of the six sons of Oghuz khan was ignored. Scholars explain this situation in different ways. Summarizing the opinion of the scholars of the Paris manuscript, one cannot but agree with their opinion that this version belongs to the 12th century. However, when studying a literary version, there is one thing to be taken into account. Linguistic originality is of a great importance in determining the period of a literary work, but it may not be a decisive factor! Because, depending on historical conditions, it is also possible to preserve the fundamentals of the language’s structure without changing it.

As the name Oghuznama suggests, the Oghuz people are inextricably linked with the history of the Turkmen people. However, it is not appropriate to perceive literature as history. Because hisgurluşynyň düýp esaslaryny üýtgetmän saklamagy-da mümkin.

“Oguznamalar”, adyndan hem görnüşi ýaly, oguzlaryň – türkmenleriň taryhy bilen aýrylmaz baglanyşyklydyr. Ýöne edebiýaty taryh hökmünde kabul etmek hem göwnejaý däldir. Çünki taryhyň öz dili, many örki, beýan edilişi, öňe sürýän garaýyşlary bolýar. Taryh bir sözde ýatdyr. Ýada ýazylan ýazgylardyr. Edebiýat bolsa, duýgudan burk alýan bossandyr. Ondaky güleriň ysyny almak hem hoşwagtlykdyr. Taryhda ähmiýetli görülen wakanyň edebi eserde ünse alynmazlygy hem geň däldir. Edebiýatyň içki–ruhy kesgitleýiş aýratynlygy tory has its own language, meaning, description, and the views it puts forward. In a word, history is memory. These are written records. Literature, on the other hand, is a garden that is filled with emotions. It is also a pleasure to smell the flowers in it. It is not surprising that a significant event in history is not taken into account in a literary work. Literature has a self-determining character. It revives the national-spiritual philosophy of the people. Sheydayi said:

Dünýä baýlygynyň taýsyz nusgasy “Oguznama” döwürleriň çeper hakykatyny ertire aşyran köprüdir.

Halkymyzyň bu hazynasynyň ýalkymy owal-ahyr ölçmezdir.

Who put your gown on you inside out,

Who receives a diamond spending everything,

What tailor sewed it inside out

If you know it, tell us truth, hey, Ashyk Myrat.

– such lines are the poet’s demand for a correct approach to history.

The Oghuznama is a work that goes beyond the scope of previous experiences in world literature. Therefore, today’s scientific research confirms that scholars are going to add something new to the traditions of studying the Oghuznama in this direction.

The Oghuznama is a world treasure, this treasure is record of the united fate of our people. I believe that the inspiration of today’s happiness and the bright rays of tomorrow’s bright days shine in that record of fate.

An unparalleled example of world treasure, Oghuznama is a bridge that connects the artistic truth of the times with tomorrow.

The flame of this treasure of our people will never fade.

The wealth that never ends in the world is spiritual wealth.

The essence of meaning lies in reaching the essence of the spiritual origin. There is no sweet dish in this world like learning and knowledge. A person learns throughout his whole life: he lives trying to master life, wisdom, science, and habit. It is the main condition for ensuring a purposeful life. A person who is very skillful in his profession accumulates experience; his profession is needed by everyone. But he spends his life learning to maintain one and the same state of his existence. Sometimes the desire to learn is stronger than the desire to eat and drink, it captures all your attention. But learning never caused harm to anybody. The Turkmen people say: “First learn a trade and then you can hate it.” I think that the second part of the sentence concerns things whose fulfillment is not necessary, it is not necessary to say about their fulfillment for several times, because your knowledge is your wealth. If you like, you can conceal it, if you like, you can make it known. Do not let your wish to share what you know turn things that you learned with diligence into something useless. Our great poet Magtymguly develops this idea in the following way, “If you serve in an ungrateful place, your work will be unwelcomed. Realizing the existence of what you know, value of wealth is also wealth.

Even if you realized that openness of what you have learned will be useful for you not today, but in some other time, just calm down and act. It is possible that we won’t be immediately recognized as a politician, architect, teacher, science... But it is necessary for every citizen to be able to understand the importance of his time. When I read the works of the scientists of the ancient times, sometimes I think about the following things. Khorezmi, Biruny, ibn Sina, Farabi, Omar Khayyam are great personalities who felt the spirit of their time in every aspect, and on the basis of this, they directly participated in the formation of their wisdom, I dream of understanding the secrets of their multifaceted science. Our ancestors, who said that it is harder to become a man than becoming a scientist, called “wise men” these great personali-

Munuň özüni men “ruhuň tebigy ösüşi”, “sap logika” diýýän ýaly jümlelerde teswirlärdim. Gündogaryň dünýä belli akyldarlarynyň şöhratlanan döwründe mirasymyzyň olaryň ruhy daýanjynyň sütüni bolandygyna ynanyýaryn.

Mirasyň haýsynyň ir, haýsynyň ondan gijräk dörändigini anyk kesgitlemede beýan etmegiň öz çylşyrymlylyklary bar. Onuň nämeden beýle bolýandygyny her kesem belli bir derejede aňlaýandyr.

“Oguznamalar” bilen tanşanyňdan, şeýle-de gadymy edebiýatymyza bagyşlanan ylmy işleri okanyňdan soň, bu pikiriň has-da berçinlenýär.

Göräýmäge, ýygy-ýygydan ylmy jemgyýetçilige öz işlerini mälim edip durmasalaram, haýsy alymyň nähili pikiri ösdürmäge meýil edýänligi aýdyňdyr. Häzirki döwürde biz alymlaryň düýpli ylmy işleri alyp barmaklary üçin mümkin bolan ähli şertleri döretmegimizi dowam etdirýäris. Çünki ylmyň ýeten beýikliklerinden many almak juda kyn iş. Ylmy özleşdirmek hem ony ýañadan janlandyryp, jemgyýetçilige ýetirmek-hä ondanam kyndyr. Gadymy edebiýat boýunça göz-ties, and these wise men managed to stand the test of centuries, they revealed its truth; and this amazes me, it makes me think. And so, I admit first that they were famous for their ability to draw meaning from thought. I would describe it in terms like “the natural development of the soul,” “pure logic”. I believe that during the glorification of the world-famous philosophers of the East, our heritage was the pillar of their spiritual support.

Determining exactly which inheritance is early to appear and which is late has its own complexities. Everyone understands to some extent the reason of it.

After reading “Oghuznama” and the scientific works devoted to our ancient literature, this idea becomes even stronger. Even if scientists don’t often demonstrate their works to the scientific community, but it is clear which scientist tries to develop what thought. At present, we continue to create all possible conditions for scientists to conduct fundamental scientific work. Because it is very difficult to make sense of the heights achieved by science. Mastering science, its reviving and spreading it in the society is more difficult. In my investigation on ancient literature, I came across the works of several scientists. In particular, I found inleglerimde alymlaryň birnäçesiniň işleri bilen ýüzbe-ýüz boldum. Aýratyn hem, görnükli türkmen alymy S. Atanyýazowyň, D. Nuralyýewiň, A. Bekmyradowyň, şeýle hem döwürdeş alymlarymyzdan A. Aşyrowyň, R. Godarowyň, B. Taganowyň, A. Şyhnepesowyň we ýene birnäçeleriň ylmy makalalaryndan täsin pikirleri tapdym. Şol işler maňa edebi mirasymyz hakyndaky pikirlerimi jemlemäge ýardam berdi.

Indi “Oguznamalar” dogrusynda. “Hakyda aýdyňlygy” diýenimde, men manysyndan dür saçylyan şu eseri göz önünde tutýaryn. Bu edebi ýadygärligiň baş sany nusgasyňy pikir eleginden geçirmegiň özüme miýesser edenligini hem aýdaýyn. Eseri asyl nusgasyndaky manysyndan türkmençe aňlap bolýandygyny tassyk edýärim. Ýazgylaryň agyr okalýandygyna garamazdan, ondan many alyp bolýar. Şonuň üçinem häzirki zaman diline geçirip okanyň has ýeňil. Sebäbi şol bir söz wagtyň geçmegi bilen özüniň ses galybyny saklasada, manysyny özgerdýär ýa-da şol sözüň manysy öňkiniň tersine bolup biler. Sözlere doly düşünmeseň, olaryň manysy-da, şeýlelikde, dogry çözenilmeýär. Edebi eserlere düşünmek üçin bolsa, diňe dili köptaraplaýyn anyk bilmek däl, interesting ideas in the scientific articles of the prominent Turkmen scientists S. Ataniyazov, D. Nuraliyev, A. Bekmyradov, as well as our contemporary scientists A. Ashyrov, R. Godarov, B. Taganov, A. Shykhnepesov and several others. Those works helped me to gather my thoughts about our literary heritage.

Now I would like to tell about “Oghuznamas”. When I say “Clarity of memory”, I refer to this work which is full of deep meaning. Let me also say that I had an opportunity to review five copies of this literary monument. I confirm that the work can be understood in the Turkmen language from its original meaning. Although the records are difficult to read, their meaning can be understood. Therefore, it is easier to transform it into the modern language and to read it. Because even though the same word keeps its sound pattern over time, it changes its meaning or the meaning of the same word can be the opposite of what it was before. If you do not fully understand the words, then their meaning is not properly understood. In order to understand the literary works, it is necessary not only to know the language in many aspects, but also to study the spiritual world of the writer of that time or, more precisely, to feel it.

eýsem, şol döwrüň, ýazyjynyň ruhy dünýäsini öwrenmeli ýa has anygy ony duýmaly.

Ilki bilen, eseriň dünýäniň in gadymy şäherleriniň biri bolan Parižde saklanylýan nusgasy hakynda gürrüň etmekçi. “Oguznamalarda” Ogzuň sypatlandyrylyşyna aýratyn ünsi çekesim gelýär.

“Her egninde düýe çökeribermeli”, “alny Ahal meýdany”, “synasy dik at ýaly”... diýlip suratlandyrylan gahrymanlaryň halkyň aňyna merdanalygyň, pähimliligiň alamyty bolup ornanlygy hakykatdyr. Pariž nusgasynda hem ýazyjy bu gahrymanyň keşbini çekmäge aýratyn üns berýär. Wakalar, esasan,

First, I want to talk about the copy of the work kept in Paris, one of the oldest cities in the world. I would like to attract special attention to the way of describing Oghuz in “Oghuznamas”.

It is true that the heroes who are described by the words “His each shoulder is very wide and strong”, “his forehead is as broad as the field of Akhal”, “His body is as strong and beautiful as body of a horse”... are engraved on memory of the people as a symbol of bravery and wisdom. In the Paris version of the work, the author pays special attention to the description of the image of this hero. The story begins mainly Ogzuň dünýä inmeginiň beýan edilmeginen başlanýar. Ogzuň üýtgeşik owadan, nurana perzent bolandygy aýdylýar. Şol nusgada “Aý kaganyň gözi aýdyň boldy” diýip, ýazyjy bu wakany eseriň başynda okyja buşlaýar. Bu at “Oguznamanyň” beýleki nusgalarynda getirilmeyär. “Aý kagan” diýlip, Ogzuň enesi dogrusynda gürrüň edilýär, Aý ene külli oguz enesi hasap edilýär.

Eserde zenan keşpleriniň o diýen açylmanlygy hem syýasy-durmuş sebäpleri bilen baglanyşyklydyr.

“Oguznamalar”, esasan, Ogzuň özi hakyndaky söhbetlerden ybarat. Ogzuň daşky keşbini, onuň durmuşynyň in wajyp pursatlaryny beýan etmekde “gök” reňke gaýta salgylanylýar. “Oşol ogulnyň öňlügeni-çyraýy gök erdi. Agzy ataş dek gyzyl erdi. Gözleri al, saçlary, gaşlary gara erdi. Ýagşy perilerden görklüräk erdi” diýlip suratlandyrylýar. Berlin şäherinde saklanýan nusgada: “Ol örän päk we görklüdi” diýlip, bir ýaşa ýeten Ogzuň üýtgeşik nuranaja oglandygy hakynda aýdylýar. Onuň görkanalygy atasyny haýran galdyrýar.

“Oguznamalara” Ogza pälwanlyk sypatyny bermek mahsusdyr. “Aýagy öküz aýagy dek. Billeri böri billeri dek, ýagyrynysy samyr ýagyrynysy” diýlip, Ogzuň with the description of the birth of Oghuz. It is told that Oghuz was especially beautiful and pleasant child. In this copy, in the beginning of this work the writer tells good news concerning this event to the readers and says: “Ay kagan became very happy”. This name is not mentioned in other copies of “Oghuznama”. Mentioning the name “Ay kagan”, the author tells about Oghuz’s mother, Ay mother is considered to be a mother of all Oghuzes.

Insufficient description of the female characters in the work is also related to political and social reasons.

“Oghuznamas” mainly consists of stories about Oghuz himself. The author often refers to “blue” color in the description of Oghuz’s appearance and the most important moments of his life. He is described in the following way: “Face of this boy was blue. His lips were as red as fire. His eyes are bright red, his hair and eyebrows are black. He was more handsome than beautiful fairies”. In the copy kept in Berlin, it is noted: “He was very open-hearted and handsome” and it is told that one-year-old Oghuz was a very nice boy. His attractiveness impressed his father.

It is peculiar to describe bravery of Oghuz in “Oghuznamas”. It is nysy dek, döşi aýy döşi dek erdi” diýlip, Ogzuň pälwan sypaty suratlandyrylýar. Ogzuň atasy Gara han: “Biziň urugymyzdan beýle keşpli we beýle syratly ogul dünýä inmändi. Bu oglan özüniň deň-duşlarynyň we egindeşleriniň arasynda olardan uly we beýik bolar, kämilik mertebelerine ýeter” diýip, täze doglan oglan hakynda pikir edýär...

XVI asyr türkmen alymy Salar Baba Gulaly ogly Salar Harydarynyň ýazan, Aşgabatda saklanýan nusgasynda bu waka şeýle teswirlenilýär: “Bir ýyldan soň atasy onda beýiklik we asylzadalyk alamatyny görüp, owadanlygyna we husny-jemalyna haýran bolup:

–Hergiz biziň kowum we urugymyzda munuň ýaly päkize we hup-surat ogul dogulmandy – diýdi” .

Daşky keşbiniň alamatlary Ogzuň beýik ykbaly hakyndaky pikirleri işjeňleşdirýär.

mentioned: “His legs are the legs of a bull, his waist was like a waist of a wolf, his back was like a back of beaver, his chest was like a chest of a bear ” and Oghuz’s strong figure is described in this way. Oghuz’s father Gara khan thought about the new-born boy: “Our family has never had such a handsome and nice boy. This boy will be great and superior among his peers and companions, he will reach perfection” ...

This event is described in a copy written by Salar Harydary, son of Salar Baba Gulaly, the 16th-century Turkmen scholar and kept in Ashgabat: “A year later, his father saw in him a sign of greatness and nobility, admiring his beauty and grace, he said:

– Never was such a pure and handsome son born in our clan and family .

In the copy of “Oghuznama” in Kazan city, the author specially noted that Oghuz was a very handsome boy. It was told in it: “Gara khan had a son from his eldest wife. His beauty was more than that of the moon and sun “ and the signs of his unusualness began to be revealed.

Signs of appearance consolidate thoughts about the great destiny of Oghuz.

Indeed, description of appearance is of great importance in the description of inner beauty and a great destiny.

Our ancestors dreamed of learning about the future of their child if they saw any unusual sign in the newborn. I would say that in our early literature we can find many examples of learning about his character from the face of a person. I know that the prominent Turkmen scientist Zamakhshary has done a lot of work in this field. Therefore, Zamakhshary's works are a valuable resource not only for the linguists and writers, but also for scientists, who study a human mind, and doctors.

In general, description of appearance is a weapon most frequently used by a writer in literature. Image of a hero comes to the writer's imagination along with his character. I have witnessed it many times. Do you see how the Turkmen destan writers skillfully create a new image in their imagination in the process of describing appearance of Gorogly or those who are in love with each other and express it in beautiful phrases?! Immediately, it will appear a desire in you to see the image described by the bagshy or writer with your own eyes. The creative person lives with them, creating and describing them in his imagination. Therefore, each destan narrator has his own method, way of telling it. Inky keşbine ünsi çekmek ýazyjynyň elden gelmeýän edebi usuly bolup durýar. Belli türkmen şahyry Nurmuhamet Andalybyň ýazan “Oguznamasynda” Ogzuň hüý-häsiýeti Magtymguly akyldaryň şygylaryndaky mertlik hem namartlyk garaýşlarynyň gapma-garşylygynyda açylýar. Ogzuň batyr, il-halkyna ýaraýan merdanalygy görkezilýär. Şahyr Ogzuň söweş hereketlerine aýratyn ähmiýet berýär. Bu bolsa, onuň jemgyýetçilik aňynyň talaplarýndan gelip çykýan döwrebap garaýşlary arkaly düşündirilip bilner.

“Oguznamalaryň” XVIII asyr türkmen şahyry tarapyndan ýazylan nusgasy hakynda özbaşyna aýratyn söhbet edilmelidir. Şahyryň “Oguznamasynyň” nähili maksada gulluk edýänligine düşünmek üçin, ilki Andalybyň edebi-çeperçilik dünýäsinden üşükl bolunmagy lazým. Andalybyň türkmen şahyry hökümünde milli jemgyýetçiligiň, umuman, edebiýatyň önündäki hyzmatlary nämeden ybarat?! deed, first of all, attraction of the reader’s attention to the appearance of a hero is a literary method which is always in the focus of a writer’s attention. In “Oghuznama” written by the famous Turkmen poet Nurmuhamet Andalyp, Oghuz’s character is revealed in the contrast of courage and cowardice described in the poems of the great thinker Magtymguly. It is shown that Oghuz is a brave man, who is loved by his people. The poet attached special importance to the military actions of Oghuz. This can be explained through his modern views, which arise from the demands of social consciousness.

By describing the people surrounding him in the events of the novel, the writer also reinforces his relationship with the faith he follows.

The copy of “Oghuznamas” written by the 18th century Turkmen poet should be especially mentioned. In order to understand the purpose of the poet’s “Oghuznama”, it is necessary to first understand the literary world of Andalyp. What are the services of Andalyp as a Turkmen poet to the national society and literature in general?! As the saying goes, the “salinity of sea water” can be determined by just a single drop of it. It is possible to understand poetic peculiarities of the poet from his poems without deep and full analysis of his creativity. The reason is that something unique attracts and is special like a precious stone. It is visible to a man “who has eyes”. It determines value and gives it to a man, who wants to understand the meaning. First of all, a poet has many thoughts which are described in the form of the poems. A reader who is familiar with the ghazal composition of Eastern literature will immediately remember how harmonious it is and what intonation it has. Andalyp is a talented writer who can add some novelty to this way of poem composing. Those were the times when the Turkic-speaking poets wrote their works in the language common to all these languages! Along with Andalyp, other poets noted that the mother tongue is no less important than any other language in expressing meaning, and were concerned about the closeness of the people’s literary heritage to the national spirit of the people. Türkmen şahyrlary, umuman, ýüregiňi doly açmak üçin, öz örküne – milli ruhuňa daýanmagyň zerurdygyny zynharlapdyrlar. Andalyp:

Magtymgulynyň döwrüne çenli bu mesele doly kesgitlenilmedigem bolsa, özge dilde ýazmaga ene diliň hyzmatyna kembaha garalmagy diýlip dogry netije çykarylýdyr. Her bir halkyň diliniň onuň ruhy halydygyny şahyrlar ilkinji bolup duýupdyrlar.

XVIII asyrdan türkmen şahyry Magtymgulynyň milli şahyr hökmünde ykrar edilmegi dünýä edebiýaty üçinem entek doly açylmadyk täzelikdir.

Şahyryň gürrüňini edýän hatynyň ogzuň ýigrimi dört agtygyna degişli bolan tagmalarydygy hakyndaky pikirler aýdyldy. Ýöne Oguz döwrüni, Ogzuň şahsyýetini takyk kesgitlemek gutarnykly mesele dälmi kä diýýärin. Meniň okan kitaplarymda özara ugurdaş, şeýle-de düýbünden başga netijä gelinýän pikirlerem bar. Oguz ýörelgeleri kitaba ýazylmady, gaýtam ýazylmadyk kanun bolup durmuşa ornady. Ol halkyň ruhy gurbatynyň tebigy ýagdaýyna laýyk ýaşady, özgerdi.

until the time of Magtymguly, it was rightly concluded that writing in a foreign language is considered to be underestimating of the services of the mother tongue. The poets were the first to feel that a language of each nation is the description of its spiritual state.

Recognition of the Turkmen poet Magtymguly as a national poet in the 18th century is a novelty that has not yet been fully discovered for world literature.

The Turkmen poets, in general, have noted the need to rely on one's spirit - the national spirit in order to fully open one's heart. Andalyp noted:

– I composed melodies for my Turkic friends,

I thought that they would understand it in my praying.

In his poem “Beautiful twenty-five” Sheydayy regretted for the loss of ancient Oghuz writing. Opinions were expressed that the writing the poet is talking about is related to the brands belonging to twenty-four grandsons of Oghuz. But I think that the exact determination of the Oghuz period and the personality of Oghuz is not the main problem. In the books I have read, I have ideas that are similar to each other and come to completely different conclusions. Because there is no a book

Oguz ýörelgeleri halkyň medeniýetinde, dilinde onuň özüne öwürülip, tymsal bolup galyberdi.

Eýsem, XVIII asyr türkmen şahyry Andalybyň Ogzuň gahrymançylykly ýörişlerine şan berip suratlandyrmagy-da, onuň döwrebap ýörelgelere eýermek pikirlerinde esaslandyrylýar.

Andalybyň döwri berkarar türkmen döwletini gurmak arzuwlarynyň ahmyrdan jigere tyg urýan mahallarydy. Kalpda il-halka baş bolup, döwleti dolandyryjak batyr hakynda arzuwlar bardy. Öz döwrüniň, ýagny milli ruhy nukdaý-nazardan, öňdebaryjy pikirlerini, halka ertir nämeleriň derwaýys boljagyny, ilki bilen, il içinden iň zehinli, ýiti adamlar aňlaýarlar. Andalybam şolaryň biridir. in which doctrines of Oghuz khan are collected. Although, all the early religions established their specific doctrine and promoted it through their book.

Oghuz principles were not written down in the book, they were implemented as an unwritten law. It lived and changed in accordance with the natural state of the people's spiritual strength.

Thus, Oghuz principles passed many centuries.

The wise men of all ages have felt the spirit of the Motherland, and lived with the concern of what should be the spiritual food of those times. Oghuz principles turned into culture and language of a nation, it became a legend.

The 18th century Turkmen poet Andalyp's glorious description of Oghuz's heroic marches is based on his ideas of following modern principles.

The epoch of Andalyp was a time when the dreams of building a strong Turkmen state didn't come true. In the heart, there were dreams of a hero who would be the head of the state and rule the country. The most talented and wise people of the country first understand the leading ideas of their time, that is, from the national and spiritual point of view, and what will be urgent for the Şahyryň şygyr düzülişiniň kämil galyplaryna täzelik girizýän ýagdaýlary bir ýa iki däl. Ýöne täze ýasalan “şygyr galybynyň” sepini aňjak gümanaň ýok. Şahyryň ussatlygy Gündogaryň juda çeper sazlaşyk-daky, özboluşly intonasiýaly çeperçilik galybyny özünde döredip bilýänliginde. people tomorrow. Andalyp is one of them. His artistic heritage illuminates more sharply. The fluency of his poems, his unique artistic style, has an inimitable elegance, like a piece of art created by the hands of a master. The more you read his poems the more you want to reread them.

– Prophet Jacob, I have good news for you.

Have you seen your dear son?

His name is Joseph, the whole world loves him,

Have you seen him?

He had so many sufferings, he wrote a letter and sent it to you,

He suffered because of the hardships,

He asked you to remember him,

Have you seen your remedy?

I think that anyone who understands poetry should admire the artistic spirit of these lines. The same talent was also demonstrated by the poet in “Oghuznama”. For many times the poet introduced novelties to the way of poem composing. But it is impossible to understand the new form of “poem composing”! Talent of the poet lies in his ability to create original artistic form with its special harmony and intonation of the Orient! He once again creates a perfect form, enriches it and gives it

Türkmende “Bagtly bol” diýmezden öňinçä, “Gutly bolsun” diýilýändir. “Gut” – “bagt” şol manydaky sözler. Ine, şujagaz “sözlüge” seredip, “Gorkudam” “bagtyň gory” diýip teswirlenilmeýi dogrudyr. Ine, şol Gorkut ýaly türkmen jemgyýeti üçin taýsyz ähmiýetli işleri durmuşa geçiren şahsyýet üçin (onuň şahsyýetligi barada ylmy jemgyýetçilikde köp pikirler aýdylypdy) bu at jaýba-jaýdyr. Now let’s consider the second aspect which can be met in our “Oghuz-namas”. In the work one more aspect which is in the focus of the writers’ attention is the events related to naming of Oghuz. The work itself does not give information about the origin of Oghuz’s name. It is told that this name was given to him by Oghuz himself and this idea is considered to be a final decision. But naming a person in our ancient traditions is a very serious matter! Let’s think about events in “Gorkut” epoch. Firstly, let’s talk about the word “Gorkut”. “Gor” – the meaning of this word is revealed in the notion of “gorkuyze” (a jug in which chal (beverage made out of camel’s milk) is kept). An attentive reader will understand that I don’t express my thoughts related to the root of this word for the first time. “Kut” means “happiness”. May be, you remember that Rabguzy’s work “Kutadgu bilik” is explained as “Education that makes happy”. Before saying “Be happy”, the Turkmen people say “Gutly bolsun”. “Gut” and “happiness” are words of the same meaning. So, looking in this small “dictionary”, it would be correct, if the word “Gorkut” will be explained as “stock of happiness”. For a perpaý iş däldir. Hut şol zerarly hem çaknyşyklaryň bolandygyna taryh şaýatdyr. Gorkut ata oguz ýörelgeleriniň halkyň täze ynam-ygtykatlaryna siňip gitmeginde elinden gelenini gaýgyrmadyk şahsyýet. Ol obama-oba aýlanyp, gadymdan gelyän we döwrüň özüniň tebigy akymynda dörän ýörelgeleriň utgaşyklylygyny gazanýar. Şonuň üçinem, has takygyny aýtsak, oguz ýörelgeleriniň ýaşamagynda bu şahsyýetiň özi mizemez köpri bolýar. Şeýdibem ynanç-ygtykatlar ynsanperwerlik meýilleriniň akabasynda özara ylalaşykly ýaşaýşyny dowam edýärler. Gorkut atanyň bu işine gahrymançylyk diýip bolar. Gorkudyň şahsyýeti şular dogrusynda oýlananyňda, has-da belende galýar. Oglana at dakmagyň synagynyň esasynda ilin ýaşulusy Gorkut oglanyň gazanan adyny oňlaýar. Ogza at dakmakda hem şol ýörelgä eýerilýändigini dessandan aňyp bolýar. Il-halk oglana at dakmak üçin ýygnaňşýarlar. Ýöne oglan öz adynyň “Oguz” bolmalydygyny köpçülige aýan edýär. Dessanyň Pariž nusgasynda Ogzuň adynyň dakylşy hakyndaky wakalar getirilmeýär. Umuman, bu nusgada Oguz erteki gahrymany ýaly suratlandyrylýar. Bu göçürijiniň Ogzuň türk halklaryň durmuşyndaky syýasy-jemgyýetçilik, taryhy hyzmatyndan son like Gorkut, who carried out extremely important works for the Turkmen society (many opinions were expressed about his personality in the scientific community), this name is a good one. Now it will be appropriate to express my thoughts on some of the great services of Gorkut. Every society goes through intellectual revolutions. You will not easily find a society that doesn't change and lives by the same rules. The reason for this, I note once again, is related to the constant theory of motion of the universe. It is not an easy task to establish harmony of wisdom between generations here. History is witness to the fact that there have been conflicts because of that. Gorkut is a person who did his best to instill the principles of Oghuz into the new beliefs of the people. He wanders from village to village, reaching the harmony of ancient principles and the principles that have arisen in the natural flow of time. Therefore, to be more concrete, this personality serves as a bridge in the process of confirmation of Oghuz principles. Thus, faiths continue to live harmoniously in the flow of humanistic tendencies. We may say that this work of Gorkut ata is heroism. Gorkut's personality is even more remarkable when we think about it. Based on the test of naming the boy, the village elder Gorkut confirms the boy’s name which he deserved. It can be understood from the destan that the same principle is followed in naming of Oghuz. The people gather to name the boy. But the boy says to the people that his name should be “Oghuz”.

The events related to naming of Oghuz are not described in the Parisian copy of this work. In general, in this copy Oghuz is described as a hero of the fairy tale. I think that this is due to the fact that the copyist was not sufficiently aware of the political-social, historical service of Oghuz in the life of Turkic peoples.
Influence of ancient Greek mythology can be felt in the work. In fact,
I reject the idea that even the oldest works of Turkmen literature are connected with myths. Because, to my mind, our people are not people who believed in myths and imaginative feelings. I believe that this opinion will be supported by the experts in literature. Each hero who occupies a special place in the content of the works of folklore is the unity with his people. With the help of historical proofs, the scientists recognize the idea that Gorogly was Togrul sultan. The geographical names given in the works also demonstrate that historical fate of the people is reflected in the Turk-ogul enesiniň göwsünden owuz (süýdüni) içip, mundan artygrak içmedi. Çig et, aş, sürme, diledi, dile gelip başlady” diýilýär. Elbetde, göçürijä Ogzuň özüniňkilerden tapawutly, täze ynanja eýerýändigine dykgat etmek derwaýys bolan däl. Bu nusgada Ogzuň edermenligi Kiýat diýlip atlandyrylýan bir hyýaly jandar bilen söweşi arkaly ýuwaş-ýuwaşdan açylmaga başlaýar. Ol ýeriniň tebigatynyň hem tokaýlyk, jeňňellik, derýalyk, çeşmelik ýerdigi okyjynyň hyýalynda owadan suratlary janlandyrýar. Beýleki dört: Berlin, Aşgabat, Gazan hem-de Andalybyň ýazan nusgasynda tebigatyň suratlandyrylyşynda anyk ýer-ýurt atlary we sosial-ykdysady şertler aýdyň görkezilýär. Şondan hem göçürijiniň halk içindäki bu hekaýatlara yhlasly gatnaşygynyň bardygy görünýär. Şeýle hem Pariž şäherinde saklanýan “Oguznamadan” beýleki “Oguznamalarda” ýazyjy wakalary özüçe baýlaşdyryp, wagt, giňişlik taýdan ygtyýarlylygyny giňeldýär. Ýazyjynyň “Oguznamanyň” geljekki nesillere ýetmeginde öz şahsy borjuna dahyllylygam eserlerden duýulýar. Pariž nusgasyndaky “Onuň şekili uşbu turar. men destans. The heroes of destans fall in love with some beautiful woman living in the remote places, they look for her, riding a horse and they make friends with the people of other countries; all this is the description of the fact that our ancestors went on marches to the different parts of the world. Such examples attract your attention by its impressiveness, when you acquaint yourself with Turkmen literature.

In “Oghuznamas” it is revealed in the relations of Oghuz with this mother that he has new beliefs. But in the Parisian copy of this book, this situation has been neglected. It is told: “That son sucked the first milk from his mother’s breast, but then he didn’t suck it. He asked to give him fresh meat, noodle soup, surme, he began to talk”. Of course, it was not important for the copyist to pay attention to the fact that Oghuz began to follow a new belief, which differed from his own belief. In this copy, bravery of Oghuz is gradually manifested, it is demonstrated in his battle with some imaginative creature called Kiyat. It appears beautiful pictures of the nature of that place, forests, jungles, rivers and springs in the reader’s imagination. In the other four: Berlin, Ashgabat, Kazan, and Andalyp’s copy, specific geographical names and sojähetini güýçlendirýär. Bu nusga-da Ogzuň doglandaky we soň ýigit çykanyndaky ýagdaýlar özboluşly beýan edilse-de, umuman, Oguz durmuşy bilen bagly diňe esasy maglumatlar esere girizilipdir. Ogzuň häsiýetleriniň hyýalylaşdyrylyp berilmegi dessanyň täsirliliğini ýokarlandyrýar. Oguz gelip obanyň mal-garasyna ulukjyn berýän Kiyat bilen söweşýär. Özüniň il içinde ýagşy at almaga mynasyp batyr pälwanlygyny subut edeninden soň, oňa geljekki ýaran edinmeli hemrasy görüňýär. Ogza Asmandan inen şöhläniň içinden bir gyz görüňýär. Oguz taglymatyny aýdyňlaşdyrmakda dessanyň käbir bölekleri daş ýazgylar ýaly belenip alynmaly: “Gökden bir gök şöhle indi. Günden nurlurak, aýdan arýrak erdi. Oguz kagan onuň ýanyna ýöredi, gördi kim, uşbu şöhläniň içinde bir gyz bar erdi. Ýalňyz oturar erdi. Ýagşy görkli bir gyz erdi. Onuň başynda köz dek nurly bir meňi bar erdi, altyn gazyk dek erdi. Oşol gyz andak görklüg erdi, gülse, Gök Taňry güle turar, ýyglassa, Gök Taňry ýyglaýa turar. Oguz kagan ony gördük-de özi galmady, gitdi, söýdi, aldy.”

cio-economic conditions are clearly shown in the description of nature. From this it appears that the copyist has a sincere interest in these folk tales. Except in “Oghuznama” which is kept in Paris, in other “Oghuznamas” the writer enriches the events and expands the notions of time and space. The author’s personal responsibility to pass “Oghuznama” to the future generations can be felt in the works. In the Parisian copy, the examples: “This was the form of it (picture of a bull is drawn)”, “He tied a bull with a branch of a tree and went” strengthen the national peculiarities of the work. Although the circumstances of Oghuz’s birth and becoming adult are described in the peculiar way in this book, only the main information related to Oghuz life is included in the work. Imaginative description of Oghuz’s character increases effectiveness of the destan. Oghuz struggles against Kiyat, which doesn’t give a moment’s peace to the cattle of the village. After proving the fact that he is a brave man who deserves to have a good name, he has a vision of a girl, who will be his life’s companion. In the ray that fell from the sky Oghuz has a vision of a girl. In clarifying the Oghuz doctrine, some parts of the text should be noted like stone inscriptions: “One ray fell from the Nusgada Ogzuň meýil eden zennalary hyýaly ahwallarda oňa duşýarlar. Türkmen halk döredijilik žanrlarynda peri sypat, melekler çalymdaş gyzlar Ogza ýaran bolýarlar. Pariž nusgasynda hem Ogzuň bu dünýädaki dowamatyna şarik-deşi Zemin maşgalasy däl. Bu gönüden-göni Asman ynanjy bilen baglanyşykly alnan tymsaldyr. Gahrymançylykly ýörişleri şowly amala aşyrmakda gök böri Ogzy oňa ugrukdyryjdyr. Şol döwürlerde türkmen halkyna gurt gaýraty ýaran boldy. Halkymyzyň milli ruhy aýratynlyklarynyň kemala gelmeginiň esaslary şeýdip goýuldy. Häzirki döwürde hem edermenlik sypatlaryny gurda meňzetmek türkmen ruhy aňlaýşyna mahsusdyr. sky. It was more beautiful than sun and moon. Oghuz kagan went to it, he saw that there was a girl. She was alone. She was beautiful. She had a crown which was illuminating like fir, it was golden. That girl was so beautiful, when she laughed, Sky laughed, if she cried, Sky cried. When Oghuz kagan saw her, he fell in love with her, he went to her and married her”.

“When dawn came, one ray fell into Oghuz kagan’s house. One hairy large wolf came out of that ray. That wolf began to talk with Oghuz kagan. It said: “Hey, hey, Oghuz, you are trying to attack Urum. Hey, hey, I will be walking in front of Oghuz people”.

In the copy, the women whom Oghuz liked meet with him in the imaginative situations. The girls, resembling fairies, angels who are described in the genres of the Turkmen folklore become his companions. In the Parisian copy, Oghuz’s life companion is not a creature of this Universe. It is a legend which is straightly related to the belief in Sky. Blue wolf is a creature, directing Oghuz in his successful military marches. In those times, strength of wolf became the supporter of the Turkmen people. Thus, the national and spiritual features of our people formed. At present, comparbeýanyňa dilçilik nukdaýnazarýndan hem täzelik diýmek bolar. Oguz özüniň maşgala jübütini tapmak üçin, alys ýol geçmeýär. Gelinlikler onuň ýakynynda bolmasa-da, olar, has türkmençeläniňde, onuň alnyndan çykýan nesibesi – ykbalynyň oňa sowgady bolup durýar. Ine, Oguz ýörişe ugraýar. Mundan gaýry wakalar şeýle: “Bir köl arasynda alnyndan bir ýygach gördi. Bu ýygajyň gabuçagynda, bir gyz bar erdi, ýalňyz oturar erdi. Ýagşy görkli bir gyz erdi. Onuň gözi gökden gögräk erdi, onuň saçy mören suwy dek, onuň dişi hünji dek erdi. Andak görkli erdi kim, (ol) ýeriň il-güni ony görse: “Aý, aý, ah, ah, öler biz” diýip, süýt-den gymyz bola tutarlar. Oguz kagan ony gördükde özi(nden) gitdi, ýüregine atas düşdi, ony söýdi, aldy”. Bu nusgada pikiriň beýan edilişi ertekilerdäki ýaly täsirli. Ýazyjy çeperçilik serişdelerinden juda ezber peýdalanýar. Ýazgylardaky käbir jümleleri gaýta-gaýta okaýarsyň. Oguzň zenanynyň tarypynyň sözlenilýän ýeri, şol döwrüň durmuş-ykdysady häsiýetlendirilmesiniň alamatlary arkaly, aýdyňlykdaky pikirleriňe hyýaly joşgun berýär. Şol pursatda türkmen durmuşynyň milli ruhy keşbiniň tebigy özgeriş hadysasyny duýmakdan köňül bahar pyntygyny ýarýar.

ison of the characteristic features of bravery with a wolf is peculiar to the spiritual mind of the Turkmen people. The plots about Oghuz's generations are fully described in the copy kept in the capital city of France. The girl who came from the ray in the Sky gives Oghuz “Children of the Sky”: Ay (Moon), Gun (Sun), Yldyz (Star). The story continues with the event in which Oghuz marries for the second time. The words are also insufficient to glorify beauty of this girl. From the linguistic point of view, the artistic description of the writer can be called a novelty. Oghuz doesn't travel long distance for finding his life's companion. Brides don't live near him, to express it using the Turkmen traditions, they are his destinies – they are gifts of his fate. So, Oghuz goes on the march. The following events are described in this way: “He saw one tree growing near one lake. One girl was in the hollow of this tree trunk, she was alone. She was a beautiful girl. Her eyes were bluer than the Sky, her hair was like sea water, her teeth were like pearl. She was so beautiful, that the people of that place were saying: “Ay, ay, ah, ah, we are ready to die because of her beauty” and they admired her beauty. When Oghuz kagan saw her, he lost his mind, fire of love was burning in his heart, he Häzirki zaman türkmen dilinde bu jümleleriň eşidilişini hyýala salyp görýärsiň: “Onuň gözelligine haýran galmakdan ýaña, olar süýtlükden uýap, gatyga öwrülipdiler...”. Nähili täsin! Dogrusy şeýle meňzetmeler näsypaýyrak ýaly görünse-de, manysy ýüregiňe jünk bolýar. Dilde bolsa, şolar ýaly manysyny sazlap, pikiri beýan etmekde iş bar! Özi-de bu “men owadan galypda, çeper mazmunda sözläýin” diýeniň bilen akar ýaly lum-murdamayar. Sözleriň lummurdy-sy, ýürekdäki heserden! Onsoňam, zehin, akyl-paýhas babatda hem ýokary derejelilik lazým. Ýönekeý närselerem köňül gözi bilen many ýaýlagynda ähmiýetli esaslylygyny äşgär edýärler.

Pariž nusgasynda Ogzuň ýörişleriniň parahatçylyk söýüjilikli maksatlar bilen amala aşyrylandygy eseriň mazmunyna siňdirlipdir. Oguz ata atlansa-da, asuda durmuşa zeper ýetirmek meýlinden daşdadyr. Bu ýerde türkmen durmuşynyň döwrüň maddy we ruhy talaplaryna laýyklykda baýlaşandygyny eseriň tutuş ruhy aýan edýär: “Men sizlere boldum kagan, alalyň ýaý, dagy galkan, tagma bize bolsun buýan, gök böri bolsungyl uran, demir jyzalar bol orman, aw ýerde ýörisin gulan, dagy umman, dagy mören, Gün tug bolsun, gök fell in love with her and married her”. Expression of thought in this copy is as interesting as that of in the fairy tales. The writer skillfully uses artistic means. You read some phrases given in the record several times. The place, where beauty of Oghuz’s wife is mentioned through the signs of the socio-economic characteristics of that time, gives an imaginative boost to your vivid thoughts. At that moment, feeling of the phenomenon of natural transformation of the national-spiritual image of the Turkmen life inspires a soul.

You try to imagine sounding of these phrases in modern Turkmen: “They were so amazed by her beauty, that they lost their mind, their milk turned into kefir”. How interesting! Although such similes may seem impolite, the meaning is very close to your heart. And in language, there is a hard work to adjust the meaning and express the thought! And it is not an easy work “to express your thoughts in a beautiful form, to talk in artistic content”. The flow of words is related to the sufferings of a heart! And talent, wisdom should be on a high level. Even simple things show their importance while looking to their meaning by your soul.

In the Parisian copy, the fact that Oghuz’s marches were carried gorugan” Oguz hanyň şu sözleri islendik döwürde hem asuda durmuşa söýginiň ykrarçysydyr.

Oguz hanyň syýasaty zamanyň heňnamynyň sesidir.

Edebiýatlardan belli bolşy ýaly, şol döwürlerde durmuş-ykdysady zerurlyk ýitileşýär. Fiziki güýçlüligiň çarwa hem çomry durmuşynyň berkemegindäki ähmiýetliligi ýüze çykýar. Şonuň bilen birlikde hem, akyl-paýhas, zehin bilen yn-san tebigatynyň mümkinçilikleri açylýar. Hut şu aýratynlyk hem Ogzuň hökmürowanlygynyň tebigy häsiýetini äşgär edýär. Oguz zamanynda topragyň rysgaly bolardy.

Ogzuň erkliligi giň, ol nirä barsa, şol ýerde hem öz taglymatlarynyň ynsanperwerlik hyzmatyna bil baglady. Şonuň üçinem onuň sözi ýürege barýan, kalba ýazylýan ötgür sözlerdi.

“Oguznamanyň” şu nusgasyndaky “saklap”, “gypjak”, “garlyk”, “galaç”, “kaňga” diýen ýaly täze barlan ýerlere dakylan atlaryň emele gelşiniň düşündirişi nusgalaryň beýlekilerinde hem gabat gelýär. Bu nusgada gök böriniň keşbi juda ýatda galyjy, ýazyjy onuň Ogzuň ejizlän pursatlarynda haýdan-haý ýetişýändigini begençli habar berýär. Söweş hereketleri çylşyrymlaşdygyça, böriniň hemaýatçylyk missiýasy güýçlenýär. Ogzuň taglymatyny çar out with peaceful purposes is embedded in the content of the work. When Oghuz mounts a horse, he is not inclined to harm the peaceful life. Here, the whole spirit of the work reveals that the Turkmen life was enriched according to the material and spiritual requirements of the time. “I became your kagan, let’s take bow, shield, may brand be our sign, may blue wolf be our companion, we have many iron spears, may onagers graze in the fields, may mountains, ocean, seas be peaceful, may Sun be our home, may our Sky be peaceful ” – these words of Oghuz khan are the sign of love for peaceful life in all times.

Policy of Oghuz khan is a voice of the epoch.

As is known from literature, social and economic needs become acute during those times. The importance of physical strength in the development of animal and human life is revealed. At the same time, the potential of human nature opens up with intelligence and talent. This peculiarity reveals the natural character of a ruler in Oghuz. In the times of Oghuz wealth of a land increased.

Will of Oghuz is strong, and wherever he goes, he relies on the humanitarian service of his teachings. That’s why his words were the ýanda rowaçlandyrmakda böri gahrymanyň hemişelik goldawçysydyr. Bu nusgada Ogzuň öňünde goýan maksatlaryny üstünlikli durmuşa geçirmeginde Ulug Törük diýen keşp hem hereket edýär. Onuň ady eseriň ahylarynda getirilýär. Ol “sowatly, parasatly bir är erdi, (özi-de) düýş ýorujy erdi” diýlip, folklor eserlerine häsiýetli galypda, täsirli beýan edilýär. Ine, Ogzuň şol geňeşdary hem bir düýş görýär. Düýşüň kesgitleýjilik orny türkmen durmuşyna nätanyş däldir. Ine, onuň oraşan görenleri hem Ogzuň miras hakyndaky pikirleriniň akylly-başly çözülmegine sebäp bolýar. Oguz ýer-ýurduny il-ulsuna deň üleşdirmegiň mütdeiniň gelendigini oýuna getirýär. Şondan soň bozoklar we üçoklar atlarynyň gelip çykyşy çözülenilýän wakalara orun berilýär. Mälim bolşy ýaly, eseriň beýleki nusgalarynda Ogza mirasyny üleşdirmegiň iň amatly ýoluny salgy bermekde anyk bir gahrymanyň hyzmaty açylyp görkezilýär.

“Oguznamanyň” Pariž nusgasynda Oguz hanyň aýdan sözleri sygyrda berlipdir. Bu bolsa nusganyň şahyrana ruhuna laýyk gelýär. Eseriň ahylarynda Ogzuň öz ulsuna aýdanlaryny dolulygyna mysal getirmekçi:

impressive words that went to the heart and were written in the soul.

The explanation of the formation of names attached to newly discovered places such as “saklap”, “gypjak”, “garlyk”, “galach”, “kangga” in this copy of the “Oguznama” can be found in other copies as well. The image of the blue wolf in this version is very memorable, and the author happily informs that he helps Oghuz in the moments of his weakness. As military actions become more complex, assistance of a wolf strengthens more and more. It is a constant supporter of the hero in spreading the teachings of Oghuz around the world. In this version, the image of Ulug Toruk occupies a special place in the successful achievement of the goal set by Oghuz. He was “educated, wise man and he could interpret dreams”, it is effectively described in the form characteristic of folklore works. And this advisor of Oghuz saw one dream. The defining role of dream is well-known in the Turkmen life. What he saw in his dream very clearly also led to a wise resolution of Oghuz’s thoughts on inheritance. Oghuz realizes that the time has come to distribute Oghuz land equally to his people. After that, events are described to solve the origin of the names bozoks and uchoks. As is known, in

Uruşgylar köp men gördüm,
 Jyza birle köp ok atdym,
 Aýgyr birle köp ýöridim,
 Duşmanlary ýyglagurdym,
 Dostlarymy men güldürdim,
 Gök Taňryga men ötedim,
 Senlerge beremen ýurdum”

“Oguznamanyň” Pariž nusgasynyň çeperçilik aýratynlyklaryny öwrenmegi dowam etdirmeli diýen pikirim bar. Bu eser esasynda Ogzuň hakyky gylyk-häsiýetini, asylky keşbini has giňden açmak mümkin.

Oguz hakyndaky hekaýatlar hemişe-de halkymyzyň milli ruhy aňýetine, pähim-paýhasyna çuňňur düşünmegiň giň ýazlagydyr diýip ynanýaryn. Bu eseriň nusgalarynyň mazmun babatdaky tapawutlylygy hem, “Oguznamalaryň” nesilleriň estetiki-paýhas garaýyşlarynyň milli esaslarynyň jemlenmeginde örän ähmiýetlidir.

XI asyrdaky Mahmyt Kaşgarly bu eserdäki ýordumlaryň käbir ýerlerini halk arasyndan toplaý, öz sözlüğine girizipdir. Edebiýatyň taryhy oguznamaçylygyň türk dilinde XIV – XV asyrlardan başlap rowaçlanandygyny tassyklaýar. XV asyrdaky bu ýordumy türk taryhçysy Ýazyjy oğly Aly türk dilinde işleýär. Häzir bu nusga, bilşimiz ýaly, Germaniýanyň merkezi şäheri Berlinda saklanýar. Bu nusgada atlaryň tapawutly alnan other copies of the work, the service of a specific character is revealed in suggesting the best way to distribute Oghuz’s heritage. In the Parisian copy of “Oghuznama”, the words told by Oghuz khan are given in the poem. And it demonstrates poetic spirit of the copy. I would like to give a full example of the words told by Oghuz to his people at the end of the work:

“Hey, (sons), I travelled many times,

I participated in many wars,

I shot arrows many times,

I went on many marches with my men,

I made the enemies cry,

I made my friends laugh,

If I passed away and went to Heaven,

I won’t give my land to you.”

I think that we should continue to study artistic features of the Parisian copy of “Oghuznama”. On the basis of this work, it is possible to reveal Oghuz’s true character and original image more broadly.

I believe that the stories about Oghuz is always a good source for deep understanding the national and spiritual mind, wisdom of our people. The difference in the content of the copies of this work is also very important in summarizing the national foundations of the aesthet-

Şeýle mysallaryň hatary, eseriň nusgalarynyň tapawutly bolşy ýaly, uzaýar. Berlin nusgasy göwrüm taýdan hem Pariž nusgasyndan tapawutlydyr. Gazan nusgasynda wakalar has uly taryhy döwri öz içine alýar. Ýazyjy hekaýatlarynda ýaşaýşyň iň irki döreýiş basgançaklaryny ünsden düşürmändir. Külli Ýaradylyşyň ynsan hakydasyndaky sahypalary açylýar. Wakalara ýazyjynyň özi syn ediji bolup gatnaşýar. Anyk bir mesele dogrusyndaky pikirlerini hem garaýýşlaryny okyja ýetirýär.

Berlin nusgasynda gadymy gürüňler gysgaldylyp teswirlenilýär. “Adam ata alaýhyssalama How enäni jübüt edip, “We besse minhümä rijälen kesirän we nisä” aýatyna laýyklykda ikisiniň neslini Ýer ýüzüne ýaýdy.

Nuh alaýhyssalam öz ogullaryndan Ýafesiň zürýatlaryna Türküstan yklymyny ýer-ýurt edip berdi. Olar ol ýerde köpeliş, ondan çykyp, beýleki yklymlara hem patyşa bolup, jeň we söweş ederler” diýip, ýazyjy eseriň taryhy ýazgylara salgylanýandygyny mälim edýär. Taryhy zamanlaryň syýasy we ykdysady taýdan rowaçlygy geografik ic and intellectual views of the generations of “Oghuznamas”.

In the 11th century, Mahmyt Kashgarly collected some parts of the plots from this work and included them in his dictionary. The history of literature confirms that traditions of writing Oghuznama flourished in the Turkic language starting from the 14th-15th centuries. In the 15th century, the Turkish historian Yazyjy oglu Aly works on this plot in the Turkish language. Now this copy, as we know, is kept in Berlin, the central city of Germany. The names are differently described in this copy. “Duyp Bakuy” given in the Kazan copy is found in the form of “Duyp Takuy” in this copy, “Yaparyly” given in the copy of Yazyjy ogly Aly is found in the form of “Yafar” in the Kazan copy. The list of such examples increases as the copies of the work are different. The Berlin version is also different in size from the Parisian version. In the Kazan version, the events include a larger historical period. In his stories, the writer did not ignore the earliest stages of occurrence of life. The pages of the Whole Creation are opened to a man. The writer himself participates in the events as an observer. He gives the reader his thoughts and opinions on a specific issue.

aýratynlyklaryň jemgyýetçilik ösüşlerindäki orny arkaly açylýar. Eser gadymy kowumlaryň ýaşan ýerleriniň tebigatynyň hojalygynyň ýöriteleşen ugurlarynyň pajarlamagynyň ähmiýetliligine ünsi çekýär. Oguz ýaýlalarynyň ykdysady-geografik häsiýetnamasy ýazyjynyň beýan ediş ussatlygyny, çuňňur sowatlylygyny subut edýär.

Berlin, Aşgabat we Gazan nusgalary Pariž hem-de görnükli türkmen şahyry Andalybyň döredijiliginde işlenilen nusgadan wakalaryň uly taryhy döwri öz içine alýanlygy, olardaky ýordumlaryň dünýä edebiýatynyň gadymy döwrüne degişli Adam ata, häzire deňeç gelip-geçen aýratyn gudratly diýlip ykrar edilen Taňry wekilleriniň taryhy baradaky irki edebiýatlaryň, köne kitaplaryň mazmunyna meňzeş hekaýatlaryň okyja ýetirilýändigini bilen tapawutlanýar. Ýazyjy ogly Alynyň taýýarlan nusgasynda mukaddes Gurhanyň aýatlary arkaly aýdyljak bolunýan pikiriniň mazmunyny güýçlendirmegiň göwnējaý usuly ýüze çykarylýar. “Çarwa türki kowumlaryň atларыnyň gysgaça beýany” bölümünde anyk maglumatlardan ýazyjynyň öz garaýyşларыnyň esasynda beýan etmesi has güýçlüdir. In the Berlin version, the ancient stories are commented on in a shortened form. “He made Eve Adam’s life companion and in accordance with the ayat “We besse minhümä rijälen kesirän we nisä”, he spread their generations all over the world.

Prophet Noah gave the lands of Turkistan to the generations of his son Yafes. They settled there, then they went to other places, they became the kings of those places and fought in the battles”, the author gives this information and shows that the work refers to the historical records. The political and economic prosperity of historical times is revealed through the role of geographical features in social developments. The work emphasizes the importance of the nature of the places inhabited by the ancient societies in the development of specialized areas of the economy. The economic and geographic characteristics of the Oghuz lands prove the author’s descriptive skill and deep literacy.

The Berlin, Ashgabat and Kazan versions differ from the Parisian version and the version developed in the creativity of the prominent Turkmen poet Andalyp by the fact that events include the large historical period of time, the plots given in them describe the events belonging to the ancient times of world literature related to Adam, early literature of the representatives of God who were recognized for their special miraculous features and lived till the present time, the stories which are similar to the contents of the old books and all this information is given to a reader. In the copy prepared by Yazyjy oglu Aly, a reasonable method of strengthening the content of the thought to be expressed through the ayats of the Holy Quran is revealed. In the chapter “Summary of the names of Nomadic Turkic communities”, the author’s statement based on his own views is stronger than the specific information. Without referring to specific comments related to the work, the writer tries to give the reader an idea about the Oghuz communities and their history based on general views. In the work, stories about the historical fate of Oghuz communities are given on the high intellectual, spiritual and aesthetic bases. This is enough proof to understand that the copyist is a person capable of enriching the social mind of the epoch to which he addresses.

Şunuň özi göçürijiniň öz ýüzlenýän zamanasynyň jemgyýetçilik aňyny baýlaşdyrmaga ukyply şahsyýetdigini aňlamaga ýeterlik subutnamadyr.

Berlin nusgasynda “sag gol” hem “çep gol” hakynda aýratyn bölümçeler getirilýär. Soňra “birinji gol” we “ikinji gol” diýen aýry bölümçeler bar.

Gadym hekaýatlaryň özboluşlylygy olaryň hyýaly-mistiki häsiýetde bolman, anyk taryhy maglumatlaryň beýany hökmünde jemlenilmegidir. Bu köne hekaýatlar hakyda bilenem, milli ruhy dünýä ornaşyp hem, nesilleri birek-biregine ýakynlaşdyrmakda bahasyz gymmatlykdyr. Ine, şol gadymy gürrüňleri atadan oğla, oguldan hem geljege aşyrmak her bir nesliň öz önündäki borjy bolup durýar. Hut şonuň üçinem “Oguznamalardaky” ýordumlar halkymyza ozaldan hem tanyşdyr ýa-da olaryň mazmuny milli ruhy aňlaýyşyň derejesine laýyk bolup, bu eserdäki mirasyň almaz ýaly ýiti pähim-paýhas şuglalary köňlüň ylhamy eýlenen in ýakymly duýgularyny oýarýar.

Separate chapters about “right tributary” and “left tributary” are described in the Berlin version. Then there are separate chapters “the first

The originality of the ancient stories is that they are not fantastic and mystical in their nature, but are compiled as a description of specific historical data. These old stories are closely connected with memory, their national spirit is instilled in the world and they are invaluable in bringing the generations closer to each other. It is the duty of each generation to pass those ancient stories from father to son and from son to future generations. Therefore, the plots of “Oghuznamas” are known to our people beginning from the earlier times; their content conforms with the level of national and spiritual understanding, the wise ideas skillfully described in this work arouse the most pleasant feelings in the reader.

In the Berlin version, to make the work more effective, at the end of some chapters, the conclusion is given in the verses. In the Parisian version the end of the work is concluded by the poems; in the version of Yazyjy oglu Aly the verses given at the end of the stories about a concrete historical epochs described in the chapters “Story about sultans of the Seljuk generation”, “Story about the great sultan Abutalyp Togrul

Çünki munuň aslyýetiniň tebigata bolan gatnaşykdan başlanýandygynyň beýanyny “Gadamy batly bedew”, “Arşyň nepisligi” diýen işlerimde saňa mälim edipdim. Söz bilen ynsana täsir etmek kyn. “Oguznamalaryň” nusgalary eseriň ýazylan döwürlerine laýyklykda üýtgändir diýip aýtmak mümkin. Çünki her döwür öz “Oguznamasyny” şol döwriň taryhy wakalary bilen baýlaşdyrýar. Muňa garamazdan, meşhur eseriň nusgalarynyň göçürijiler tarapyndan hem ýoýlan bolmagy ahmal.

– If he gives a bowl of wine with good intentions,

He will turn it into a poison .

These lines reminded me two lines from ancient Turkmen literature which kept in my mind from early times:

– The world is like a snake, a man who loves it is a snake hunter,

But one day a snake bites a snake hunter.

In general, spirit of ancient Turkmen literature can be felt in the whole content of the work. In the version of Yazyjy oglu Aly and Kazan version of the work, twenty-four clans and brands of Oghuz’s generations are fully described. In the copy prepared by Salar Baba Gulaly’s son, this information is not formalized, the writer tells it in his own language. It is necessary to note that this version differs by its artistic features. I believe that the historical content of the stories of Oghuz generations means that the narrator has deeply studied the spiritual heritage of the past ancestors. There is no pretentiousness in the entire description of the work. In order to preserve the essence of spiritual wealth in the future, the Oghuz stories are based on the principle found in experience of the impor-

By saying this, my dear people, I want to say that the freedom of human feelings is naturally connected with the principles of unity and statehood. Because I explained to you that the originality of this begins from the relationship with nature in my works “Swift Step of the Horse Racer” and “Heavenly Beauty”. It is difficult to influence a man by means of a word. Because the organ of speech is one, the organs of hearing is two, you can understand the meaning of it. In order for the word to be told by the heart and to come to the heart, it must enter into the harmony of wisdom.

It can be said that the copies of the “Oghuznamas” have changed according to the periods in which the work was written. Because each era enriches its “Oghuznama” with the historical events of that era. However, copies of the famous work may also have been distorted by copyists. Perhaps, more important events have been missed. It is because of the possibility of this situation that it should be careful in conveying the historical content of the inscriptions.

In the Paris version, Oghuz’s words are in the form of poetry. The request for uncooked meat and drink of Oghuz from his birth indicates that the work is an earlier version. Therefore, we do not deny the idea that this copy was written earlier. However, fantastic events of this copy should be considered as time-tested developments.

It is talked about the geographical location of the peoples of the world in the Berlin copy of the work. According to the conditions of nature, it is said about the ways of living. In the unit “A Brief List of Nomad-type clans”, “All of these are described in Oghuznama”, the author reports about the rich content of Oghuznama written before him.

Telling which works describe the Oghuz branch, the author abbreviates this branch and describes it by himself. However, in one place of the epic, the author expresses the idea that the branches originally went back to two people who went to Erkinе Kuna (Ergenokana), and “Ergenokan” reveals the connection between the origin of the ancient Oghuz destan and the Oghuz clans. In this copy, in the chapter “Historical stories of Oghuz clans”, it is mentioned that twenty-four clans originated from Oghuz. In this version, there is information that the Turkic descents started from Yafes, the son of Noah. Also, it is said in the work that “the Turkic people call Yafes as Abulja khan”. According to the Ýazyjy Oguz wesýetlerini “Ýene-de aýdypdyr” diýen sözler bilen yzygiderlikde beýan edýär. Gündogar edebiýatyna mahsus eseriň içinde hekaýat gürrüň bermek usulyna ýüzlenilýär. opinion of scholars, it is possible that Abulja khan’s name is related to the Balkan mountain and there was a place called Balkan in that region.

Later events in the work are about Duyp Takuy, the son of Abulja khan, and Gara khan, Oghuz’s grandfather, is one of his four sons. The stories about Oghuz’s birth and the legends about asking his wives to worship the God have also been fully revealed. Then the success of Oghuz’s marches is described. In the stories about the origin of the names of the Oghuz clans, the ideas that reveal the etymology of the words “uygur”, “kanly”, “gypjak”, “garlyk”, “halach” do not differ from those of other examples. It is said that after Oghuz’s coming to Maverannahr, Iran, they were called “Turkmen”, that is, “like Turks”. “That’s why this name was applied to all Oghuz tribes and they became famous with that name,” the author explains clearly. But our thoughts on the matter are not final. We are going to talk about these more detailed.

In Berlin copy of the work “By giving advice Oghuz’s establishment of prosperity, morality and character, stories and wise words said from his blessed tongue” enriches the content of the chapter: The writer expresses that Oghuz said his advice

Bu wakalar seljuk neberesiniň anyk taryhydyr. Mahmyt soltan bilen Söbüktegin ylalaşyk baglaşýarlar. Söbüktegininiň aýdanlarynyň esasynda Mahmyt seljuklara garşy çäre gözlemäge başlaýar. Seljuk begi Ysraýyl oňa:

– Bizde ikilik ýokdur – diýýär. Onuň bilinde üç oky, elinde ýaýy bar. Onuň her oky goşunlaryň kesgitli sanynyň kömege ýetişjekdigiň alamaty. Ilki ok göndersen, ýüz müň atly, ol ýeterlik bolmasa, Balkan dagyna ok göndersen, ýüz elli müň atly, üçünji okdan soň bolsa, onuň iki ýüz atlynyň kömege gelmäge alamatdygyny eşiden Mahmyt Ysraýyla al salýar. “Again”. In a work typical of Oriental literature, the method of storytelling is referred to. The story is told to strengthen the Oghuz orders. The story of Anushirwan Adyln is told in it. “Anushirvan died as a cruel. One of the people saw in his dream that Anushirva was sitting peacefully in a strange place and asked:

“How did you reach to this level?

He said:

– I did not show mercy to guilty person. I did not hurt the innocent.”

In this copy of the Oghuznama, in the chapter “Story about sultans of the Seljuk generation”, the leader of the clans of all tribes of Oghuz is mentioned as Seljuk ibn Lukman ibn Dakak. The eldest of his four sons is Israel, who is said to be the eighth descendant of Kay Hysrow. These events are the definitive history of the Seljuk dynasty. Mahmyt sultan and Sobuktegin concluded an agreement. Based on Sobukteg’s statements, Mahmyt begins to seek action against the Seljuks. Seljuk Beg Israel said to him:

“We are not unfaithful,” he says. He has three arrows in his waist and a bow in his hand. Each arrow is a sign that a certain number of troops will come to help. It is the sign that if you send the first arrow, one hundred thousand horsemen, if that is not enough, if you send an arrow to –Eý, türkmen, bu Allanyň halyny näme edersiň? – diýip sorayar.

–Näme et diýseň ederin – diýip, soltan parasat bilen, piriň geňesine köňül berýär. Pir oňa mukaddes kitabyň aýatyny aýdýar: “Hakykatdan-da, Allatagala adyllygy we yhsany emr edýändir”.

–Älemiň patşalygyny şunuň kiçi eliňde goýduk – diýip, pir soltanyň eline kündüginini berýär.

Soltanyň goşunlarynyň duşmana gaýtawul berşiniň gahrymançylykly beýany sözlenilýär: “Bu wakalar ýüreklere täsir etdi. Patşalyk berkarar we jahan tabyn boldy”. Togrul beg hem Oguz han ýaly gardaşynyň eline bir ok berip, ony syndyrmagy buýurýar. Şeýlelikde hem, eseriň beýanynda Oguz hanyň jebislik, agzybirlik ýörelgeleri has berkidilýär. Togrul beg:

men nation. He advised to be unconquerable. Then poems were recited. Thus, the work is read more sweetly, like a song.

The history of the states built by the Seljuk begs after the Dandanakan battle in 1040 is told in the work. Although it is possible that mistakes were made in the precise description of historical dates, “The Seljuk state developed day by day and became powerful state. The sign of the kingdom appeared in these circumstances. “The ray of fortune shined on their foreheads” the events are described very effectively.

A chapter of the work is devoted to the famous Seljuk beg, “Story about the great sultan Abutalyp Togrul beg”. Togrul Beg heard about the pirs and went on foot with his vizier Abu Nasir to see them. He kissed their hands. Then Baba Tahyr pir asked him:

– Oh, Turkmen, what will you do with this people of Allah? – he asks.

– I will do what you order, said the sultan wisely, supporting the idea of pir. Pir tells him the ayat of the holy book: “In reality, the Almighty commands honesty and charity.”

– We put the kingdom of the world in your hands, he said, and eýelenmez, duşman üstün bolup, soltanlyk elimizden gider – diýýär.

“Oguznamanyň” şu nusgasyndaky “Soň dört ýüz segsen ýedinji hijri ýylynda Bagdadyň münberlerinde Togrul begiň adyna hutba okamagy boýurdy. Onuň adyny zikgede nagys etdiler hem-de Soltan Rikneddöwle Abu Talyp Togrul beg Muhammet ibn Mikayyl Ýemineddöwle lakamyny berdiler” diýilmegi seljuk soltanlarynyň tükeniksiz uly şöhratynyň soňlanmaz taryhydyr. Bu beýanyň ahyrynda hem beýt söýlenilýär.

“Oguznamanyň” XVI asyr türkmen alymy Salar Baba Gulaly ogyly Salar Haradarynyň ýazan, Aşgabatda saklanýan nusgasynyň mazmuny “Ogzuň, nebereleriniň, tabynlarynyň we beýleki türküleriniň taryhy” diýen bölüm bilen başlanylýar. Bu nusgada Nuhuň ogyly Ýafese Uljaý han lakamy berildi diýilýär. Görnüşi ýaly, Ýafesiň ady hem nusgalarda dürli şekilde ulanylýar. Bu ýagdaý edebi nusgalarda sözüň şekilinde hem many gurluşynda bolýjak çaprazlyklaryň düýpli derňelmelidigini aýan edýär. Elbetde, türk halklaryň dillerindäki aýratynlyklar bu umumy taryhy beýan etmekde kynçylyk döredendir. Şeýle-de bolsa, hut türkmen halkynyň taryhynyň wajyp pursatlary, halkyň pir gives the kunduk into the hands of the sultan.

A heroic description of the repulse of the Sultan’s troops against the enemy is mentioned: “These events touched hearts. The kingdom is established and the world is subjected”. Togrul Beg, gives an arrow to his brother’s hand like Oghuz khan, and orders him to break it. Thus, in the description of the work, the principles of integrity and unity of Oghuz khan are strengthened. Togrul Beg:

– We are like these arrows. If we are alone everywhere, they will break us. If we are together and united, no one will be able to win us. If there is disagreement between us, the world will not be occupied, the enemy will win, and the kingdom will be lost from us – he says.

In this copy of Oghuznama, “In the last four hundred and eighty-seventh year of the Hijri, he ordered a khutba to be read in the name of Togrul Beg in the pulpits of Baghdad. “They carved his name on the coins and nicknamed him Sultan Rikneddaw and Abu Talyp Togrul Beg Muhammed ibn Mikayl Yemineddov” and it is an endless history of the great glory of the Seljuk sultans. At the end of this description the poem is recited.

century Turkmen scholar Salar Baba Gulalay’s son Salar Haradary, kept in Ashgabat, begins with the chapter “History of Oghuz, his descendants, subordinates and other Turks”. In this version it is said that Japheth, son of Noah, was given the nickname Uljai khan. Apparently, the name of Japheth is also used differently in the manuscripts. This situation reveals that the contradictions in the structure of meaning in the form of words in literary samples should be thoroughly analyzed. Of course, the peculiarities of the languages of the Turkic people made it difficult to describe this common history. However, I think that the most important moments in the history of the Turkmen people, the eternally faithful principles of the people, should be understood as their original. This is an unequivocal proof that the whole structure and nature of the work is based on the national spirit of the Turkmen people. In this copy, Duyp Takuy’s name is called Duyp Yawgu khan. In this version, he has four sons. In the events about one of those boys, Kara khan, stories about Oghuz’s birth and faith were widely reflected. After Oghuz khan’s campaigns, his state became stronger and did not squeeze property into villages. It is specifically explained that the duýulýar. Eseriň Aşgabat nusgasynda bolsa, ýazyjynyň anyk çeşmelerden ötri, halk ýadyna salgylanan bolmagy hem mümkin. Bu ýagdaý, bir tarapdan, ýazyjynyň halkyň medeniýetinden, ruhy gözbaşlaryndan, gadymy mirasyndan ýeterlik derejede habarlydygyny aňlatsa, ikinji bir tarapdan, eseriň diliniň ýeňil, has şüwelenli okalmagyna itergi berýär.

Oguz hanyň ygtyýaryna gol bermazden, Garasülük öz ýany bilen sandyga salyp, garry atasyny düýä ýükläp alyp gidýär. Suwsuzlyk zerarly heläkçilik çekmeli bolanda, sandykdaýy goja olara kömege ýetişýär.

cart was made by order of the need to load the wealth of the property. It is said that “There was no cart before it”. Based on this, the origin of the name of the tribe of Kynyk is connected with this event, which is very important in life.

Great ideas about Oghuz’s character are expressed by saying that “Oghuz was kind and compassionate, so old people called him aga”. It is clear that the people were influenced by ancient stories and legends. In the Berlin version, it is felt that the writer has tended to take into consideration the historical importance of the events. In the Ashgabat version of the work, it is possible that the author referred to the folk memory due to specific sources. On the one hand, this situation means that the writer is sufficiently aware of the culture, spiritual origins, and ancient heritage of the people, and on the other hand, it encourages the reading of the work’s language to be easier and more lively.

Without obeying to Oghuz khan, Garasuluk took his old father on a camel, putting him in a chest. When they are about to die due to thirsty, the old man in the chest comes to help.

Eseriň bu nusgasynda gylbaraklaryň söweş mahalyndaky emel salşy gürrüň berilýär. Olar ilki ak ýelim suwy guýlan howza, soňundanam guma agynap, gara ýelim suwy guýlan howza çümüp çykýan ekenler. Olaryň endamy ýelim bilen örtülip, hiç okam täsir etmändir.

Based on what the old man said, Garasuluk gives advice to people. All people were happy.

Far from home, on one of these days, Oghuz imagined that his country has lost its owner. “We can’t support the money in the hope of a loan”, he said and went back.

In the chapter “Oghuz’s battle with the people of Gylbarak” it is stated that “Gylbarak is a region located in the region of darkness” and that it is a place close to the north. In the Kazan copy of “Oghuznama”

dan soňraky “Ogzuň zulmata baranynyň we ol ýeriň ýagdaýlarynyň beýany” diýen bölüminde hem rowaýat kysmy ýordum bar. Zulmat – edil ertekilerde taryp edilyän içi känli gowak. Onuň garaňkylygyn-da ugur saýgarmak üçin, dört sany taýçanakly gysrak, dokuz sany kürreli eşek saýlanylmaly. Çünki olar zulmatyň daşynda galan janawerler üçin, ýollaryny ýalňyşman tapýarlar. Ýene-de Garasülük atasyndan maslahat sorayar. Ol ýerde üç gün ýol ýöräp, kimsi elini uran yerinden zat alyp, özi bilen getirdi, kimsi-de hiç zat alman, ol zulmatdan çykdy. Olaryň zulmatda garbany sap göwher bolup çykýar. Bu nusgada hem alnan mal-mülki öýüne aşyrmaga olara arabalaryň gerek bolandygy, arabany ýasan ilin adynyň hem şondandygy aýdylýar.

Engam-baýlygy sansyz bolsa-da, Ogzy iki atyň ýitirim bolmagy ynalykdan gaçyrýar. Eserdäki şujagaz çaklaňja waka arkaly Ogzuň bedewe yhlasy açylyp görkezilýär. Ol bedewini özüne dolap getirendikleri üçin hoşal bolup, sowgat-serpaý we mähribanlyk edýär.

“Ogzuň Kürdüstana ýoly bilen Diýarbekire we Şama baranynyň beýany” Ogzuň üznüksiz üç ýyllap amala aşyran ýörişi hakdaky söhbetlerden ybaratdyr. Bu ýörişde and in Andalyp’s poem “Oghuznama” “Gylbarak” is given as “Itbarak”.

The trick-actions of the people of Gylbarak during the battle is told in this version of the work. Firstly, they dive into a pool of white glue, then run into the sand and dive into a pool of black glue. Their bodies were covered with glue, and no gunshot affected them.

In the following description of the events, it is commented that Oghuz’s appearance was kind and attractive. There is also a legend in the following chapter “Description of Oghuz’s journey to dark zulmat and the conditions of that place”. Zulmat is a dark cave with a large interior, just like in fairy tales. Four colts with four foals and nine donkeys with burros must be chosen to navigate in its darkness. Because they find their way to those who remain outside the darkness. And Garasuluk again asks a piece of advice from his father. He walked there for three days, someone took something from where he touched it and brought it with him, and someone took nothing, and he left the darkness. Their sacrifice in the dark turns out to be a pure diamond. It is said that they needed carts to carry the property home, hence the name of the nation who made the cart links with it.

wakalaryň mazmuny, esasan, Ogzuň oglanlary hakyndadyr. Oglanlary öňden, Oguz olaryň yzyndan barýar. Baran ýerlerinde olary garşylamaga çykýarlar. Ogullary olary atalary Ogzuň ýanyna iberýärler. Bu bölümde dünýäde dostlukly syýasatyň rowaçlanmagynda adalatly hökümdarlygyň wajyplygy hakynda söz açylýar. Oguz han, onuň ogullary öz maksadyny ilçileriň üsti bilen baran ýurduna mälim edýär. “Oguz oglanlaryndan hoşal bolup, talaň etmändiklerine örän begendi. Oglanlarynyň öz sözünü ýykmandyklaryna Allatagala şükür etdi” diýip, Ogzuň ýörişlerinde namartlygyň ýoklugy aýratyn nygtalýar. Oguz baş-başdaklyga ýol bermeyär. Although his wealth is immeasurable, Oghuz worried about the disappearance of the two horses. Oghuz’s devotion to the horse is revealed through a dramatic event in the work. He was happy, generous, because his horse was brought back to him and he rewarded them.

“Description of Oghuz’s Journey to Diyarbakir and Sham on the Road to Kurdistan” consists of conversations about Oghuz’s three-year continuous march. The story of this march is mainly about Oghuz’s sons. His sons are already ahead, Oghuz is following them. Everyone goes out to greet them wherever they go. Their sons send them to their grandfather Oghuz. In this chapter, the importance of fair rule in the development of friendly politics in the world is emphasized. Oghuz khan and his sons announced their intention to the country they visited through Ambassadors. “Oghuz was happy with his sons and was very happy that they did not loot. He thanked the Allah that his sons did not break their word”. Oghuz’s marches are marked by a lack of ferocity. Oghuz does not allow a conflict. According to it, the foundation of the whole state is in his strength and courage.

lik hakyndaky şertinden çykmanlygy üçin, ogullaryna köp hormat edýär.

Oguz – dünýäde düzgün-tertibini ýola goýmagyň hökümdary hökmünde çykyş edýär. “Ogzuň barça goşuny bilen Dymaşka baranyň beýany” bölüminde “Oguz Rum, Antakyýa we Pereň ýurdunyň düzgün-tertibini tamamlady” diýilmeşi hem munuň aýdyň mysalydyr. Soň “Ogzuň Müsüre ýöriş edeniniň beýany”, “Ogzuň Bagdada we Basra ýöriş edeniniň beýany”, “Ogzuň oglanlaryny Pars we Kermana ibereniniň beýany”, “Ogzuň Yrak tarapyna iberen ilçileriniň beýany” bölümlerinde Ogzuň şöhratly ýörişleri gyzykly teswirlenilýär.

Ogzuň baran ýerinde ylalaşyk gazanmak hakyndaky teklpleri aýratyn nygtalýar. Ogzuň hiç bir babatda ygtyýar bermezden, baran ýeriniň malyna el urmazlygy ýörişiniň berk kadasy hökmünde aýratyn belleniş geçilýär. Oguz şol kadanyň ýerine ýetirilişi bilen gyzyklanýar. Goşunyň düzgün-tertibiliginden hoşal bolýar. Goşun nirä barsa hem syýasy diplomatiýanyň netijesinde baran ýerini kem-siz öwrenýär, öz ýagdaýyndan hem olary habardar edýär.

Ogzuň pähimdarlygy bilen, akyla sygmajak uly ýeňişler rowaçlanýar. Goşun çendenäsa köp gör-

of Peren and Rome”, the sons of Oghuz on the right side go to Rome and the sons on the left side go to Peren. Before going there, they settle somewhere and send their ambassadors with gifts. In the same way, they are busy introducing Oghuz politics in Peren province and managing the country. Their visit to Rome is discussed in a separate chapter. Oghuz respects his sons a lot because he did not deviate from his promise not to rob. Oghuz acts as the ruler of establishing order in the world.

A clear example of this is the statement that “Oghuz completed the rule of Rome, Antakyya and Peren” in the chapter “Description of Oghuz’s visit to Dymashka with all his army”. Then, “Description of Oghuz’s march to Egypt”, “Description of Oghuz’s march to Baghdad and Basra”, “Description of Oghuz’s sending his sons to Persia and Kerman”, “Description of Oghuz’s ambassadors sent to Iraq” were interestingly commented.

Oghuz’s proposals for reaching an agreement are particularly mentioned. It is especially noted as the strictest rule of the march that Oghuz did not touch the property of the destination without giving any authority. Oghuz was interested in the implementation of that rule.

ner ýaly her müň adam, gije iküç gezek yzyna gaýdyp, gündiz göç eder ekenler. Şeýdibem olar sansyz köp bolup görnüpdirler. Olary görenleriň howy basylypdyr. Ogzuň goşunlary ilçilerden belli bir habar eşidýänçäler aw awlaşyp, imisala oturýarlar. Bu ýerde ylalaşykly halaýyklaryň arasynda “Uruşmak maslahat däldir” diýen şygar ýörgünlidir. Ogzuň parahatçylyksöýüjiliginiň maksady hem şondadyr. Halaç etnoniminiň manysy hakyn-da ikinji bir pikir hem Ogzuň ýörişleri hakyndaky bölümlerde bar. Halaç sözünüň “Gal aç” diýen sözden gelip çykandygy teswirlenilýär. Halaç sözünüň şeýle kökünüň bardygy Andalybyň “Oguznamasynda” hem tekrarlanýlar.

Ogzuň garlyk adyny goýsy haýyndaky wakalar eseriň dürli nusgalarynda onçakly tapawutlanmaýar.

Ogzuň her pursatda maslahatçysy bolany üçin, Garasülügiň abraýy artýar. Garasülügiň ýiti paýhasy, ahyrynda Oguz hany hem haýran galdyrýar. Ol bu ýagdaýyň sebäbini ondan sorayar. Ol ýaşyrman:

– Garry kişileri goýup, ýanyňyz bilen äkitmegeý siz” diýip, ýarlyk-höküm edipdiňiz. Men atamy sandyga salyp, özüm bilen äkidipdim. Her bir müşgil iş ýüze çykanda, men baryp, oňa aýdyp, ondan jogap alyp, size aýdýardym – diýdi.

He was pleased with the discipline of his army. Wherever the army went, he thoroughly studied the place as a result of political diplomacy, and kept them informed of its situation.

With the wisdom of Oghuz, unimaginable great victories were gained. Every thousand men would return twice at night and move out during the day, so that the army would be seem more and more. And they appeared to be innumerable. Those who saw them were stunned. Oghuz’s troops hunt and wait until they hear certain news from the ambassadors. “Fighting is not a good idea” is a popular slogan among the harmonious people here. Therein lies the peace-loving purpose of Oghuz. A second idea about the meaning of the ethnonym Halach is also found in the chapters on Oghuz’s marches. It is said that the word Halach is derived from the word “stay hungry”. Andalib’s “Oghuznama” also proves that the word Halach has such a root.

The events about the naming of Oghuz like garlyk does not differ much in different versions of the work. Oghuz khan was impressed by the sharp wisdom of Garasuluk. He asks him the reason for this situation. He did not hide:

“Leave the old people and do not take them with you,” you said.

Bu nusgadan şu mysala hem aýratyn ünsüňizi çekesim gelýär: “Oguz gypjak kowumyny Itil derýasynda oturdyp, şol ýerleriň olaryň ýurtlary bolmalydygyny belledi. Ol ýeriň baýlyklaryny bolsa, “Özlerine alyp, sarp etgeýler” diýip, olaryň eýeçiligine degişli etdi we Gylbarak we-laýatynyň, Derbendiň we ol sebitleriň baýlyklaryny bolsa, “alyp hazyna ibergeýler” diýip karar etdi. Oguz hanyň adalat-kowahady ähli ýerlerde öz hökümini ýöredýär. Ähli ýerlerde birsydyrgyn, adalatly durmuşyň hökümi sürmegi hemişe aňsat amala aşmaýar. Oguz hanyň dünýäde hökümi ýeten ýerinde şeýle adalatyň hökmürowan bolmagy onuň döwlet syýasatynyň baş şertidir.

Eseriň Aşgabatda saklanýan bu nusgasynyň dowamynda Oguz hanyň uly ogly Gün hanyň patyşalygy hakynda gürrüň berilýär. Bu nusgada hem ýurduň dana pähimdar kişisi ýigrimi dört nesil şahasynyň atlarynyň, möhürleriniň we lakamyň nähili bolmalydygyny kesgitleýji bolup çykyş edýär. “Gün han oňa: –Nämäni maslahat bilseň, şeýle et – diýip buýurdy”. Ulug hanlaryň hem goja kişiniň, danalaryň maslahatyny diňlemegi eseriň tutuş mazmuny üçin häsiýetli ýagdaýdyr.

Gün hanyň ogly hem atasynyň ady dakylan Düýp Ýawguý handyr. “Düýp Ýawguý hanyň patyşa bola-

I put my father in a chest and took him with me. “Whenever there was a problem, I would go and tell him, got an answer from him and told you,” he said .

I would like to draw your attention to the following example: “Oghuz settled the gypjak tribe near the Itil river and decided that those lands should be their country. He attributed the wealth of the land to them, saying, “They will take it and spend it for themselves ” and he decided that the property of Gilbarak Velayat, Derbent and those regions will be “sent to the treasury”. Oghuz khan’s justice ruled everywhere. It was not always easy to reign a fair life everywhere. Where Oghuz khan ruled the world, the rule of such justice was the main condition of his state policy.

This copy of the work, which is kept in Ashgabat, tells about the kingdom of Gun khan, the eldest son of Oghuz khan. In this example, the wise man of the country acts as the determiner of what the names, seals and nicknames of the twenty-four family trees should be. “Gun khan said to him:

“Whatever you decide to do, do it”, he ordered. It is typical for the entire content of the work that Ulug khans follow to the advice of the old man and the sages.

ny” bölümünde Ýawguýyň “Eger parasatlylyk nyşany bar bolan kişileriň sözi bolmasa, ýurt we patyşalygy saklasa bolmaz” diýen pikiri onuň salyr hem ýazyr kowumlary bilen has jebisleşmegine esas bolýar. Bu ýerde köňlünň birligi haýyndaky pikire esasy eýeriji Düýp Ýawguýdyr. “Öz-özüne “Munça kowum biziň bilen köňlüni bir etseler, gürrüňsiz işimiziň soňy ýagşy bolar” diýip oýlandy” diýip, ýazyjy ony anyk pursadyň beýanynda berkidýär. Şu bölümde baýat neslin-den Gara hojanyň ogly Gorkudyň örän akyly, dana we keramatly kişidigi aýdylýar. Patyşanyň ahyr ýaşynda dünýä inen ogluna Gorkut Duman han diýip at dakýar. Atasy her zaman bir guş tutsa, olaryň dilini bir horjuna salyp goýýan eken. Ol ogluna şol dilleri syndyryp, suwa salyp bermegi wesýet edýär. Oglan şondan soň barça guşlaryň dilini we ýagdaýyny aňýar. Duman han wagtyň geçmegi bilen atasy-na derek han göterilýär. Ol gurdyň-guşuň dilini bilýär. Şeýdibem tebigy hadysalaryň boljagyny-da öňünden aňmagy başarýar. Onuň öz naýyplaryndan Erki hanyň gyzy-na öýlenmegi bilen ondan öçlüler aýaga galýarlar.

Wakalaryň beýanyndaky Duman hanyň ogluna Ýeken adynyň galysynyň hekaýaty has gyzyklydyr.

Gun khan’s son is Duyp Yavguy khan, named after his father. In the chapter “Duyp Yavguy khan became a king”, Yavguy’s opinion that “If there is no word of people who have the symbol of prudence, the country and the kingdom cannot be saved” was the basis for him to be more united with the salar and yazyr tribes. Here, the main follower of the idea of the unity of the soul is Duyp Yavguy. “He thought that, “If so many people agree with us, the end of our work will definitely be good”, the writer confirms in the description of the specific moment. In this chapter, it is said that Gorkut, the son of Gara Khoja, was a very intelligent, wise and saint person. The padishah named his son Gorkut Duman khan, who was born at the latest days of his life. Whenever his father caught a bird, he put its tongue in a horjun. He instructed to soak those tongues in water and to give them to his son. The boy then learned the language and condition of all the birds. After passing time Duman khan was selected as a khan instead of his father. He knows the language of the wolf and the bird. Then he was able to foresee the occurrence of natural phenomena. When he married Erki khan’s daughter, one of his own tribes, his revenge got angry.

Bir gün ýap boýunda özi, deň-duşy bilen oýnap ýörkä, ol ýeken çybygy bilen oglana gahar edip, ony urýar. Oglanyň ýekeniň zarbyna boýny kesilýär. Bu ýagdaý halaýygy haýran galdyrýar. Onda bir gudratyň bardygyna ynanyrlar. Şol waka bilen baglap, oňa Ýeken Binke (Bilen) Är Biçen Gaýý Ýawguý han diýip at goýýarlar.

“Öwlat Mir Ýawguý hanyň uruglarynyň patysalgynyň tamam bolup, Gara hanyň ogly Bugra hanyň patysalgynyň başlanysy” – bu “Oguznamanyň” Aşgabat nusgasynyň ahyrky bölümidir. Onda ilki Gara han ogly Bugra hanyň patysalgy hakyndaky söhbede girişilýär. “Bugra aşy” diýen adyň döreýşiniň rowaýaty getirilýär. Bugra hanyň Baýar hatyn atly bir akylly hatyny bolan. Ol Allanyň takdery bilen bir gün aradan çykýar. Bu waka Bugra hany uly endişä goýýar. Ol bassyr üç ýyllap başyny galdyрмаýar. Onuň maslahat bermegi bilen ogullaryndan Gurytegin patysa saýlanylýar. Ol atasynyň göwnüne aram bolsun diýip, onuň oňlamaýanlygyna bakmazdan, bir ýaş maşgalany oňa gelinlik saýlaýar. Atasynyň başda oňlamaýşy ýaly hem, aýal bularyň ähli betbagtçylyklaryna sebäp bolýar. Ataly ogluň arasy bozulýar.

The story of Duman khan's son being named Yeken in the description of events is more interesting. One day, while he was playing with his peers, he got angry and hit the boy with a stick. A boy's neck was cut by a blow of a stick. The people were shocked for this situation. They believed that there was a miracle in him. In connection with that event, they named him Yeken Binke (Bilen) Er Bichen Gayi Yavguy khan.

“The end of the kingdom of the sons of Ovlát Mir Yavguy khan, and the beginning of the kingdom of Bugra khan, the son of Gara khan” is the last chapter of the Ashgabat copy of “Oghuznama”. First, the discussion about the kingdom of Bugra khan, the son of Gara khan, begins. There is a legend about the origin of the name “Bugra dish”. Bugra khan had a wise wife named Bayar Hatyn. One day by the will of Allah she died. This incident worried Bugra khan. He did not raise his head for three years. Following to his advice, Gurytegin was selected as the king among his sons. In order to appease his father, a young girl was chosen to marry him, regardless of his disapproval. As her father did not agree at first, the woman caused all those misfortunes. The father-son relationship broke down.

sa, ony aždarda iýýär, eger ol ýere eltilen kişi bigünä bolsa, onuň gaýtam başdaky ýaralary hem bitýär.

Gurytegininiň gözüni syhlapdyrlar, ony düýä mündürüp, owsarynam bir aşpeze tutduryp goýberýärler. Gurytegininiň şonda yzyndan gelyänleriň kimligini görmän aňlajak bolşunda, Jygalybegiň hereketlerine çalymdaşlyk bar. Aýdylyş ýaly, aždardanyň nähili bolsa-da bigünä adama agyz urardan güýçlüdigi mälim bolýar. Eserde mundan buýanky wakalarda hem wepalylyk, ygrarlylyk ýörelgeleri berk pent edilýär.

Gorkudyň pähimleriniň wakalaryň aýdyňlaşmagyndaky ähmiýeti bimöçberdir. Eseriň bu nusgasynda hem Togrul soltanyň durmuşy bilen bagly wakalara giň orun berilýär.

Salar Baba bin Gulaly Salar Harydary kitabyň kim tarapyndan we haçan ýazylandygyny eseriň ahyrynda belläp geçipdir.

“Oguznamanyň” Gazan şäherindäki nusgasynyň göwrüminiň has tapawutlydygyny ilki bellemelidir. Eseriň başynda ýazyjy Oguzhan Türkmeniň adyna ençe taryply sözler aýdýar. Beýtdä onuň dogrusynda:

Jahanyň janydyr janyň jahany,
Bu jümle älemiň sahypkyrany.
– diýilýär.

Here is a wonderful story. If it is true that the sinner is guilty, the dragon eats him, and if the person brought there is innocent, even his wounds are healed.

They blindfolded him, put him on a camel and let him go with a cook. There is sympathy for the actions of Jygalybeg the fact that Gurytigin will try to understand the identity of those who are following him without seeing. As it was said that a dragon is known to be powerful when it strikes an innocent person in the mouth. In the work, the principles of loyalty and commitment are strongly emphasized in the following events.

The significance of Gorkut's advice in the development of events is innumerable. In this version of the work, the events related to the life of Togrul sultan play a great role.

Salar Baba bin Gulaly Salar Harydary mentions by whom and when the book was written at the end of the work.

First of all, it should be noted that the size of the copy of “Oghuznama” in Kazan city is more different. At the beginning of the work, the writer says some kind words to the name of Oghuz khan Turkmen. In the verse it is said:

– The soul of the world is the world of the soul,

Bu nusganyň esasy aýratynlygy has akgyňly we çeper sözler bilen ýazylyp, her bir pikiriň wakalar esasynda giňişleýin beýan edilýänligindedir.

Ýazyjy esere girişenden, Adam ata döräli bári, taryhyň ygtybarly kitaplarda jemlenendigidinden söz açýar. “Biziň asyrymyzda ýüze çykan wakalary hem, biziň nesillerimiz barada hem, tä Adam ogly ýer ýüzünde ýaşaýarka, adamlaryň her biri öz gelip çykyşyny biler ýaly, nesilme-nesil ýazylsyn we beýan edilsin. Bu nusga älem ýok bolýança, ýörelge bolup, bizden öwlatlarymyza ýadygär galsyn” diýlip, wakalaryň şaýadynyň adyndan sözlenilýär. Soňra nesihatlar getirilýär. “Biziň eýýamymyzdan soň biziň her bir öwladymyz nesilme-nesil bu ygtybarly “Oguznama” sözüne amal edip, öz asyrynda we döwründe bu beýik derejeli nesil bilen özüni birleşdirip, perzentlerini bu görnüşde ugrukdyrsyn” diýip, olarda anyk pikirler ündelýär. Eser bap diýlip bölünipdir. Her bapda hem birnäçe hekäýatlar bar.

This phrase is the wonder of the universe.

The main feature of this version is that it is written in more meaningful and artistic words, and each idea is elaborated and explained on the basis of events.

“From the beginning, the author mentions that since the birth of Adam, history has been compiled in reliable books. “Let the events of our age and our generations be written down and described from generation to generation, so that every human being will be able to know his/her origin while the son of Adam lives on earth”. “Let this example be a principle and a reminder from us to our children until the end of the world,” it is said on behalf of the witness of the events. Then comes some advice. Specific ideas are encouraged in them: “After our era, each of our children should follow this reliable word “Oghuznama” from generation to generation, unite themselves with this high-level generation in their age and time, and guide their children in this way”. The work is divided into chapters. Each chapter also consists of several stories.

“In the description of the first creations”, “The first creation of the Allah is my illumination. The first thing that the Allah created was the dylýar. Ýazyjy bu mysala salgylanmak bilen, nesilleriň taryhy hakda kitap ýazmakdaky özüniň ygtyýarlylygyny hoşwagtlylyk saýýandygyny aýan edýär. “Abuljan hekaýatynda” perişdeler hakynda hekaýatlar gürrüň berilýär.

Eseriň ikinji babynda “Adam alayhyssalamyň beýany” hakda söhbet açylýar. Bu bapda Adam atanyň How ene bilen Ýere inmezinden öňinçäki we ondan soňraky wakalaryň beýany bar. Soňra “Şis alayhyssalamyň beýany” hakdaky bölüm gelyär.

Dünýä halklarynyň taryhyna degişli gadymy rowaýatlar ýazyjynyň dürli çeşmelerden peýdalanandygundan habar berýän mysalydyr. Eserde “Mühläbiliň beýanyndan” soňra “Ahnuh alayhyssalamyň beýany” diýlip, Idris hekaýatlarynyň süýji söhbetlerine giň orun berilýär. “Ilkinji eline galam tutan kişi Idris alayhyssalamdyr” diýilmegi maglumat hökmünde hem örän gyzyklydyr. Şeýle-de Idris alayhyssalam hakynda “Münejjimçilik ylmyny açdy” diýilýär. Ýene-de ol hakynda “Adam oglunyň içinde haýwanlaryň derisinden lybas eden ilkinji kişi Idris alayhyssalamdyr” diýilýär.

Görnüşi ýaly, dünýäde ylym-bilimiň rowaçlanmagy hakyndaky düýpli pikirler ýazyjynyň ähli

pen. The first thing that Allah created is the mind” valuable thoughts from the hadiths are told. By referring to this example, the author reveals that he considers his authority to write a book about the history of generations to be a pleasure. In “The Story of Abuljan” the stories about angels are told.

In the second chapter of the work, the discussion about “Adam Alayhissalam’s description” is told. This chapter consists of a description of the events before and after Adam and Eve came to earth. Then comes the chapter on the “Description of Shis Alayhissalam.”

The ancient legends related to the history of the peoples of the world are an example of the writer’s use of various sources. In the work, after “Description of Muhlabil”, it is called “Description of Ahnuh Alayhissalam” and the sweet stories of Idris play a great role. It is also very interesting as information that “Idris Alayhissalam was the first person to hold a pen. “He is also said to have discovered the science of Astrology. It is also said about him that “Idris Alaihissalam was the first person among the sons of Adam to sew animal skins and make clothes.”

As it turns out, it will be correct if it is considered that fundamental ideas about the development of wakalar babatda töwerekleýin beýan etmegine itergi berýär diýip hasap edilse, dogry bolar. Eseriň diňe üçünji babynda Nuh hekaýatlary başlanýar. Nuh hemişe adamlara azmazlyklary üçin towakga edýär. Ýöne oňa gulak asan az bolýar. Nuhuň keramatly sözleriniň güýji bilen, dünýä täzelenýär. Bu bölümde Nuhuň näçe ýyl ýaşandygy hakynda hem birküç pikir birbada aýdylýar. Munuň özi ýazyjynyň maglumatlar bilen tanyşlygynyň giňligindendir. Eseriň dördünji baby Ýafese bagyşlanýar. Bu bölümde “Ýafes türki taýpalaryň asyl köküdir” diýlip, wakalar belli bir yzygiderlilikde okyja ýetirilýär. Atasy Nuhuň Ýafese aýdanlary has täsirlidir. Ol şeýle diýýär:

“Seniň nesliň tä kyýamat ahyra çenli, her ýerde bolsa-da, harlyk we zarlyk çekmesin, mätäçlik görmesin. Her möhüm işde we maslahatda biri-biri bilen agzybiri bolup, ar we namysdan ötri yhlas we tagalla edip, ýer ýüzünde hanlyk, beglik we serkerdelik etsin”.

Ýafes atasyndan ýagys ýagdyrýan dogany öwretmegi haýys edýär. Nuh ol dogany bir daşa nagys edip, ogluna berýär. Ol daşa “Jede daş”, ýagny “ýagys ýagdyrýan daş” diýýärler. Ýafesiň on bir sany oglunyň ady nusgada getirilipdir.

science and education in the world motivate the writer to describe all the events. The stories of Noah begin only in the third chapter of the work. Noah always warned people not to go astray. But few people listened to him. By the power of Noah’s holy words, the world is renewed. There is also some thought about how long Noah lived. This is due to the broadness of the author’s familiarity with the data. The fourth chapter of the work is dedicated to Japheth. In this chapter, “Japheth is the original root of Turkic tribes” and the events were described for the reader in a certain order. What his father Noah told Japheth is more impressive. He says:

“Your generation will not be in need until the end of the Day of Judgment, wherever it may be. Let them be united with each other in every important work and discussion, and with sincerity and effort and for the sake of honor let them reign, be blessed, and rule on earth.”

Japheth asks his father to teach his brother who makes rain. Noah engraved his brother on a stone and gave it to his son. That stone is called “Jede stone”, which means “rain stone”. Eleven sons of Japheth are named in the manuscript. “Rus, Hazar, Halach” – ethnonyms with such a meaning in the modern language are revealed in the events that have their roots in the names of the sons of Japheth. The specific origin of Kazakh, Kalmak, Kyrgyz, and Uzbek ethnonyms is also explained in the sense that they are understood in the modern Turkmen language. The fact that Japheth considered the Turkic heritage worthy of his sons is also highlighted in the work.

“Rus, Hazar, Halaç” – häzirki zaman dilindäki şeýle anyk manyly etnonimleriň asyl köküniň Ýafesiň ogullarynyň atlaryndandygy wakalarda açylýar. Gazak, galmak, gyrgyz, özbek etnonimleriniň anyk gelip çykyşy hem häzirki zaman türkmen dilinde düşünilişi ýaly manyda teswirlenilýär. Ýafesiň ogullaryndan Türke mirasyny mynasyp görenligi hem eserde aýratyn bellenilipdir.

Eposyň bu nusgasynda ýazyjy, esasan, haýsy senediň, kesp-käriň başlangyjynyň kimlerden gaýdýanlygyny düşündirmäge synanyşyk edýär. Käbir maglumatlaryň teswiriniň “Oguznamada” doly beýan edilendigini ýazyjy eseriniň dowamynda belleýär.

Ýafesiň Çyn diýen örän parasatly oglunyň suratçylygy, nakgaşlygy, lybas boýamagy ilkinji bolup, Ýerde peýda eden adamdygy aýdylýar. Goýun gyrkmak, ýüplük egirmek, ondan çäkmen, lybas tikmek onuň bina eden Maçyn ýurdunda ýüze çykypdyr. Guşuň owadan perini söweş bezegi edinip başgaba sançmak hem onuň hökümidir. Keyigiň göbeginden alynýan müški ilkinji bolup tapanam Ýafesiň ogly Çyndyr. “Zülkarneýn hem Ýafesiň neslinden bolup, Pereň welaýatından bolar” diýlip, bölümiň ahyrynda bellenilipdir.

In this copy of the epic, the writer is mainly trying to explain from whom the beginning of the craft and profession goes back. The author notes that the commentary of some information is fully described in “Oghuznama”.

It is said that Japheth’s very intelligent son, Chyn, was the first person to use painting, drawing, and dyeing clothes on the earth. Shearing of sheep, spinning of yarn, sewing of robe and clothes from it appeared in the country of Machyn, which he established. It was also his judgment to make the beautiful fairy of the bird a battle ornament. Japheth’s son Chyn was the first who made musk from the belly of a deer. It is written at the end of the chapter that “Zulkarnein was also a descendant of Japheth and would be from Peren Province”.

The work also includes stories about Noah’s sons Sam and Ham. The name of Gara khan is men-

Eserde Nuhuň ogullary Sam we Ham hakynda hem hekaýatlara orun berilýär. “Türk han hekaýatynda” Gara hanyň ady getirilýär. Şonuň bilenem Oguz han hakdaky wakalar dürli bölümlerde yzygiderlikde beýan edilmäge başlanýlar. Oguz hanyň öýlenişi, etno birlikleriň sözköküniň emele gelşi baradaky ýordumlar hem ünsden düşürilmändir.

Dört müň ýyllyk taryh hakda aýdyp, ýazyjy Togrul soltanyň atasy Muhammet şa Türkmeniň adyny getirýär. Ýazyjy şondan soň Ogzuň ýörişleri hakyndaky hekaýatlary beýan etmäge dolanyp gelýär. Halaç, garlyk adynyň döreýşi baradaky öňki “Oguznamalarda” beýan edilen hekaýatlar ýañadan janlandyrylýar. Ýer-ýurt atlary häzirki zaman diliniň ses galybynda, many birliginde berlipdir. Ogzuň ogullaryny awa ugradýan ýordumy bu nusgada hem bar. Ogzuň ogullarynyň arasynda hemişe deňligiň we ylalaşygyň bolmagy üçin aýdan öwütleri, girizen kada-kanunlary, olar dogrusyndaky öňki “Oguznamalardaky” ýordumlar bu nusgada hem saklanylypdyr. Bu nusgada Ogzuň kada-kanunlarynyň ogullary, il-ulsy tarapyndan ähtnamada berkidilendigi hakyn-da hem aýdylýar.

tioned in “The story of Turk khan”. Therefore, the events about Oghuz khan are described in different chapters in sequence. The comments about Oghuz khan’s marriage and the formation of the root of ethno-units were also taken into consideration.

Speaking about four thousand years of history, the writer mentions the name of Muhammad Shah Turkmen, grandfather of Togrul sultan. After that, the writer returns to tell the stories about Oghuz’s marches. The stories about the origin of the name “Khalach” are revived in the previous “Oghuznamas”. The names of the countries are given in the sound pattern of the modern language, meaning unity. This version also contains the stories that Oghuz sends his sons to the air. Oghuz’s advice for equality and harmony among his sons, the rules he introduced, and the instructions in the previous “Oghuznamas” were included in this copy. In this version, it is also said that the laws of Oghuz were confirmed in the charter by the sons and the people.

In the chapter “Description of Yyldyz khan, khan of the World” a specific description is given about him. It is said that he was nicknamed Al khan, and it is noted that this information was written in “Oghuznamas”. However, in the “Oghuznamas” known to us, there was only information that Yyldyz khan was a son of Oghuz. There can be no doubt that other copies of the “Oghuznamas” were written. There can be no doubt that the Oghuznama tradition continued widely in literature until Andalyp’s time.

Bu nusganyň käbir bölümlerinde Gorkut ata iliniň danasy bolup, maslahatly meseleleri çözüjidir. Duman hana at dakylşy, ýeken bilen urup, Ýeken diýibem at alan oglan hakyndaky ýordumlar hem işlenilipdir. Bu nusgadaky “bugra aşy” hakyndaky rowaýaty ýatlapdyk. Guzytegiň atasyna rehimi inip,

Stories about Ovshar, the son of Yyldyz khan, are also told in this version. The stories about Gayi, the son of Gun khan, are of importance unlike in other versions. In the section “Countries of Oghuz khan’s nation, how many years and what type of people lived in those countries, description of how he called Turkmen”, it is said that the origin of the word Turkmen comes from the Persian root “türk manend” (“similar to a Turk”). In some parts of this version, Gorkut was the wise man of the country and solved the problems. There are also stories about the name of Duman khan, the boy who was hit with a branch of yeken and got the name Yeken. We mentioned the legend about “bugra dish” in this example. Guzytegi’s pity for her father and her refusal to marry him, and later Guzytegi’s hardships, are also mentioned in this version. Events oňa öýlenmegini towakga edişi, soňundanam Guzytegininiň özünüň kynçylyklara sezewar bolşy hakyndaky ýordumlar bu nusgada hem getirilýär. Togrulyň dünýä inmegi, han bolmagy bilen baglanysykly wakalar hem bölümlerde öz beýanyny tapýar. “Salyr Ügürjik alpyň atalarynyň, inileriniň we ogullarynyň beýany” diýlip atlandyrylan, wakalar has giň gerimde beýan edilýän bölümde salyr ilinden bolan Ärsary baýyň gyzy hakyndaky ýordumlaryň anyk durmuş esasynyň delilleri bizde, elbetde, ýeterlik däl diýip hasap edýärim.

Bu nusgada hem Ogzuň nesil daragtynyň Nuhuň ogly Ýafesden gaýdýanlygy aýdylýar. Ähli ýaşajylary zenanlardan ybarat ada hakyn-da beýleki nusgalarda asla maglumat hem ýokdy. Bu nusgada olar baradaky täsin rowaýat kysmy gürünler täsirli beýan edilýär. Çingiz hanyň şol adada hamyla bolan Alankuwa atly aýalyň neslindendigi tekrarlanýlar. Soňra ýazyjy Çingiziň adatdan daşary güýçlüliginiň hekaýatyny sözlemäge başlaýar.

Osman Gazy Türkmeniň şalygy hakyndaky ýordumlar hem örän täsirli okalýar. Türkmen ýer-ýurtatlary getirilýär, wakalaryň taryhy anyklygy babatda pikirleriň düýpli seljerilmelidigi welin dogrudyr.

XVIII asyr türkmen edebiýatynyň görnükli wekili Nurmuham-related to Togrul’s birth and becoming khan are also reflected in the chapters. In the chapter “Description of the fathers, brothers and sons of Salir Yugurjik Alp”, where the events are described in a wider scope, I consider that we do not have enough evidence of the specific life basis of the stories about the daughter of Arsary Bai from salyr tribe.

In this version, it is said that Oghuz’s family tree goes back to Noah’s son Japheth. There was no information in the other versions about the island where all-female lived in it. In this version, the unique legendary stories about them are effectively described. It is said that Genghis khan was descended from a woman named Alankuwa who was pregnant by a light on that island. Then the author begins to tell the story of Genghis’ extraordinary strength.

Stories about Osman Gazy Turkmen’s kingdom are also very impressive to read. It is true that the names of Turkmen places and countries should be thoroughly analyzed in terms of the historical accuracy of the events.

The events in the early copies of “Oghuznamas” are reflected in the works of Andalyp, a prominent representative of the 18th century

Turkmen literature. In the 8th chapter of the work, Andalyp reveals his service not only as a poet, but also as a patriot, sage, linguist, and historian.

The master poet, who called this part of the work “The mystery of a word said by the people about the symbols drawn by Oghuz khan”, clearly believes in the truth of the ancient Turkmen alphabet in the minds of the people. If we talk about the peculiarities of the master poet’s creativity, it is always important to give a special attention to the Turkmen literature.

The path of Turkmen literature from the ancient times to the present day is illuminating with pearl of words and it shines from the sun of the ages to our days with the greatness of human wisdom. The shine of the high spirit of our people is their sun. The love of heritage of our present generation, the owners of such world-sample richness, is the expression of human nature’s passionate desire for beauty.

The beauty of the world is in human hearts.

May beauty always be a companion to my people whose spirit is always high!

*T*he term “treasure” (hazyna) has also traditionally been used to describe a diligent person. They say, “That person is a real treasure.” The reason for this is the dignity of a person, his great respect. National spirituality recognizes the existence of the great benefit that an intelligent, talented and capable person can bring to society.

Through the life experience of our ancestors, a comprehensive perspective on wealth emerged. I would say that wealth lies in never forgetting the past. The fundamental principle emphasized in the Oghuznama epics is the clarity of the past experience as a foundation for the prosperity of the future. It is also the belief that the past continues to live within the present. Its essence lies in understanding the past as it is manifested through the lens of the present era. In the most specific sense of the word, the Oghuznama epics fulfilled humanity’s duty to honor the heritage of their ancestors.

In our beloved Homeland, it must be emphasized that even the seemingly simple sources of studying heritage contain an ocean of meanings. This is because taking examples from the past is the most reliable means of ensuring the future’s stability.

Treating the rich cultural heritage of our people with care is one of the critical responsibilities in the political and social life of our state.

The source that reveals the true nature of wealth is the culture of the people. The richness of the soul is the wealth of the world. In its full meaning, “the richness of the soul” is the ability to create beauty.

The beauty created by human hands across every corner of our Homeland is the sunlight of that wealth. This is because every good deed is rooted in good intentions. Our aim is to safeguard the honor of our Homeland, to take the life experience of our ancestors enriched with wisdom, and to take pride in them. The successes we achieve in the development of our socio-political systems today, as well as in our international collaborations, are the result of the clarity of our heartfelt aspirations.

I can proudly say that the Oghuznama epics, the masterpiece of Turkmen literature, history, and culture, is a valuable heritage that embodies the glorious past of our nation and is preserved in the cities around the world. Each time the word “Turkmen” appears in its con-

My beloved people, your name enriches the treasury of heritage in faraway lands. Even if one is not closely connected with the national spirit of the Turkmen people, the meaning of the word “Turkmen” is clear to all.

The global sources of information tell the world that these ancient, culturally rich people are building their great future today. Similarly, on the international political arena, the name of our beloved Turkmenistan earns deserved fame and prestige.

The Oghuznama is a living portrait of humanity’s historical journey. It is the melody of the relationship between the heavens and the earth written into art.

The Heavens and the Earth – the unity of the world, the connection between the sky and the land – have fascinated and inspired humanity since the dawn of time, constantly prompting reflection. In the Oghuznama, this natural essence of life is instilled in its entirety as a clear sense of duty.

As we know, even today, such customs as to wish for blessings and renewal by honoring the new Moon or greeting the Sun have been preserved among our people. Many tra-

Bilşimiz ýaly, häli-häzirlerem halkymyzda täze dogan Aýy ýüzüne sylmak, Güne salam bermek dessurlary saklanypdyr. Gün hem Aý bilen baglanyşykly halk däplerimiz, urp-adatlarymyz juda kändir. Olaryň mazmunyny tirip, uly bir eser döretmek bolar.

Amerikan alymy Krameriniň gadymy siwilizasiýalar baradaky ägirt uly işlerinde, has anygy, 1956-njy ýylda çap edilen “Gadymy siwilizasiýalar. Şumerler” diýen işinde şumerleriň hudaýyna “Anki” diýilýär. Şol işde sözüň ses şekiliniň “anna” sözüne ýakyn gurluşyna hem gabat gelindi. Şoňa görä, bizdäki “anna” sözünüň kökünüň hem şondan gaýdýan bolmagynyň mümkinligi hakynda öň belläpdik. Çünki medeniýetleriň özara gatnaşygynyň dile, yrym-ynançlara täsirini ýetirenliginiň mysallary örän köpdür. Magtymgulynyň leksikasynda hem “anka” sözi bolup, onuň düşündirişi dürlüçedir.

“Anka” ertekilerde duş gelyän boýny uzyn hyýaly uly guş bolup, oňa symrug hem diýilýär. Bu guş, göýä, adamlardan uzakda Kap dağynda ýaşaýar, adamlara görünmeýär. Başga bir düşündirişde “anka” Ýewropanyň saz guralydyr. Şol sazyň dessesi ankanyň boýnunyň uzynlygyna meňzedileni üçin, ol şeýle atlandyrylypdyr. “Anka” özi ditions and customs are connected with the Sun and the Moon. One could create a grand work by exploring their profound meanings.

In the monumental works of the American scholar Kramer on ancient civilizations, particularly in his 1956 publication Ancient Civilizations: The Sumerians, the Sumerian deity is referred to as “Anka.” In that work, the phonetic structure of the word is used to resemble the word “anna.” Basing on this, we previously suggested that the root of the word “anna” in our language might possibly trace back to this origin. This is because there are countless examples of cultural interactions influencing languages and belief systems.

In the lexicon of Magtymguly, the word “anka” also appears, carrying various interpretations.

“Anka” is described in fairy tales as a mythical bird with a long neck, also known as “simurgh.” This bird is said to dwell far away in Kap Mountain, hidden from human sight. Another interpretation identifies “anka” as a European musical instrument. It was named so because the instrument’s structure resembles the long neck of the mythical bird. Additionally, “anka” is used metaphorically to describe something non-existent or intangible, signifying “invisible” in connection with abstract concepts.

ýok zat, närseler bilen baglylykda “göze görünmeýän” diýen sypatlandyrmalary hem aňladýar.

Magtymguly akyldaryň söz mülkünde:

Anka aýdar: “Ýolçyýam!”

Hüthüt aýdar: “Ilçiyem!”

–diýen setirler bar. Her nämede bolsa, munuň häzirki türkmen dilindäki “anna” sözi bilen kökdeşdigini birbada ret etmek hem dogry bolar öýtmeyäris.

Ýene bir mysaly agzap geçeliň. Çünki Asman syrlylykdyr, onuň aňyrsy adaty ynsan duýgusy bilen aňlanylmaýan nikaplydyr.

“Oguznamanyň” Pariž şäherinde saklanýan golýazma nusgasynyň birinji sahypasynda: “Aý kaganyň gözi ýaryb (aýdyň bolup), aýaly bodady (çaga dünýä inderdi), erkek ogul togurdy” diýen setirler badabat özüne çekdi. “Bodady”, ýagny “botlamak” sözi häzirki türkmen dilinde düýe maly bilen baglylykda işjeň ulanylýandyr. Şular ýaly mysallar “Oguznama” ýaly edebi gymmatlyklarymyzda ýüzlerçedir. Edebi mirasy doly öwrenmek üçin birnäçe ylymlaryň bilelikdäki işiniň jebis ýola goýulmagy welin derwaýysdyr.

Birinjiden, taryh ylmy, ýagny adamzat ýaşayşynyň wakalarynyň seneleri hakyndaky maglumatlar anyk beýan edilmelidir. Ikinjiden,

In the poetic realm of Magtymguly, the following verses appear:

Anka says, “I am a traveler!”

Huthut says, “I am a messenger!”

Whatever the case, it does not seem entirely appropriate to outright reject the possible connection between this word and the modern Turkmen word “anna.”

Let us consider another example. The Heavens are a mystery, veiled and beyond the comprehension of ordinary human senses.

On the first page of the manuscript of the Oghuznama preserved in Paris, the lines “The eyes of the moon brightened, his wife gave birth, and a male child was born” immediately caught my attention. The word “bolady” is actively used in modern Turkmen to refer to camels. Such examples are numerous in our literary treasures like the Oghuznama. To fully study our literary heritage is crucial for several academic fields to collaborate and establish a cohesive approach.

Firstly, the field of history, that is, the recording of human life events and their chronological details, must be precisely described. Secondly, from the perspective of ethnography, an analysis should be conducted on the particularities of our people as an ethnic group, as well as the folk tales related to everyday life. Their scientific significance etnografiýa ylmynyň nukdaýnazarýndan seljerme geçirilmelidir, halkymyzyň etnos hökmündäki aýratynlyklary, şeýle-de halkyň durmuşy bilen bagly rowaýatlar derňelmelidir. Olaryň ylmy wajyplygy ýüze çykarylmalýdyr. Üçünjiden bolsa, halkyň ruhy bilen gönüden-göni baglanysyklykda, sözköki derňelmelidir. Hususan-da, etniki adalgalar dilçilik nukdaýnazarýndan aýdyňlaşdyrylmalydyr. Bu işde antropologiýa ylmynyň önünde hem uly wezipeleriň bardygyny, dördünji bir ylmy ugruň hyzmatyny nygtamak bilen belleýäris.

Alymlar häzire deňeç “Oguz” sözünüň manysy hakynda dürli pi-should be identified. Thirdly, the analysis of linguistic roots must be directly connected to the national spirit. Specifically, ethnic terminology should be clarified from a linguistic standpoint. In this endeavor, the field of anthropology also has significant contributions to make, and we highlight the importance of a fourth scientific discipline in this regard.

Scholars have presented various interpretations regarding the meaning of the word “Oghuz.” One might consider the supporters of the theory that “Oghuz” means “ox” or “bull,” and even “Oghuz – river” to be reasonable. The image of an ox appeared on the flag of Oghuz Nesilbaşynyň adynyň ilin adynda şöhlelenýändigini hem häsiýetli ýagdaýdyr. Belli bolşy ýaly, “türkmen” sözündäki “tur” köki-de “ýabany öküz” diýen manyny berýär. Häzirki döwürde hem “Öküz” diýen adyň duş gelmegi gadymy ynamyň milli ruhy alamatydyr diýilmegi dogrudyr. “Turan” sözüniň manysy hem “turlaryň ýurdy” diýmekdir. Häzirki Türkmenistanyň in gadymy ady hem Turandyr.

Miladydan öňki I müňýyllykdaky grek ýazgylarynda turanlylaryň “augas” atly taýpasynyň ady gabat gelýär. Turanlylar hakdaky maglumatlar Ferdöwsiniň “Şanama” eserinde-de öz beýanyny tapypdyr. Tur Feridunyň üç oglunyň biridir. Atasy oňa Turany bagş edýär. Biziň eýýamymyzdan öňki III, IV müňýyllyklarda olar Köpetdagiň eteklerinde ýaşap, ekerançylyk bilen meşgullanypdyrlar. khan. It is also notable that the name of the founder of the tribe is reflected in the name of the people. As it is well-known, the root “tur” in the word “Turkmen” is also understood to mean “wild ox.” Even today, the name “Öküz” (ox) can be seen as a symbol of ancient beliefs and national-spiritual values. The term “Turan” means “the land of the wild oxen.” The ancient name of present-day Turkmenistan is Turan.

In Greek records of the 1st millennium B.C., the name of the Turanian tribe “Augas” is mentioned. Information about the Turanians can also be found in Ferdowsi’s “Shahnameh”. Tur, one of Feridun’s three sons, is granted Turan by his father. In the third and fourth millennia B.C., they lived at the foothills of the Kopetdag and were engaged in agriculture. Archaeological finds in this region, especially the patterns on pottery, are repeated in the traditional Turkmen carpets that are characteristic of the region today. The ornate decorations of the traditional clothes worn at weddings, resembling spring colors, the embellishments on horses, the Ahalteke horses, and carpets are all ancient heritage that scientific research has revealed. In the Oghuznamas, it is stated that the descendants of Sun Khan lived in a red house. The color red, like the sun, represents the descendants of Sun Khan. The red color of household items, such as those found in ancient artifacts, has long been a defining feature of the Oghuz era. These ideas are more clearly expressed in “Swift Step of the Horse Racer” and “The Elegance of the Heavens”. The Turkmen horse and carpet have immortalized the Teke ethnonym as well as the toponyms of the Ahal. In this context, the clarification of linguistic roots is essential. The Teke ethnonym is not derived from totem beliefs, but if it were, it would likely be traced back to the word “tüwe” in the modern Turkmen language. After further analysis, the results suggest that the ancient tribal name “dah”, in its old form “dahe”, eventually gave rise to the ethnonym “Teke.” Our ances-hem-de türkmen halysy ahal toponimikasyny, teke etnonimini ebedileşdirdi. Şunuň bilen baglylykda hem sözköküniň aýan edilmegi hökmany ýagdaýdyr. Teke totem ynanjyndan dörän däldir, eger şeýle bolanlygynda hem ol aslyny häzirki zaman türkmen dilindäki “tüwe” sözünden alýandyr. Has anygy, seljermelerden soňky netijäni şeýle beýan etmekçi, ýagny gadymy kowum ady “dah”, gadymda bu “dahe” görnüşinde hem ulanylypdyr. “Dahe” sözünden “teke” etnonimi döräpdir. The influence of Zoroastrianism, which spread in the 7th century B.C., had a strong impact on the culture of the people.

I would like to point out the meaning of Zoroastrianism, which can be interpreted as “zara-fighter” and “astra-stars.” Fire worship is a doctrine that emerged in connection with the Heavens.

The Oghuzes, who had significant political and economic power, practiced the belief in the Sky God – Gok Tanri. This is fully confirmed by ancient Oghuz-Orkhon inscriptions. In the inscriptions of Kyultegin and Bilge Kagan, it is stated, “When the Heavens above and the Earth below were created, between these two, the human race was formed. At the head of the human race sat my ancestors, Bumyn khan and Istemi khan.” In the 6th century, the Oghuzes spread from the Great Wall of China to the Caspian Sea. The unity of the Sky and the Earth became a belief of the Oghuz peoples. During that period, the Gokturkmens were skilled in smelting iron and making weapons and tools from it. As it has been previously mentioned, the ancient Oghuz epic Ergenekon is estimated by scholars to be around four thousand years old. In Ergenekon, it is stated, “There was no place in the

VI asyrdaky oguzlar Hytaý diwaryndan Hazar deňzine çenli çäge eýe bolýarlar. Asman-Zemin bitewüligi oguz nesilleriniň ynam-ygtykatyna öwürlipdir. Şol döwürlerde göktürkmenler demir eredip, ondan ok-ýaraglary, zähmet gurallaryny ýasamaga ezip ekenler. Gadymy “Ergenokan” oguz dessanynyň ýaşy, alymlaryň çaklamalaryna görä, dört müň ýyldyzy diýipdik. “Ergenokanda”: “Türk illerinde Göktürk Turkic lands where Gokturk arrows could not reach, or Gokturk influence could not extend. The Gokturks were sovereign.” The events described in the epic about extracting iron from the mountain rocks highlight the presence of profoundly significant information about human life that deserves attention. The processing of iron highlighted a crucial aspect in the development of the world, akin to the modern scientific objective of discovering new reliable energy sources. The iron production of the Gokturkmens played a significant role in the global economy. The reason I refer to these examples is that they illustrate the ancient roots of the Oghuz ep-

Dessandaky dağyň gaýasyndan demir alnyşy haýyndaky wakalar eserde adamzat durmuşynyň üns berilmeli juda degerli maglumatlarynyň bardygyna güwä geçýär. Demriň işlenilmegi dünýäniň ösüşinde energiýanyň täze ygtybarly çeşmeleriniň oýlanyp tapylmagynyň häzirki zaman ylmynyň maksatlaryn wezipelerindäki wajyplygy ýaly möhüm ýagdaýy ýüze çykardy. Göktürkmenleriň demir önümçiligi dünýäniň ykdysadyýetinde uly hyzmata eýedir. Bu mysallara ýüzugra salgylanýanlygym, oguz dessanlarynyň gadymylygynyň köklerinde halkymyzyň irki durmuş-ykdysady ýagdaýyndan habar berýän maglumatlaryň jemleniligi üçindir.

Each belief system and way of life is founded upon humanity's devotion to creation. Devotion to creation is love, and this love encompasses the entire Universe. The truth of Oghuz roots from this love.

The Oghuz belief lies in the unity of the Universe. The word Tanry (God) is derived from the words gün (sun) and är (man), which reasonably implies the meaning “Father God.” Oghuz khan, the sovereign of the divine throne, holds a significant position in the political and cultural landscape of the ancient world. Accordingly, the literary heritage of Oghuznama is of a great importance in the history of the world literature.

The unity of Heaven and Earth is the central concept for understanding the beliefs and faiths of ancient civilizations. The incomprehensible supreme power that breathes life into creation resides in the union of Heaven and Earth.

The sacred belief of the Hindus, Rama, also reflects this idea, with “Ra” symbolizing the Sky and “ma” symbolizing the Earth.

Among the Greeks, the name of the goddess Hera is also semantically related to this concept, as “ge” signifies the Earth and “ra” once again denotes the Sky.

my dünýäniň syýasy we medeni giňişliginde örän uly orun eýeleýär. Şoňa görä, “Oguznama” edebi mirasy hem dünýä edebiýatynyň taryhynda uçursyz uly ähmiýete eýedir.

Asman-Zemin bitewüligi dünýäniň gadymy halklarynyň ynam-ygtykatyna düşünmegiň esasy merkezidir. Ýaradylyşa jan berýän akyla sygmaz beýik güýç Asman-Zemindedir.

Hindileriň mukaddes ynanjy Rama bolup, “ra” – asman, “ma” – ýer diýen manyny aňladýar.

Hytaýlaryň sygynyňany Hunnu asman-ýer manysyny berýär, “hu” – asman diýmek, “nu” – zemin-dir.

Rimde Roma uýýarlar, “ro” – asman, sözüň ikinji bölegi “ma”, ýagny ýer diýmekdir.

In Chinese belief, Hunnu represents the unity of Heaven and Earth, with “hu” meaning Sky and “nu” referring to the Earth.

In Rome, the concept of Roma reflects a similar idea, where “ro” symbolizes the Sky, and the second part of the word, “ma,” signifies the Earth.

In Persia, the name “Ahura Mazda” represents sacredness, with its root also symbolizing Heaven and Earth, where “ahura” means Sky, and “mazda” means Earth.

The Sumerian “Anki” also derives from this belief, where “an” means Sky and “ki” means Earth.

For humanity, at certain points in history, the union of Heaven and Earth is the life-giving force of creation. This belief is widely reflected in the cultures of various peoples.

The unity of Heaven and Earth is symbolized in the Oguz khan mythos. One of our contemporary poets writes in his sonnet, “Love,” expressing this sentiment: “Our father is the Sky, our mother is the Earth,

Can we live without loving them?”

There are two principles in creation. The triad – Oghuz’s children of Earth and Heaven. Thus, duality becomes a triad. The children of both Heaven and Earth number three each, making six in total. Each trio is spiritually rooted in the con-

Oguz hanyň Asman-Zemin bitewüligi jübütligi alamatlandyrýar.

Zehinli döwürdeş şahyrlarymyzyň biriniň “Söýgi” diýip atlandyran sonetler çemeninden:

Asman-a – atamyz, Zemin – enemiz,

Ýene söýmän ýaşamaly ýene biz?!

İki san ýaradylyşyň özünde bar. Üçlük – Ogzuň Zemin hem Asman perzentleri. Şeýdibem ikilik üç bolýar. Asman eneli we Zemin eneli perzentler üç-üçden, bular alty bolýar. Her üçlügiňem ruhy esaslandyrylmasy düýn, şu gün, ertir ýa-da öten zaman, häzirki zaman, geljek zaman düşüňjelerinde ýaşaýar. Çeper diliň gorundaky “aýagyň düşmek”, “işň düşmek”, “dişň düşmek” söz düzümleriniň üçlüginiň hem tötänlik dældigi aýdyňdyr.

Aýtjak bolýanym, milli ruhy dagtyň dänesini saýlamaly özümüz, ondaky miwäniň tagamynam özümüz duýmaly. Ylym niredede näme bardygyny açar, galan hikmetiň niredediginiň bolsa, ýitilik bilen aslyna ýetmeli.

Oguz hanyň alty perzendi alty tarapyň aňlatmasynyň ruhy özeninde ýaşaýar. Gündogar, günbatar, günorta, demirgazyk, ileri, cepts of yesterday, today, and tomorrow, or the past, present, and future. In our poetic language, the phrases like “Aýagyň düşmek” (He/she brought good fortune), “işň düşmek” (need for someone’s help), and “dişň düşmek” (losing strength or power) also reflect this triadic structure, showing their significance is not coincidental.

What I am trying to say is that the seed of the national and spiritual tree must be chosen by us, and we must feel the taste of its fruit. Science reveals what is hidden, but the essence must be sought through wisdom, discovering the truth through effort and persistence.

Oghuz khan’s six children represent the spiritual foundation that aligns with the six directions of the world – East, West, South, North, forward, and backward. The concepts of “forward” and “backward” are still actively used today. “Forward” denotes the higher path, while “backward” denotes the lower path.

Oghuz’s children of Heaven and Earth signify his sovereign belief system. Another example of numbers reflecting national-spiritual essence is the decimal system. In the ancient Oghuz calendar, a week was equal to ten days. It is characteristic feature of our speech that instead of saying “one week,” we say “ten days.”

gaýra. Häzirem tarap aňladylanda “ileri, gaýra” düşünjeleri işjeň ulanylýar. Ileri beýigräk ugry, gaýra pesräk ugry aňladýandyr.

Ogzuň Asman-Zemin perzentleri onuň hökmürowanlyk ynanjyny alamatlandyrýar. Ýene sanlaryň milli ruhy özen esaslylygyny äşgär edýän mysallaryň biri onluk sanyň aňlatmasyndadyr. Gadymy oguz hasabynda bir hepde on güne deň ekeni. Häli-häzirlerem bir hepde diýmegiň ornuna “on gün” diýilýändigini sözleşimiz üçin häsiýetli ýagdaýdyr.

“One week ten days.”

It may seem odd, but in reality, this expression uncovers the spirit of the people. When the word “week” is used, it is followed by “ten days,” which connects us to the deep cultural and spiritual heritage of the Oghuz people.

In our culture, the number eighty-four holds great significance. The famous Turkmen singer N. Gulov’s song “In my eighty-fifth year,” sung with a special tone, exemplifies this.

The significance of numbers was also discussed in my work “Swift Step of Race Horse.” It is a well-known fact that large international sports events are also based on this belief. If we think deeply, this too originates from the Oghuz era.

The Sky is symbolized by the Moon, and the Sun is considered the father, while the Earth is symbolized by Water, the mother. The concept of “Mother Earth” is present in many cultures, and it can be traced back to the Oguz belief system or may even originate from it. It is believed that if a person sees the Moon a thousand times in their lifetime, they will live to the age of eighty-four. When a small child walks, they are often led by someone holding their hand, but there is a belief that the Moon-father tugs at the child’s hand. When a girl is married, water is sprinkled behind her, symbol-Asman şalygy – Aý, Gün – ata saýlýar, Zemin şalygy – Suw ene saýlýar. Köp halklarda “ene ýer” diýip aýdylmagam oguz ygtykatynyň täsiridir ýa-da onuň özüdir. Adam ömründe mün gezek Aý görse, segsen dört ýaşayan ekeni. Ýaş çaga Aýa garşy elinden tutulyp ýöredilýär. Şonda Aý ata onuň golundan dartýar diýen ynam bar. Gyz çykarylanda onuň yzyndan suw sepilýär. Bu onuň atasy öýünden gidenligini aňladýar. Suw – gyz, ene, ol durmuşa çykyp, başga bir öýe düşýär. Şeýle mysallar türkmen döp-dessurlarynda juda kän, olary alymlaryň geljekde has hem içgin öwrenjekdiklerine ynanyryn.

Bu pikiriň “Oguznamalardan” has soňraky döwürlerde ýazylan “Görogly” dessanyndaky beýany bilen okyjy tanyşdyr. izing that she has left her father’s home. Water represents the girl, the mother, and her transition into a new home after marriage. Many similar examples exist in Turkmen customs, and I believe scholars will explore them even more deeply in the future.

I would like to draw your attention to another point here: the North is black, the East is red, the West is blue, and the South is white. These are also Oghuz symbols. The names of the seas – Black Sea, Red Sea, and White Sea – are remnants of the ancient Oghuz language, we would not be wrong. This idea is reinforced by a passage in the “Görogly” epic, written after the Oghuznama” period. It serves as proof that two distinct literary traditions, although from different eras, share a spiritual continuity.

Looking at Turkmen carpets, one can see that the design is divided into four parts, with each part distinguished by a different color. The famous Turkmen linguist Kashgarly also provided information about the Oghuz people’s territories, and he created a map of the region in his time.

The living image of our people’s past is in those valuable pieces of information.

The original meaning of “Il han” is the ruler of the state. I should also mention that the concepts of “Il,” Türkmen halysyna garap görüň, ondaky göl hem dörde bölünýär, özem her parasy reňk taýdan tapawutlandyrylýar. Görnükli türkmen dilşynasy Mahmyt Kaşgarlynyň oguzlaryň ýer-ýurtlary haýndaky maglumatlary şol döwrüň kartasyny düzýär.

Il-halkymyzyň geçmişiniň janly suraty şol gymmatly maglumatlardadyr.

Il han diýmegiň asyl köki “döwletiň hany” diýmekdir. Il-halk-döwlet düşünjeleriniň many ugurdaşlygynyň bardygyny hem aýdaýyn.

Göktürkmenleriň taryhyna degişli maglumatlarda ýurduň baştany “ilhan” diýilýär. Näçe wagt geçse-de, oguzlar öz taryhlaryny baýlaşdyryp, onuň geljekki nesillere elýeterli bolmagyny başarypdylar.

Oguznamaçylygyň, bilşimiz ýaly, ylmy merkezi, taglymatlarynyň jemlenen ýeri takyk bolmasa-da, olar halkyň emer-damarynda, aň-ynamynda ýaşapdyr. Hut şonuň üçin hem “Oguznamalaryň” özüniň gönüden-göni taryhdygyna hiç şek-şübhe bolup bilmez. Munuň özi edebiýatyň şol döwürdäki taryh ylmyna dahylly wezipesini aýan edýär.

Eseriň dürli nusgalarynda Oguz öz nesillere täze ýer-ýurtlary mülk edinmegi tabşyrýar. Desanyň baş maksadynyň wakalaryň

“people,” and “state” are closely related in meaning. In the historical records related to the Gokturkmen people, the head of the state is referred to as “ilhan.” Over time, the Oghuz people have successfully enriched their history, ensuring that it remains accessible to future generations.

As we know, the scientific center of Oghuz narrative traditions and their doctrines are not precisely identified, but they have lived on in the labor and spirit of the people. This is precisely why there can be no doubt about the historical nature of the Oghuznama. This reveals the role of literature in the historical science of that period.

In the different versions of the Oghuznama, Oghuz instructs his descendants to settle new lands and territories. While the primary goal of the epic is to provide a brief overview of historical events, it does not always allow for a detailed portrayal of daily life. Instead, it focuses more on significant events and key moments that shaped the destiny of the people. The fate of the il (people) and halk (nation) is central to the narrative, and the work highlights crucial moments that contributed to their history.

In different versions of the work, Oghuz ordered his descendants to conquer new lands and territories. Since the main purpose of the epic gysgaça beýanyny jemlemek bolanlygy üçin, durmuşyň pursatlaryny öz bolşy ýaly suratlandyrmak doly başartmaýar. Bu ýerde, esasan, anyk wakalara üns berilýär. Häsiýet açmagyň öňde goýulýandygyna göz ýetirmek kyn däl. Dessanyň ähli nusgalarynda hem il-halkyň ykbalyna dahylly durmuşa geçirilen işler hakynda gürrüň berilýär. Şonuň üçin hem bu ýerde pikiriň esasy nokady il-halkyň ykbaly hakyndaky durmuşyň möhüm wakalaryndan ybaratdyr. Eseriň käbir nusgalarynda Gorkut atanyň, Erkil hojanyň keşpleriniň hereket etmegi bu eseriň soňraky döwürde hem ýazylyp, onda oguz durmuşynyň taryhy beýanynyň dowamy bar. Munuň özi, halkyň taryhyny giňişleýin açyp görkezýän gymmatly ýazgylardyr.

Oguz däp-dessurlary, milli ruhy keşbi anyk taryhy ýazgylarda hem şöhlelenýär. Göktürkmenleriň hany Bumyn hanyň döwründe Oguz handan gaýdýan ýörelgeleriň rowaçlanandygy aýdylýar. Şol döwürüň taryhyna degişli giçki döwürüň çeşmelerinden bize gymmatly ýazgylar miras galypdyr.

Bumyn han han saýlananda, egindeşleri ony atkeçä mündürip, Günüň aýlanyşy ýaly dokuz gezek aýlapdyrlar. Her aýlawda hem onuň önünde baş egip, tagzym is to briefly summarize events, there is not enough space to describe moments of life in their entirety. Here, the focus is primarily on specific events. It is not difficult to see that character development is a central theme. In all versions of the epic, the actions taken concerning the fate of the people are discussed. Therefore, the main point of the narrative is centered on the significant events of the people's destiny. In some versions of the work, the figures of Gorkut Ata and Erkil Hoja are portrayed, showing that the epic was written in a later period and serves as a continuation of the historical narrative of Oghuz life. This is a valuable record that provides an expanded view of the people's history.

Oghuz traditions and the national spiritual character are clearly reflected in historical writings. It is said that during the reign of Bumyn khan, the principles originating from Oghuz khan were thriving. Valuable records from the later period, related to the history of that time, have been passed down to us.

When Bumyn khan was elected the khan, his peers performed a ritual by making him walk around a ceremonial circle nine times, similar to the movement of the Sun. During each round, they bowed before him, showing respect. Following the ancient tradition, the future edipdirler. Soňra, gadymy däbe görä, geljekki han bedewe mündürilýär, onuň boýnuna ak ýüpek ýaglyk mäkäm daňylýar. Boýnundaky ýaglygy azajyk gowşadyp, “Näçe ýyl han bolup berersiň?” diýip sorayan ekenler. Bumyn han Oguz hanyň edähetine eýerip, döwlet dolandyrys edarasyny döredipdir. Döwletiň kanunçylyk esaslaryny berkidipdir. Bumyn han syýasy ýagdaýlar zerarly gowşan Ýüpek ýoluny gaýtadan dikeldipdir. Dünýä döwletleri bilen ysnysykly gatnaşyklary ýola goýupdyr. Oguz türkmenleriniň Beýik Hun döwleti döwründe bolşy ýaly, Göktürkmenleriň döwletinde hem hanyň ornuna nesil şalgynyň ýaşulusy tagta çykmary eken. “Oguznamada” ýaşula gatnaşygyň hem ezber işlenilendigini bellemelidir. Munuň özi “Ulusy bolmadygyň kiçisi bolmaz” diýen türkmen nakylynyň gadymylygyndan bir nusgadyr.

Halk döredijilik eserleri, umuman-ha, edebiýatyň bitewüligi aýan edýän gözbaşydyr. Nakyllardaky, atalar sözündäki, matallardaky, aýdymlardaky, gazallardaky, ertekilerdäki mazmunyň ruhy esasy olaryň haýsy zamana degişlidigini aýan edýär. Ýöne esasy nygtalmaly hakykat olaryň ruhy birligindedir, özara kök-damar baglylygyndadyr.

–Ilerimiz ýowşan-ýowşan, khan was dressed in ceremonial attire, with a white silk scarf tightly placed around his neck. When the scarf was slightly loosened, the question was asked, “How many years will you rule as a khan?” Bumyn khan, following Oghuz khan’s wisdom, established a governmental system, reinforcing the laws of the state. Due to political circumstances, he revived the Silk Road, strengthening connections with states around the world. Just as the Great Hun Empire had its governance structure, in the Gokturk state, the successor to the khan’s position was typically chosen from the elder generation of the noble lineage. The Oghuznama also emphasizes the importance of elders. This is an example of the ancient Turkmen saying, “Without the elder, there is no younger.”

Folk literature, in general, is a source that reveals the integrity of literature. The content of proverbs, sayings, idioms, songs, ghazals, and fairy tales reflects the spiritual essence of the time they belong to. However, the most important truth to emphasize is their spiritual unity, the interconnectedness of their roots and origins.

Şu setirleriň haçan dörändigini anyk aýdyp bolmazlygy mümkin. Ýöne onda türkmen durmuşyna laýyk keşp çekilýär. Gorkut atanyň pähimindäki “Kerwen geçenin tor-gaý biler, ýigidiň kimdigini enesi” halk nakyly gysgaldylyp, “Är-daýa” hem diýilýändir. Görnüşi ýaly, bu-lar bir ruhy akabadan gözbaş alan-dyrlar. Türkmeniň milli ruhunda zenan maşgala garaýşyň ähmiýetli-ligi şu edebi nusgalardan aýandyr. “Oguznamada”diňe zenanlaryň ýaşayan adasy hakyndaky hekaýat-laryň hem işlenilendigini ýatlalyň. Umuman, edebiýat halkyň ruhy barlygynyň ýeke-täk aýanlygydyr diýmek isleýäris. Edebiýat haýsy döwre degişli bolsa-da ol şol hal-kyň ruhundaky ýörelgeleri ýaşad-ýar. Gadymy hekaýatlarymyz, gym-matly “Oguznamalarymyz” – bu-lar milli ruhy kadalary ebedi türk-mençilik ýörelgelerine öwürdi.

It might be difficult to determine exactly when these lines originated, but they resonate deeply with the es-sence of Turkmen life. The wisdom of Gorkut Ata “The partridge knows that the caravan has passed, and the mother knows who the young man is,” shortened into a folk proverb “A man is like a brave woman”. It is clear that these sources are spiritu-ally connected. The significance of the role of women in the family, as seen in these literary examples, is evident in the Turkmen national spirit. Let’s also remember that in the Oghuznama, there are tales about the lands where women lived. Overall, I want to convey that lit-erature is the sole revelation of the spiritual existence of the people. Regardless of the time it belongs to, literature embodies the principles of that people’s spirit. Our ancient tales and valuable Oghuznamas have transformed the continuation of national spirituality into the eter-nity of Turkmen traditions.

Dear fellow citizens!

I wish you the same unyielding strength, stability, and bravery as our ancestors had!

This land is blessed with wisdom that enhances the mind and sharp-ens the intellect.

May the endless expression of our spiritual wealth inspire the hearts and bring clarity to our pur-pose!

Concern for a person is the basis of the statehood of our people. Because love and respect for people are the main pillars of the strengthening of society. In a highly civilized society, the most valuable asset is a person, his health in the full sense of the word. I consider the phrase “civilized” to be more appropriate in the definition of society, before the definitions of “perfection” and “development”. Because I consider “development” and “improvement” to be extremely conditional. My research on the rich heritage of our ancestors since the Oghuz times is basis for the emergence of such an idea. The fact that the national and spiritual core of Oghuz principles has not been destroyed in our time is a clear proof of these ideas. Oghuz khan proceeded from the fact that the most sustainable means of transmitting his teachings about life to future generations is human memory, even from stone inscriptions. The heritage of Oghuz khan entered the spirit of the Turkmen people, they

Ata-babalarymyzyň “Döwletiniň yrylmasyn” diýen arzuw-dilegi kökünü gadymyýetden alyp gaýdýar. Şeýle mazmunly pikirler teswirlenilende, köp-köp söhbet, ýakymly gürrüň edip boljaklygy-da şonuň üçindir.

Ideas reflecting the perspectives of Heaven and Earth are also preserved in the Kultegin inscriptions (dated 734). This is due to the belief rooted in the Turkmen soul that Heaven is the father and Earth is the mother. I believe that the broad meaning of the concept of “statehood” among our people is a reflection of such content in the national spirit. The desire of our ancestors that “May the state not fall apart” goes back to ancient times. That is why one can have many conversations and pleasant discussions when such significant thoughts are expressed.

“Statehood” is a very broad concept. When I said “Bird of happiness”, I tried to reveal only one aspect of this content. In fact, “statehood” concentrates such concepts as respect, unity, competence, attentiveness, and many other positive qualities, which mean happiness and prosperity. In our traditions, dating back to the time of our ancestors, a strong place has been occupied by the feeling of pride in this “happiness”. As I said earlier, our ancestors, who lived in the hope of the well-being of not only their own home, but also their society, village, and the place where they first came, meniklilik, ýiti üşüklilik hem başga-da juda köp oňyn häsiýetdäki bagtyýarlygy, gurgunlygy aňladýan şeýle düşüňjeler “döwletlilikde” jemlenendir. Ata-babadan bäri dowam edip gelýän edähetlerimizde, şol “döwlete” guwanmak duýgusy pugta orun alypdyr. Öňem aýdysym ýaly, diňe bir öz öýüniň däl, eýsem syrgynynyň, obasynyň, asyl gözüniň ýeten ýeriniň abadanlygynyň dileginde ýaşayan ata-babalarymyz ynsanyň mertebe beýikligini onuň jemgyýete bolan gatnaşygyn-da görüpdirlir. Oguz il-ulsunyň dünýäniň çar künjünde döwlet gurup, dostlukly gatnaşyklary ýola goýmagyň aladasynda bolmagynyň özi, türkmençiligi açyp görkezmegiň asyl binýadydyr. Owalynda “türkmençilik” diýen ylym ýokdur. Türkmençilik diýilýän asylly ýörelgeler ylmy esasda heniz doly açylan hem däl. Ýöne onuň düýpli öwrenilmegi wajypdyr. Men muny nygtap aýdýaryn. Döwrüň pähim-paýhas ýörelgelerini aýdyň etmegiň düýp esasy türkmençilikdedir. Häzirki döwrüň ynsanperwerlik ýörelgeleriniň ýeke-täk aýnasyny men gursagymyza guýlan, aňymyzda berkän şol ýörelgelerde görýärim.

Türkmençilik Oguz hanyň agzybirlilik taglymatydyr. Häzirki döwürde bu taglymat dünýä halklary-saw the dignity of a person in his relationship with society. The fact that the Oghuz people were concerned about building a state and establishing friendly relations in all four corners of the world is the original basis for revealing Turkmen principles. In the past, there was no such science as “Turkmen principles”. The noble principles called Turkmen principles have not yet been fully revealed on a scientific basis. However, it is important to study them thoroughly. I say this with emphasis. The essence of clarifying the principles of wisdom of the era lies in Turkmen principles. I see the only mirror of the humanistic principles of the present era in those principles that have been instilled in our hearts and firmly rooted in our consciousness.

Turkmen principles is the doctrine of unity of Oghuz khan. Today, this doctrine is united in the peaceful goals of the peoples of the world and is successful in their development.

Turkmen principles is the Oghuz statehood. It is the Oghuznamas that the descendants of Oghuz left to their descendants.

I believe that collecting Oghuznamas, that is, stories about the history of the Oghuz people, and passing them on to future generations, Türkmençilik Oguz döwletliligidir. Ogzuň nesilleriniň özlerinden soňrakylara galdyran “Oguznamalarydyr”.

Bize “Oguznamalary”, ýagny oguz il-ulsunyň taryhy hakyndaky hekaýatlary toplan, geljekki nesillere galdyrmagyň geçmişiň şu güne çenli dowam edip gelyän berk ýörelgesidigine ynanyaryn. Ata-balarymyzdan galan şol gymmatly ruhy mirasy döwrümiziň pähim-paýhasyna ýugrup, geljege sary göndermek biziň borjumyzdyr.

Älem bitewüligi hakyndaky hakykata uýan Oguz han dünýäniň çar künjüni özüniňki saýýar. Onuň döwleti örnäp, juda uly giňişlige hökümi ýöreyär.

Asman - Zemin aralygyna milli ruhuň doly ygtyýarlygyny dabaralandyran Oguz han “döwletlilik” ine, şeýle aýratynlyklaryň esasynda açýar. “Oguznamalarda” Oguz hanyň ýörişlerine aýratyn ähmiýet berilmegi-de düýpli esasydyr. Özi-de şol esasyň hem asyrlar aşyp is a strong principle of the past that has continued to this day. It is our duty to infuse this valuable spiritual heritage left by our ancestors into the wisdom of our time and pass it on to the future.

Adhering to the truth of the unity of the world, Oghuz khan considered the four corners of the world to be his own. His state has developed and ruled over a vast territory.

The unity of Heaven and Earth is the embodiment of the Oghuz spirit. As the state develops, it expands its scope of involvement in the concept of “statehood”. “Statehood” is a fundamental concept in terms of geography, economics, culture, and politics.

Oghuz khan, glorifying the complete power of the nation’s soul in the space of Heaven and Earth, reveals “statehood” on the basis of such characteristics. There is also a fundamental reason for attaching a special importance to the marches of Oghuz khan in the Oghuznamas. And the preservation of this basis over the centuries lies in its transformation into life itself. Here I want to return to what I said about the uniqueness of Turkmen literature. This literature, in a word, is life itself. In it, as it is known, there are not imaginary heroes, fictional heroes, but the fates of specific individuals.

ýaşamagy onuň durmuşyň özüne öwrülmegindedir. Şu ýerde türkmen edebiyatynyň özboluşlylygy hakyndaky aýdanlaryma gaýtadan dolanasym gelýär. Bu edebiyat, bir sözde aýdanyňda, durmuşyň özüdir. Onda, mälim bolşy ýaly, howaýy toslanan gahrymanlar däl-de, anyk şahsyýetleriň ykbaly bardyr. Sähel üşügi bolana Oguz, Gorkut, Görogly, Magtymguly zamanlarynyň edebiyatlarynyň ruhy baglanyşygyna – özara pähim-paýhas köprüsine düşünmek kyn däl-dir. Men ýene-de nygtasym gelýär, edebiyat haýsy döwre degişli hem bolsa, ondan türkmen halkynyň mizemez ruhy gözbaşlarynyň seriňi sämediji, jadyly, kalby heýjana salýan täsiri duýulýar. Oguz, Gor-

It is not difficult for a person with a ordinary imagination to understand the spiritual connection of the literature of the times of Oghuz, Gorkut, Gorogly, Magtymguly – the bridge of mutual wisdom. I would like to emphasize once again that no matter what era the literature belongs to, the mysterious, magical, soul-stirring influence of the timeless spiritual roots of the Turkmen people is felt in it. Oghuz, Gorkut, Gorogly, Magtymguly – these are national heroes who felt the joy and sweetness of the ancestors and boiled their spiritual heritage in the inspiration and cauldron of wisdom. In this way, they gave life to the eternal life of values. I would also comment on this in detail in

Ine, “Döwletliniň perzendi ýaşadygyça baş bolar, ...” diýilýändir. “Baş bolmak” – köpüň göwnüne laýyk işleri amal edip bilmekdir. Nakylyň ikinji bölegi “bidöwletlilik” hakyndadyr. Ine, şunuň bilen bagly many gapma-garşylygyna dykgat edeniňde, “döwletlilik” köp bilmekdir, dünýä geregiçe akyl ýetirmek, ir düşünmekdir. a Turkmen proverb. They say that “As long as the son of a happy man lives, he will be a leader, ...”. “To be a leader” is to be able to do things that please many. The second part of the proverb is about “unhappiness”. Here, when you pay attention to the contrast of meaning, “statehood” is about to know more, to understand the world, to understand the world better. A person becomes a leader of his people, then a leader of his fellow countrymen, and as he recognizes his wisdom, ability, and strength, the burden on him is also becomes heavier. If many people trust you, you must live up their expectations. “Statehood” is a concept related to that trust. Here, the main thing is not within the framework of one concept. For whether great things come from small things or small things from great things, this is not yet the final conclusion, although this has been said before. It is clear to the devoted reader that I am not addressing these thoughts for the first time.

Our principles, which have existed since the time of Oghuz, have now spread out and are concentrated in the entire existence of the people. I would explain the humanistic policy of our state as the commitment to the principles of our ancestors. Then people will become rich.

Every person wishes to see his spiritual continuation in his descendants. A person who is loyal to his hearth with his soul and heart keeps the spiritual continuation of that hearth alive, and thus gives life to the spiritual heritage of the entire nation. The eternity of the spirit is the eternity of the good quality and beautiful temperament. The courage, bravery and cordiality are the manifestations of this eternity.

The fact that the Oghuznamas contains legends about the early stages of human existence that are common to almost all nations indicates that the main goal of this work is peace between Heaven and Earth. Peace on the Earth is the wish of Oghuzes. Oghuz khan pursued his

Oguz han asylly ýörelgeleriň dünýä ýaýylmagy üçin öz syýasatyny ýöredýär. Oguz hanyň bedewe atlanmagynyň aňyrsynda adamzadyň abadan geljegi hakyndaky möhüm aladalar bar. Hut şonuň üçinem eseriň nusgalarynyň esasy aýratynlygy onuň belent ruhda beýan edilmegindedir. Desanlarda gündelik durmuşyň meselelerine Älemiň gözýetiminden nazar aýlanýar. Onuň özeninde bolsa, Älem bilen sazlaşykly ýaşaýşa ynam jemlenendir.

Oguz hanyň bagt, döwlet hakyndaky pähim-paýhasy durmuşyň özünde ýaşap, ynamymyzda berkäpdir. Türkmen döwletliligi şu günüň bagtyýarlygydyr. Ol gadym oguz iliniň Berkarar döwletiniň täze eýýamynyň Galkynyşy döwrüniň ygrar-ynamydyr.

Döwletli durmuş bagtlylykdyr. Bagtyň nämedigi hakynda adamzat ençe sowallara jogap agtarýar. Bagt döwletliligiň hususylykdaky duýgusydyr. Döwletlilik bolsa, jemgyýetiň ykrar etmesidir. Şu jähetden alanynda, döwletlilik bagtyýarlykdan giň düşünjedir. Bagt gadymy türkmen dilinde “gut” policy to spread noble principles throughout the world. There are important concerns about the prosperous future of the mankind behind Oghuz khan’s mounting a horse. That is why the main feature of the work is their description of the high spirit. In the epics, the problems of everyday life are viewed from the perspective of the Universe. At its core there is belief in living in harmony with the Universe.

Oghuz khan’s wise ideas of happiness and statehood lives in our lives and firmly rooted in our beliefs. The Turkmen statehood is today’s happiness. It is certainty in the prosperous epoch of the Powerful state of the ancient Oghuz people.

Regular life is happiness. The mankind is looking for many answers to what happiness is. Happiness is the personal feeling of the statehood. The statehood is recognition of the society. In this regard, the statehood is a broader concept than happiness. The prefix “gut-” means happiness in the old Turkmen language. The words like “Gutly bolsun (congratulation)” and “gutluk” have not lost their meaning even today. The concept “happiness” is related to the soul. “State” is the dignity. It is the wealth acquired for the sake of fame or it is the spiritual wealth aimed at a long future. Here, matediýlip aňladylýar. “Gutly bolsun”, “gutluk” ýaly sözlerimiz häzirki döwürde hem öz manysyny ýitirmän gelyär. “Bagt” göwün bilen bagly düşünjedir. “Döwlet” mertebelilikdir. Bu şan-şöhratdan ötri gazanylan baýlykdyr ýa-da uzak geljege niýetlenilen ruhy gençdir. Bu ýerde maddy baýlyk ruhy genjiň saýasyn-daky bal miweli daragtdyr. Sebäbi pylankes bolup, il içinde abraý alanyňdan soň, öz ýanyňdan oňlan işiňi il bähbidi üçin ýerine ýetirer ýaly, gaznaňda gor bolmalydyr. Abraýly kişiniň gazanan baýlygy egsilmezdir, ol akyl-payhas kesgirliги, zehiniň ýitiligi, başarjaňlyk, halallyk, erjellik bilen gazanylan baýlykdyr. Türkmençilikde birini tanatmak üçin, ilki aýdylýan söz onuň halal adamlygydyr. Halallyk diňe bir gelip çykyşyň däl, eýsem, seniň ertiriňe-de kepiliňdir. Leb-zihalallyk halkymyzyň imanyna deňňan polat ýaly berk ýörelgesidir.

Ýaşayşyň usuly Äleme aňly garaýyşdan emele gelyär. Zemini we Asmany özüňden aýry, adatdan daşary güýç saýmak özüňe ynam-rial wealth is a fruitful tree under the shadow of spiritual wealth. Because after gaining respect among the people, one should have a treasure in one's treasury so that one can do the work that one has been entrusted with for the benefit of the people. The wealth gained by a reputable person is inexhaustible, it is wealth acquired through wisdom, sharpness of intellect, resourcefulness, honesty, and perseverance. By the Turkmen principle, the first thing that is said to introduce someone is his or her honesty. Honesty is not only a guarantee of your origin, but also a guarantee of your future. Keeping a promise is a principle as strong as steel, which is equal to the faith of our people.

Keeping a promise is the life dignity. From the moment of the birth of the Oghuz, the true expression of this truth is revealed in subsequent events. Here, faith is the basis of living properly and purposefully, without damaging the harmony of life.

The way of life is formed from a conscious attitude towards the Universe. Considering the Earth and the Sky as a separate, supernatural force from oneself is a lack of self-confidence. Man develops his consciousness by taking examples from all things in creation.

There are lines in Omar Khayyam work:

– If the Earth is a ring,

– Then the mankind is its ornament, adornment and precious stone.

The wisdom is not born, it lives. I say that these lines, which glorify the great doctrine of humanity, are a collection of scientific definitions that prove the interconnectedness of all things in creation. Imagine yourself for a moment as a “ring of the earth” created only for good. Your horizons, indeed, expand. You are surrounded only by wonderful things. Only then does a person become humane, rise to greatness.

The stories in the Oghuznamas are rich in symbolic meaning. Since truth lives in stories, it must be understood. At the beginning, we cited a legend as an example about the dissatisfaction of people who rely on others to act for them. Yes, when explained, the essence becomes clear. Observe and notice how some people grasp meaning from actions, attitudes, or even half-spoken words! In Turkmen culture, such a person is called “menikli” – a diligent and dedicated person. Today, we must also comprehend the value of that great heritage left by our ancestors. I believe that the reason why the wisdom of Oghuz khan was not rendered in a separate book lies in its deep integration with the national spirit and its enduring legacy.

The heritage of the ancient Turkmen literature is a flawless example of artistic and literary thought. The linguistic heritage of the Oguznamas and the depth of their content reveal the philosophical meaning of happiness and statehood.

The state is the image of happiness.

Happiness is the moment of the state.

I see the image of happiness and statehood in these concepts.

The first image of happiness and statehood is embodied here:

Home: hearth, city, village, fortress, structure...

It is mentioned in the Berlin manuscript of the Oghuznama that Oghuz khan had built a house with a golden dome. In the Paris manuscript, this event is described in a greater detail, stating that Oghuz khan placed a forty-cubit tree on his right side with a golden rooster on top and a white sheep at the base, and another forty-cubit tree on his left side with a silver rooster on top and a black sheep at the base. The Bozoks sat on his right, and the Uchoks on his left,

Let us also note that architectural culture was also characteristic of the agricultural population. At this point, I would like to recall some information about the history of our beloved homeland.

The monuments of the Jeytun culture, dating back to the 5th millennium BC and encompassing the area between Bamy in the western part of Baharly etrap and Mane to the southeast of ancient Abiverd, attract the attention of scholars. Due to natural conditions, the Jeytun people predominantly migrated to the Goksuyri (Tejen) oasis. Thanks to the diligence of these early agri-

Gara reňkli iki bars olaryň yzyndan ýetjek bolýar. Bu ýordum Alynky Aziýanyň gadymy döwürleriniň sungatynda köp duş gelýär.

The most ancient sample of the fine art found in the territory of Turkmenistan was that found at Pessejikdepe (Low hill) monument in the territory of the Gokdepe etrap, which dates back to the 6th millennia BC. I have mentioned this example because thoughts about Ogkuz khan's life wander there, inspired by every corner, steppe and mountain of this region. One particular picture found at Pessejikdepe monument amazes more than others. The background of the picture is white, the creatures, very much resembling running horses, are depicted with red colour. Two leopards painted in black chase them. This motif is common in the ancient art of the western Asia.

If you pay attention, you will found out that, one author's work differs from others, generally speaking, I want to say that all creative figures have their own manner. In fact, this is the power, which makes art – a real art! Many things could be said about this. While thinking about ancient history of our people, one should think deeply about a puzzling mystery captivated in our memories and minds along with the facts approved by the scientific community. That is, I would like to men-

Believes in the value of human being, in his limitless ability to feel beauty in the unity of this world and heaven, in harmony of life exist forever. The stereotype, that all figures who made inventions in the past were recognized, is not completely true. Their birth itself is invention, the creation is real invention. Being an outstanding person is a destiny. The main secret is to believe in that destiny. Our genuine humanitarian principles would not find their reflection in our national and spiritual existence called “principles of Turkmen people” unless each Turkmen wholeheartedly believed in great Oghuz descendants. If secret of any greatness was obvious, it would not make much impression. Books of the “Oghuznama” do not define which value of life is more important than the others. Proverbs and preaches are more suitable from Gorkut ata's words! Oghuz khan gives admonitions to his sons only at the end of the book. This was his duty as a leader of the nation and as a head of the family!

Let us refer to the simplest example. In the beginning of the book Oghuz khan was born with his own belief. Nevertheless, the rules and directions he followed were not acknowledged or written. Therefore, the life of Oghuzes is a book that serves as a source of parables! As I have mentioned before, history advocates information based only on the scientific analysis and facts. Feeling it and letting it pass through our hearts is our duty. I would like to emphasize that this is the main duty for a writer nowadays.

Our national literature is really a miracle! I believe that a man creates a miracle once he is at the top of his abilities. Nevertheless, I wish for more time to have a chance to speak on many more topics.

This literature based on parables and wisdom reflects life. It is amazing that our ancestors felt obliged to pass down those ancient legends, which are valuable for the whole humanity, to our future generations. That is why, Oghuz decedents continued their lives in these steppes, cliffs and blossoming fields full of love. They settled in here and filled hearts with warmth by the heat of their hearth. Home and hearth are the important sources of life experience in the modern world. The over-

Bagt-u-döwletiň ikinji suraty, ýurduň döwlet berkararlygynda ýüze çykýar.

The state of happiness is spiritual and material values, which have been universal through all times. Passing through mind these kind of scientific facts and philosophies, one comes to the following conclusion. Thousands of Turkmen houses, villages, etraps and beautiful cities situated in our beloved Motherland are the picture of the state of happiness.

The second picture of the state of happiness may be seen in the strong state of our country.

These words are familiar to the readers who are acquainted with our ancient literature. In our classical literature the solution of each problem is found within the framework of state institution. For instance, this is a core plot of the destans about love. Here, I would like to stress one more point. A characteristic feature of Turkmen people, which has been preserved to the present days, is that every human being is appreciated and respected as a nobleman. Commonly, rural elders or young people address one another adding the words “beg” or “khan” just to encourage them. These all are the democracy and declaration which remained in people's minds. Each Turkmen's house is his own palace. Each Turkmen man is as free as khans and begs. The occurrence of this view is the belief that personality is the creation's outcome.

Our main goal in the period of the Revival of the New Era of the Powerful State is to gain steady coincidence of the state principles with the life values of our high-spirited nation which is faithful to its core national features. Perpetuation of the names of our historical figures in the complex of the palaces of the President of Turkmenistan is a bright proof of that.

Turkmen history, which takes its roots from the Oghuz period, is a great history. The belief in a strong state always lived in the spiritual value of our nation because wish about state never lowered its love for freedom.

Preservation of nation's principles and trust became an obligatory, definite and legitimate duty just as passing down the customs of one hearth to the next generations turned into a rule in Turkmen families.

I am endlessly proud of our ancestor's wisdom. Even many millennia later, our nation could build a strong foundation on the basis of those principles glorifying human's Nurlulyk! Heý, mundan zyýada söz bolarmy?! Ynsan babatda “owadan” sözünü aýdasyň gelende, “nurly”, “nurana” diýilýär. Nurana adam – bu köňlün açyklygy babatda anyklykdyr. Köňli açyk adama duýgularyňy, pikirini, oýuňy ynanyp bolýar. Gijäniň ýagtylygy, oduň çogy, gündiziň kuýaşı – bular parahat ýaşaýşyň, gaýnap-josýan durmuşyň kepididir. My beloved nation! I see the third picture of the state of happiness in the following.

Shine: Moon, sun, torch, flame...

Shining! Could there ever be a word more wonderful than this?! Once we want to say that someone is “beautiful” we say that they are “shining” or “bright”. A shining person is definitely openhearted. One may trust his feelings, thoughts and plans to an openhearted person. Bright nights, flames of the fire and the Sun of the day are the guarantees of peaceful and bright life. These notions related to clarity have a fundamental role in our national and spiritual values.

The clarity of the goals of each of you in our beloved Motherland develops the meaning of life philosophy of Turkmen people. The Moon is celebration, the Moon is beauty, the Moon is clarity, the Moon is a secret. The Sun is beauty; the Sun is enlightenment. Torch is the light of the path you have chosen; it is the light of the eyes where openheartedness may be seen.

The picture of the state of happiness is a proof of highness of understanding of our national spirit.

Prairie: field, steppe, desert...

In the fifth case the picture of the state of happiness represents a natural model of high human dignity. The blossoming fields, unbelievably beautiful steppes, brown-sanded deserts are beauties which brought satisfaction to our souls through the mirrors of our souls.

Mountain: cliff, valley, rock...

Beauties like cliff, valley, rock, which make your head go around are natural creations which encourages souls and inspires human's spirit. The name of the fourth son of Oghuz khan is Dag khan (the Çarwalygyň we çomrulygyň utgaşykly ýaşaýyş-durmuş şertleri eserdäki wakalaryň beýany arkaly göz önüne gelýär.

Bag, gül tebigatda dynç almagyň şertliligini alamatlandyran mysaly teswirdir. Çünki göwnüň hem açylan çagy güle meňzeýär. Daragt – ýaşaýyşyň alamatydyr. “Nesil daragty” diýilýär. Durmuşyň in gözel görnüşlerini beýan etmegiň leksikasyndaky düşüňjeler milli, ruhy aňlaýyşyň serişdesidir.

Ir zamanlarda gadym oguz obalaryna ýakyn ýerde derek ekilip, ol gurgun mekanyň ýaşaýyş-durmuşy baradaky habarlary aňladyjy eken.

Bedew: at, maýa, iner... – bagt-u-döwletniň ýedinji suratydyr. Öý-ojagyň abadanlygy, döwletniň amanlygy, sähranyň, dag-düzüň gözelligi, baglaryň ygşyldysy bagtyň ýaýlasydyr.

Bagt-u-döwletniň sekizinji suraty guşdur: humaý, laçyn, kepkhan of mountains). Mountains are expression of our nation’s desire for high achievements in nature. Once thinking about human’s dignity everyone would correlate it with highness.

Sapling: tree, garden, flower... – this is the sixth picture of the state of happiness. One condition of describing prosperous life occurs in these forms. “Kishlak” (settlement in winter) and “yaylag” (steppe) were mentioned in the Oghuznama books, in the version written by Salar Baba Gulaly’s son Salar Harydar, in particular. Life conditions, which combine cattle breeding and horticulture appear in mind through the events in this book.

Tree, flower prove that relaxation is measured in nature. Joy resembles a blossoming flower. Tree is a symbol of life. That is why they call it “family tree”. Words used for the expression of the beautiful shapes of life are tools of cultural and spiritual understanding.

In ancient times poplar was planted nearby Oghuz villages which symbolized prosperous life of a strong land.

Tomus: sünbül, biýara, howur... – bagt-u-döwletiň ikinji pursadydyr.

“Oguznamanyň” Gazan şäherinde saklanýan nusgasyndaky “Nur ýawynyň han bolanyň beýanynda” “bugra” diýip bişirilýän aş barada gürrüň berilýär.

– Köňlüm bugdaý unundan bolan aş isleýär.

Aşpezleri aş esbabyn tapmadylar. Han un getirtedi. Hamyr etdi. Özi goly bilen gazana saldy. Oturan nökerleri hem hana eýerdiler. Bişirip içdiler. Aýtdylar:

are the mirror which show the importance of those moments.

Clearly, I see the moments of the state of happiness in the following.

Firstly, it is a spring season of nature.

Spring: rain, poppy, bellflower... Is it possible to help praising their loveliness?! Turkmen spring symbolizes that beautiful thoughts of a human being are enriched moment by moment. Genuinely the love to these beautiful steppes start from spring. The beauty of spring is the breath of the sky, sun and rain.

Summer: ears, rod, heat... – the second moment of the state of happiness. The meal called “bugra” is mentioned in the sample of the Oghuznama and in “Tale how Nur yawy became a king” preserved in Kazan city.

“I want a meal made from wheat flour”.

Cooks could not even find cooking tools. Khan brought some flour. He made dough. He put it into the cauldron with his own hands. Soldiers followed his example. They cooked and tried it. They said,

“Let this meal be called Bugra khan from now on.”

The colour of the beauty is spread in the sands in summer. Waving ears of the wheat match with sand in colour. This is the elegance.

Güýz: hasyl, harman...– bu bagt-u-döwletin üçünji pursadydyr. Türkmen durmuşynyň durmuş-ykdysady ýagdaýyny şertlendiriji ahwalyň alamatlandyryjysydyr. Güýzüň sahawaty güýz ekini döredýär. Topraga ynsanyň söýgüsinden miweler güýzäp, datly şekere öwrülýär.

Gyş: gar, yzgar, şüdügär...– bu bagt-u-döwletin dördünji bir pursadydyr. Ata-babalaryň pähimindäki şu aýtgy bu pursadyň degişli manysynyň takyk kesgitlemesidir: “Gyşy gyşsyramadygyn, ýazy ýazsyramaz”.

Her görnüşde tymsal bolşy ýaly, her pursat hem tymsaldyr. Bu görnüşlerde we pursatlarda bagt-u-döwleti aňlamagyň usuly jemlenendir.

Säher: bady-saba, daňlak, nesim... – bagt-u-döwletin başynji pursady türkmen milli ruhuna ymykly ornaşypdyr. “Sag-aman örmek” – säher bilen didarlaşmak. Ine, her günün bagtyýarlygy şunda.

Säher türkmen durmuşynyň ýakymlylyga eýlenen düşünjeleriniň örüsidir. Könekilerden ýadyma düşýär, gowy dileg edilende “Alnynda daňlak agarsyn” diýilýändir.

Saba – gündogardan öwüsýän säheriň hoştap şemaly, nesim – çar

The elegance of human’s wisdom which takes its colour from wheat is compared to summer.

The moments of the state of the happiness is in a secret connection of man and nature inside the soil.

The breath of the day is the Sun. The soil receives it strength from it. Rod is one of the chains of nature’s harmony.

Autumn: harvest, stock... this is the third moment of the state of happiness. This is the indicator which defines the social-economic living conditions of Turkmen people. The generosity of autumn presents the autumn crops. Fruits rape from human’s love and turn sweet.

Winter: snow, humidity, crop fields... this is the fourth moment of the state of happiness. This saying generated from the wisdom of our ancestors precisely describes the meaning of this moment: “The one who did not treat winter like winter, will not meet spring as spring”

There is a parable in every moment as well as in every picture. These views and moments contain the way of describing the state of happiness.

Dawn: breeze, sunrise, wind – the fifth moment of the state of happiness which firmly settled in Turkmen’s national spirit. “Getting up safe and sound” is the way of morning greeting. This is the happiness of every day.

Dawn is the set of notions in Turkmen’s life surrounded with charm. From past I remember that people used to make good wishes by saying, “May the sunrise bleach on your way.”

Breeze is a mild wind blowing from the east, a mild morning wind blowing from everywhere in the morning. It is very hard to describe these weather conditions without having actual experience. Through national and cultural understanding these notions are more widely spread in literature, philosophy, esthetics and ethics.

Day: sun, clarity... – I see the sixth moment of the state of happiness in these words. In Turkmen spiritual world it is expressed in one meaning system like “as clear as under daylight during the day.” The occurrence and use of every word is an indicator of spiritual development of every nation.

Evening: sunset, horizon, dusk ... – the seventh moment of the state of happiness. There is a divine power in the dusk as well as in the dawn. Every single piece of it is the part of human’s wisdom.

from my eyes is Night: sky, existence, stars...

Understanding so much meaning, philosophy and parable from one moment is natural.

Moments and pictures of the state of the happiness do not appear themselves. These are preaching of our ancestors which remind us eternal laws of creation. They originated in ancient times. Their weak sound heard throughout millennia are principles of Oghuzes.

I think different versions of the book appeared because of the importance of passing it down to the next generations. The meaning and content of the books differ according to the place and time when the Oghuznama was written. Undoubtedly, the Oghuznama had many other versions.

There were times which greatly influenced Turkmen nation's cultural values in history. Cultural civilizations which appeared in the territory of our country, powerful states established by our ancestors suffered from historical crisis.

Seldomly I feel that sounds of ancient states of our ancestors, wonderful works left for the next generations surrender. I sometimes think that there were other versions of the Oghuznama written before master of the 18th century Andalyp.

We should be proud of our literary heritage which helps us to study continual development of human life. Ancient Oghuz destans are the phenomena for the development of Turkmen literature. It is hard to see them in clarity without studying them thoroughly, even our spiritual value's rays are very bright. Oghuz destans, which tell about five thousand year-old events, are a main resource which help to understand traditions and customs of the nation and analyze them scientifically. I consider the publication of the samples of the Oghuznama to be one of the historical events of the year the “Fount of Wisdom – Magtymguly Pyragy”.

My dear Turkmen nation!

Statehood is loyalty of our nation to the ancestors' heritage.

Spiritual heritage of our nation is our literature, traditions and customs enlightened by the rays of wisdom and talent.

Ancient Oghuz statehood shine bright in the crown of the history.

Turkmen state remains unshakable from the beginning of times!

The ancient sages spread their voices across the world. For this reason, people send their love to the Sky and devotion to the Earth, casting rays of light along the paths of their lives. For, the unity of the Sky and the Earth is the mantle of the sovereign light of our ancestor Oghuz khan. The Oghuznamas are heartfelt messages sent to the generations of our ancient fancestors. The advice of our ancestors is a timeless guide, an eternal education that must be followed by generations to come.

We have made the adherence to the wisdom of our ancestors our guiding principle in life. The primary commandment of Oghuz khan was unity.

The most steadfast and cherished tradition passed down from generation to generation in our people is unity. The central idea and philosophy found in the stories about the life of Oghuz khan is unity. Among the Turkmen people, there exists a wealth of proverbs, tales, and symbols that reflect the significance of unity. Oghuz khan's advice given to his people serves as a profound symbol that continues to illuminate the meaning of unity across the ages. The creation of the Oghuz symbols in the Oguznamas has a deep and lasting significance, rooted in these teachings. These symbols and the customs associated with etiquette exemplify the earliest models of Turkmen law. A clear and precise formulation of these laws forms the foundation of the state's stability and longevity. Our people's respect for justice, order, discipline, courtesy, and nobility is deeply rooted in these ancient codes, which have flourished through the ages and are still embodied today in the principles of Turkmen culture and values.

When people are united, the state becomes strong and peace reigns in the country.

Unity is the core principle that has guided the entire life and values of our people, passed down from generation to generation.

In the Epoch of the Revival of the New Era of the Powerful State, the unity of our people in realizing actions that benefit the nation is the continuity of the Oghuz statehood. In Turkmenistan, the dignity and value of a person are always of the highest regard.

This fundamental principle is clearly expressed in the legislation of Turkmenistan.

Unity is the foundation of prosperity.

Unity is the first and foremost rule for the strength of the state, one that must never be overlooked.

Eseriň dürli nusgalarynda Ogzuň ýörişlerinden soň, uly toý tutýandygy, şonda onuň altyn ukly öý gurýandygy söhbetleriň dowamynda beýan edilýär. Oguz han uzak ýörişdekä, öz il-ýurduny ýatlap, “nagty barka, amanata” ymtylp ýörmegi uslyp bilmän, öýüne dolanmagy hyýalyna getirmegi, halkymyzyň öýe örküň baglydygyna, ondan ara üzüp bolmaýandygyna pugta ynamynyň türkmen halkynyň tebigatyndandygyny äşgär edýär. In the poetic language of our ancestors and beloved mothers, the first words often said are those of unity and well-wishing. It is truly heartwarming to see that our united people, by continuing the ancestral traditions, contribute immeasurably to the honor and prestige of our powerful Turkmen state.

In the principles of Oghuz khan's life, another symbolic aspect emerges in his views on home and family. Wherever Oghuz khan went, he established a strict rule of never allowing disorder or injustice. Homes were not disrupted, and people were not put in danger. When he came to a city, he did not enter it. Oguz khan would settle in a place and wait to see how he would be received. In various versions of the work, it is described that after Oghuz's journeys, grand feasts were held, and it was said that he built a house with a golden roof at those celebrations. While traveling far, Oghuz khan thought of his homeland, and the thought of returning home, of the safety and security of his family, was his ultimate desire. His deep belief that a person's home is the foundation of unity and cannot be separated from it reflects the core of the Turkmen people's nature. Even after long travels to beautiful and remote lands, he preferred to stay at home among his loved ones, regarding it as the greatest treasure in the world – a trait that has existed in our ancestors from ancient times. For the Turkmen, home is the foundation of a united görýän ata-babalarymyzyň bu häsiýeti owaldan bardyr. Türkmen üçin öý-ojak agzybir maşgalanyň binýadydyr.

Çünki öý-ojak ynsanyň örküniň baglanan mukaddesligidir. “Öýüne hözir bermeýän iline hem hözir bermez” diýilýär. Ynsanyň dünýä yhlasy, gözellige söýgüsi onuň öz öýüne bolan gatnaşygyndan başlanýar. Öý gurmak mukadeslik ojagyny bina etmekdir.

family. In various versions of the tale, after Oghuz khan's journeys, it is said that he held grand feasts and set up a house with a golden roof as his home. Even when on a long journey, Oghuz khan did not forget his homeland and continued to think of his people, never forsaking his loyalty to his homeland. This deep belief that a person's life is rooted in their home and that one cannot be truly separated from their origin is intrinsic to the Turkmen people's nature. Instead of resting in distant, beautiful, and exotic lands, the ancestral value of staying at home, surrounded by beloved ones, was considered the greatest wealth by our forefathers. For the Turkmen, the home and family are the very foundation of unity.

In the Epoch of the Revival of the New Era of the Powerful State, great efforts are being made for every Turkmen family to live in well-equipped and comfortable homes, enjoying a peaceful life and looking forward to the future of their children with unity. These concerns reflect the priorities not only of the state but also of the united Turkmen society.

This is because the home is the sacred foundation to which a person's soul is bound. As the saying goes, “A person who does not offer peace to their home cannot offer peace to their people.” One's pursuit of happiness and love for beauty begins with their relationship with their own home. To build a home is to establish a sacred place for one's family, a symbol of stability and faith.

Oghuz khan's home is the vast space from which Turkmen wisdom emanates into the world.

In your home, you belong to yourself, but outside, you belong to the people. This is why, by Turkmen tradition, little trust is placed in a person who withdraws from society. A person's true humanity is revealed through their connection with the people. The home serves as a space for an individual to listen to themselves, to reflect on the truths that their inner vision reveals. This is why our people have always valued the comfort and peace of their home. At home, you are surrounded by the ones you love and care for, those who are take care of to your well-being.

The home of parents is a place of warmth, and the children are its flame.

The woman is the hearth, for without her, the fire cannot burn.

The home is the embodiment of our belief, deeply rooted in our bones. In the Oghuznamas, the phrase “to your homeland – to your home” is often used, highlighting the fundamental significance of the home principle in Turkmen culture.

The third profound principle in the content of the Oghuznama is justice. Justice is the concept that signifies the strength of society. A life led by justice is a life of happiness. In ancient tales, the heroes who achieved their goals celebrated justice. Justice is the most righteous and trustworthy path that leads to a happy life. The principles of justice guide a person to their purpose. Justice is the system of the most virtuous principles within a person's character. Justice is always a companion to those who are noble, truthful, just, patient, humble, generous, noble, courageous, and brave. For justice is the most accurate conclusion regarding “right” and “wrong,” and it provides a clear and precise judgment. When Oghuz traveled to other lands, he consistently advised against taking anything that was not his own, no matter how tempting it was. Even if it was within reach, the principle of not taking another person's belongings was strictly observed by the Oghuz people.

In the Epoch of the Revival of the New Era of the Powerful State, the Constitution of Turkmenistan stands as an unwavering pillar of just principles. The legislative acts of Turkmenistan are continuously updated with essential, contemporary constitutional reforms in the Mejlis of Turkmenistan, reflecting the constant focus of our state on this matter. Strengthening interstate relations by peaceful means has been a steadfast principle of our people since the time of Oghuz. This principle, in its modern context, holds a significant place in the successes of the Independent Turkmen state in international relations. Turkmenistan is a reliable partner in global diplomacy, one that never loses sight of the interests of all parties involved. This is a clear reflection of our state's peace-loving doctrine.

Friendship and good-neighborly traditions hold profound significance in establishing cooperation of our beloved homeland with world nations. Our homeland is the blossoming, joyous realm of friendship. We extend our warmest wishes to those who come as guests to this land. The essence of our people's saying, “A guest brings fortune,” lies precisely in this tradition. Today, the bridge of friendship and brotherhood, built upon the kindness and generosity of our ancient ancestors, continues to grow stronger.

In our dear homeland, the tree of life is blooming today, and its fragrance of beauty spreads in all directions. May friendship and fraternity grow even stronger in the world!

May the path left to us by our beloved forefathers remain a continual heritage! One of the profound conceptual teachings emerging from the content of the Oghuznama is that of the relationship between teacher and student. A teacher is the result of wisdom, intellect, hard work, skill, and patience. A teacher is someone who masters the art of teaching others what they know. This is wisdom and humanity. For in order to be an example for others and to share one's skills, a person must also have a good heart. Another principle this lies beneath: justice. The extent of one's abilities is shaped by how justly they view themselves.

Oghuz khan adheres to a counseled approach and seeks advice from his people. The core meaning of this work is found in its symbolic significance, in the truth that is understood through its essence. Oghuz khan is a great leader who encourages all his sons to follow the principles of courage. The wisdom of Oghuz's advice serves as the teachings for the Turkmen people, for they are the priceless gems of an ever-renewing treasure. This treasure is the memory of the people.

The precious gem of the people's memory is the heritage left to us by our ancestors, it is their symbols, their deep meanings, and their wisdom.

Oghuz khan's advice given to his people is a humanitarian doctrine that resonates in our modern world.

Ultimately, the glory of this Land will never fade, for it is the heritage of a people whose wisdom shines brightly, akin to the light of the sun in the Heavens.

May your path be illuminated with light, my dear people!
